Cliff, Ore., August 29, 1908.
The weather has been excessively hot here for the past two weeks. The last good rain fell about ten days ago. Indications for rain the past three days were visible, but in every instance the clouds passed around us.

Harvesting and haying is about over, and while the various crops are light, the quality was good. A large acreage of sagebrush land is being cleared and as soon as the rains set in plowing will be the order. A large acreage of fall rye and wheat will be sown as it is now generally believed that the fall sowing does the best here.

Mr. and Mrs. James McCurdy, who were among the first settlers in this valley, left this week for Brownsville, in the Willamette valley, for an extended stay. This was made necessary by the continued illness of Mrs. McCurdy.

Dr. M. J. Ewing, who has been attending and nursing Jack Partin at Summer Lake who sustained a broken leg about two months ago, is at home again.

Homeseekers are daily coming in to Northern Lake county and numerous filings are being made on government lands.
