RUSSIA IN TERRIBLE PLIGHT, SAYS TRAVELER.

Returning Americans from the old world after a tour are invariably glad to get home again, and they are as a rule, brimful of interesting and informative reminiscences of scenes they have witnessed, of strange people they have met under remarkable situations, and of the wholesome lessons they have learned of life as men and women practically experience it every day in the far-off lands beyond the salted seas. Noteworthy among them is the story told by Dr. O. S. Brigham, of Toledo, in the Buckeye state, of his impressions of conditions as he found them, in a recent tour through Russia. "Those who have not been in Russia," he says, "can only faintly realize the terrible state of affairs that now prevails in that great empire.

"I have just returned from a trip abroad and spent some time in the czar's dominions. I found that from a political standpoint the country is paralyzed. Politically, there is a chaos, and, socially, there is nothing but turmoil. As soon as you get into Russia you feel that you are in the land of despotism, a land where the people have no rights and are cowed. This is the state of affairs all over the empire.

"The visitor is watched and harassed the whole time. Spies are seen on all sides and you feel that every word you say is reported to the authorities. When you look out of a window of the train you notice nothing but hovels and ignorant, degraded looking peasantry, afraid almost to draw a good breath.

"It is seldom that you see a school house, and there is absolutely no evidence of cultivation. When the train stops at a station the poor country people are seen standing around with a dull, sodden look on their faces; rarely is anyone seen laughing. I think, from what I could see, that the police are more high-handed even than they were before the Russo-Japanese war, and arrests are daily occurrences.

"As I arrived at Warsaw a train load of students was leaving, all of the young men being under arrest and on their way to Siberia. The Green church has less influence over the lives of the people than did the medieval church of continental Europe at any period. The poverty was another thing that was brought to my mind at every turn I made.

"Outside the big religious edifices of St. Petersburg, Moscow and the other large cities beggars stand and solicit alms. Inside the churches everything is splendor, with the officiating priests robed in the most expensive vestments. The worst feature of the whole thing is that there seems to be no chance for the people to rise and throw off the yoke. They are powerless, for the reason that education, the only thing that could possibly help them, they cannot obtain.

"As far as I can see there is nothing before these wretched people but hopeless despair, at least for many years to come. Things are not any better in Russian Poland and Finland where I found practically the same conditions prevailing. The people there all are sad-eyed and there is no ray of sunshine in their lives. Poverty is on all sides, and prices for everything are exorbitant.

"I was certainly glad when I got away from that part of Europe, because I didn't have a good laugh the whole time I was there. My heart was too heavy. Almost every time you looked around, you saw an officer arresting somebody and on one occasion which I shall never forget, I saw a young girl being dragged to prison, her mother following and weeping as if her heart would break. The czar, I understand, has been in Peterhof for more than two years, and during all that time he has not dared to go beyond the grounds of the castle."

Collector—This bill has been running for twenty-five years. Scraggs—What bill? Collector—The one I have in my hand, of course. Scraggs—Thanks. I thought maybe you meant the one on your coat. I see you are wearing a campaign button.—Puck.

A French Journal announces the discovery of a new method of preserving eggs. It consists in covering them (not too thickly) with lard. This stops up the pores, prevents evaporation and keeps out the air.

GUMPTION ON THE FARM.

How's the back yard? Why not snug up a little? Hit that rusty nail a whack or two on the head and it will pull a great deal easier.

The crop of girls and boys should be well cultivated; send them to a good school.

Be sure to open furrows through the grain field to carry off the water when there is an excess of it.

Wire netting will keep the rats out of the corn crib and give you a good chance to put more money in the bank.

Get at that leaky barn roof right away. If you don't there will be a big leak in your pocketbook pretty soon for a new roof.

Every farmer should have an office where his books, desk, writing materials, seed catalogues and seed samples will be right at hand. It pays.

Why don't farmers vote for farmers for office? Why do they not see that they are nominated and then elected? This is the time to see that farmers have their share of the offices.

As both the big parties promise tariff reform soon after election, it will be of interest to all farmers to recall just what the duties are on their products: On hogs brought into the United States there is a duty of $1.50 per head; $50 per head and up on horses and mules; $2 to $11 per head on cattle; seventy-five cents to $1.50 per head on sheep; fifteen cents a bushel on oats; twenty-five cents a bushel on wheat; ten cents a bushel on rye; fifteen cents a bushel on corn; fifteen cents a bushel on buckwheat; thirty cents a bushel on barley; two cents a pound on rice; six cents a pound on butter or cheese; forty-five cents a bushel on beans; three cents each on cabbages; five cents a dozen on eggs; $4 a ton on hay; twenty cents a gallon on honey; twenty-five cents a bushel on wool; two cents a pound on lard and three cents a pound on poultry. Notwithstanding the above tariff on importations, there were the past year $414,000,000 farm products brought in. There are corresponding duties on the things he buys.

Fine Suits for Autumn and Winter Wear

THE NEW SUITS ARE HERE AND WE BELIEVE THAT WHEN YOU SEE THEM YOU WILL AGREE WITH US IN SAYING THAT THEY ARE THE ACME OF PERFECTION IN TAILORING. THE NEW PATTERNS AND COLORINGS ARE AMONGST THE MOST HANDSOME AND ATTRACTIVE WE HAVE BROUGHT TO THIS CITY, AND THE STYLES ARE FINER AND BETTER THAN USUAL.

While the fabrics are largely in the nature of novelties, they are far removed from the freakish fads which some people have been trying to force on the public. We draw a distinct line between freak clothing and desirable novelties.

FRIEND MADE CLOTHES MAKE FRIENDS: We've never heard of a man who didn't feel better satisfied with these garments than any he could obtain elsewhere. Did you ever stop to consider that a nice shoulder in a sack coat couldn't make the vest and trousers good. Some people go to buy a suit—try on the coat, and pay their good money—they've been educated to buy that way. We put the vest and trousers on and fit you from heel to collar. If it isn't right in the store it won't be any better when you get it home. It must be right or you can't have it from us.

Fine Suits, $15.00 to $45.00
