FRIENDLY CO-OPERATION INSTEAD OF QUARRERING

If Klamath Falls is to keep step with this age of progress and to grow into the splendid city we hope for, it can only be accomplished through the earnest co-operation of her citizens.

The efforts of the city council to have the city cleaned up in proper and should have the support of every property owner and resident. The attempt of the Chamber of Commerce to advertise the city and county and to bring excursionists and other people into the community should be loyally supported and reasonable contributions made to bear the expense of these undertakings. In view of the necessity for this co-operation, can we afford to get into internal strife and possibly into the courts through the attempt to extend the city limits? It is not quarrels we need, but co-operation. Is it not better that we use the resources that we have and support the city council in every effort to follow conservative lines and yet to do all that is possible to be done with the tax levy, rather than to be torn into factions through an attempt to do a thing that is likely to end in litigation, delay and possible failure? Is it not a fact that if the city were in good financial condition at this time, no one would think of attempting to extend the city limits? Is it not also a fact that the usual course in such cases is to wait for the property owners to seek admission rather than attempt to force them in? What we need is friendly co-operation, not quarrels.

Condensed Milk From Klamath

Major C. E. Worden is interesting Colorado people in the establishment of a milk condensing enterprise in Wood river valley. There is at this time nothing definite in the proposition, but if it should materialize it will mean much to the entire section. The factory will be established on the ranches that Mr. Worden has recently purchased from the Melhases. The plans so far as developed call for the milking of about six hundred cows summer and winter. The proposition would call for an investment of nearly $100,000. It will be thoroughly investigated by the parties whom Mr. Worden has interested in it.

Terrible Mix Up.

An unfortunate mix-up many years ago was the cause of unpleasant and nearly fatal results. Come and see the particulars in the comic opera "Pinafore," Tuesday and Wednesday nights. Given for the benefit of the public library. Seats now on sale at the Perfection Confectionery. Reserved seats 75 cents and $1. General admission 50 cents.

Deputy for Lake County.

The Lake county papers have registered a kick because District Attorney D.V. Kuykendall has not appointed a deputy for their county. It is customary to have a deputy and in accordance with this custom Mr. Kuykendall has had the matter under consideration for some time and Lake county will soon have a representative of the District Attorney's office. It is not known that there has been any demand for one up to this time.

Henry S. Carter, of Modesto, Cal., has arrived here to assist his father, Ernest Carter, the ground glass tombstone man.

Merrill Valley the heart of Klamath.

The Star Drug Store and the KKK Store are displaying their progressive spirit by putting up sign boards on the lot adjoining the new White block.

Lin Cronemiller of the Examiner force went hunting Sunday and got 7 duck, 3 sage hens and a big coyote—all with a shot gun. That was a pretty good morning's bag for a 15 year old boy.—Lake County Examiner.

Will Supply Power In the Early Fall

Moore Bros. are pushing the work of construction on their power plant and on the lines to Bonanza and Merrill. As soon as the plant is completed Bonanza will be supplied with light and power as the line is practically finished and the town will be wired in the course of a few weeks. The line to Merrill is under construction and will be completed in time to carry electricity for light and power by early fall.

The transformer house has been built and the instruments installed therein. The heavy machinery is being put in place and the concrete work done so that the building for the plant can be erected soon. It is safe to say that within two months the plant will be supplying electricity for lighting and power purposes.

C. C. Low and family will leave for the Lake o' the Woods in a few days where they will spend a few weeks picking huckleberries and camping amid the tall pines.

Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Hendricks and Miss Ruby Hendricks, left Saturday morning for Eugene, after a brief visit with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Shore Smith.

Mrs. C. H. Murray, who has been visiting her nephew, E. J. Murray, for the past two weeks, left on Sunday morning for Los Angeles, and points in California.

Prof. and Mrs. John T. Butcher arrived Saturday evening from Oklahoma. Prof. Butcher will be the head of the Klamath County High School for the ensuing year.

Frank Sargent, Herb Baldwin and Chas. Baldwin will spend a few weeks at Lake O' the Woods picking huckleberries and hunting for bear. They are going out with pack horses and expect to visit places that few white men have explored.

Lake county is to use the third story of her new court house for a hospital where county charges may be cared for. An institution of this kind is needed in every community and Lake county is fortunate in securing such convenient quarters.

C. C. Hogue, disbursing agent of the Reclamation Service, left this morning for Orland, Cal., where he will spend a few weeks looking after matters connected with the project at that place.

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

It is all very well for you to ask that mother wake and call you early, but who do you expect to call mother?

Most "Merry Widow" hats owe all their jauntness to the widowed tresses under them.

In acquaintance with bill collectors may not seem desirable, still, if inevitable, it is wise to make them think you are a good fellow.

A statesman of the strenuous and big stick type on being retired would make an ideal baseball fan.

A woman who is capable of marrying a man ought to be capable of making him support her, and she generally is.

Fully as important as knowing who to know is knowing who not to know.

A plumber never seems to plumb very rapidly, but somehow his bill soon gets plumb full of dollars.

Our little eccentricities are borne patiently by our friends and ridiculed by our enemies, while we are entirely unaware of their existence.

A man who can't find an excuse to go fishing these days hasn't enough originality to stand off the assessor.

Pranks.

There's was in boarding houses, but by moving the beds.

No table in a boarding house was ever quite complete. Unless the jury gave was there, with other things to eat. Hereafter there'll be no more and not a standing joke. No every budding humorist at them he wit may peak. —Brooklyn Times

It's Finished.
"Isn't your new gown finished yet?"
"Oh, gracious, no! The dressmaker's work on it was only completed last Saturday."
"But if the dressmaker's through isn't that all?"
"Of course not. All my friends have to criticize it yet." —Smart Set.

Some Satisfaction.
"Ma," begged Elsie, "tell me some profanity, would you?"
"Why, Elsie," exclaimed her mother, "little girls shouldn't use profane words."
"Oh, I just want to think them when I fall down and bump myself!" —Philadelphia Press.

Dickery, Dickery, Dock.
You reckon the mouse ran up the clock.
But why? He had to sit.
Says Mother Goose in English bun,
"The clock struck one, and down he came."
Kosh! Here's the secret—keep it mum—
His nest was full of ticks. —New York Times

Similar, but Different.
"I reckon you ain't much like your ma," said the old-fashioned woman as they met on the street corner.
"Oh, yes, I am," protested the overdressed young lady. "Ma's at home peeing a quilt and I'm out making a spread." —Chicago News.
