LANGELL VALLEY NEWS.

Work at the Dam is progressing with all possible speed. The telephone line is now completed for several miles beyond James Malone's place and will be finished as soon as possible. A carpenter's crew is erecting buildings, and a force of men are at work on the excavation for the Dam.

L. Burk made us a business call the fore part of the week.

A number of small children have been quite seriously afflicted with stomach troubles and are under the doctor's care. Among them are the children of Mrs. Willy and Mrs. Malone.

Mrs. A. H. Vinson who has been at Portland for several months for medical treatment for her little girl is expected home this week. The child is greatly improved in health.

Mr. Robertson, who recently purchased a tract of land from Mrs. Garrett, has a new dwelling nearly completed and it will be a very neat structure when finished.

Mr. Butler, of Bonanza, has rented the Walter Broadsword place.

George Noble is hauling material for a new roof on the Rabston barn.

A short strip of the county road that cuts off several acres of land belonging to Mrs. Jones was changed about 100 yards from the old route and around her fence last spring. The supervisor ordered the old road opened which makes it very inconvenient. It seems that this is not the only road in this vicinity that was changed out to the line without authority. One is no better than another in a case of this kind so why not treat all alike.

Some very promising looking quartz was recently discovered by J. D. Seaton, but the place has not been divulged as yet but as soon as a more thorough examination of the locality, and claims are located, the public will be enlightened. He has stated that it is in Klamath county and that it contains both gold and silver.

Mrs. James Malone is feeding from 15 to 20 people daily as the result of the government works attracting travel this way.

The condition of Dr. J. H. Hall has not changed from that of last week.

Jack Driscoll had the sights on his rifle all adjusted last week. Jack says he is going to kill a big fat buck before the season closes even if he has to hire some one to kill it for him.

Tomatoes grew to maturity and ripened in Langell Valley this season on the place known as the J. D. Hamaker ranch. Mrs. Driscoll raised them.

The scholars speak well of Mr. Bussey's ability as a teacher, which we are glad to hear.

Thos. Wilkerson and daughter, Mrs. C. Walker, were visiting the latter's sister last week who has been quite ill.

Will Stevens hauled a load of freight for the Miller creek bridge from Klamath Falls last week.

While on her way home from the school last Wednesday Lela Mesjaden was thrown from her horse, but fortunately escaped serious injury.

If the government should continue to go right ahead and build the ditch there are some that will have to rustle or they will have to pay for irrigating sage brush.
