To handle the telephone business of the twin Hudson Terminal buildings, 750 miles of telephone wire are necessary. When the Metropolitan Life building is completed, it will have in its installation 680 miles of telephone wire. The City Investment building is provided with 450 miles of telephone wire, while the Broad Exchange and the Slinger buildings are installed with 250 and 230 miles respectively. In these five buildings alone the telephone wire total 2360 miles, and would stretch from New York nearly to San Francisco.

AT SETH'S SERENADE.

When Seth got married we had a hor, And went up to his house for a shivaree. Some took drums, and some took pans, And some took whistles, and some tin cans With strings in the bottom and rosum to rub, And they yowled like wildcats at every scrub, And the darndest noise that ever was made Was the whoopedew at Seth's serenade.

But we carried something beside the noise To that little home, we girls and boys. And after the bang, and fun, and din, Seth gave us an invite and we went in, And under each arm was a bundle hid— We loaded them down, that's what we did! Pounds of this and pounds of that— Bundles were big and bags were fat. And then the squite a speech he made For the rest of the crowd at Seth's serenade.

"We're here to wish ye long life," said he, "And a way that is smooth and as straight as a can be. Start every day as ye're startin' now With a smile on your face and a care-free brow. So I bring ye to-night— friends Seth and May— A one of the cheer that starts my day." "Then he crowned the hoop— he's a knowin' man— With a Chase & Sanborn coffee can. And before we left we had coffee made— 'Twas the best of the treat at Seth's serenade."
