

TAKES RECESS UNTIL JANUARY

Several Cases Disposed of Yesterday in the Circuit Court By Judge Noland

Judge Noland yesterday afternoon declared a recess until January 1. It is expected that when the Circuit court resumes in January it will hold a busy session which will consume nearly the entire month. The grand jury will also meet again at that time and there are a large number of cases to be considered. Some action will have to be taken on the liquor and gambling cases and if indictments are found it will mean the longest term of Court that Klamath County has had for some time.

Arguments were heard yesterday in the case of the Oregon & California Land Company vs. Klamath County. This was a suit growing out of an injunction restraining the county from selling the company's land for taxes. The case was settled out of Court and a motion for dismissal was granted. Thus Drake represented the land company and C. P. Stone the county.

In the suit of J. G. Flores vs. H. J. Aldridge judgment was allowed in default. Thus, Drake appeared for the plaintiff.

A decree was granted in the case of Eugene Spencer vs. F. L. Wright et al. P. H. Mills represented the plaintiff.

Charles Walker, who was indicted for stealing cattle, was arraigned and pleaded not guilty. He was notified that he would be called to appear before the Court after it met again in January.

INTERESTING ITEMS FROM YONNA AND DAIRY.

Willie Clarke, who has been working on the Shook ranch, had a painful accident the other day. While closing a horse the horse fell down on his foot and sprained his knee. He is now staying with his sister, Mrs. Lily Flackus.

L. A. Stenzel butchered nine hogs last Saturday.

C. C. Pearson and Harrison Gray, who are at work hauling wood from the mountains for their winter's use.

Master Ernest Nall, of Hildebrand, has been helping at the Hildebrand road ranch during the enforced absence of Mr. Vierra at Sprague River.

Walter Simpson, of Dairy, who has recently rented a place in Yonna Valley, is beginning to buy live stock for the place.

Mrs. N. S. Drew went to Bonanza to take cream to the Bonanza Creamery and get things for Christmas.

Manned Vierra and Jas. Wright, formerly County School Superintendent, came home from Sprague River last Monday evening. They found it a very cold and disagreeable trip and through had been gone much longer than they had intended to be.

Chas. McUmber, who has been in the Falls attending Court, came home Monday evening.

Mrs. N. S. Drew and little daughter, Wanda, will go to Orono to spend Xmas with Mrs. Drew's mother.

Fred Beck has been butchering hogs this week.

Miss Nettie B. Drew, who is teaching at the Falls, will be home in Yonna Valley during Christmas week.

On account of the bad weather those staying out of school last Monday were Frank Beck, Albert Beck, Willie Beck, Orville Smyth, Edward Flackus and Earl Beck.

Harrison Gray, accompanied by Miss May Robinson, spent last Sunday at Bonanza.

Emil Ewert went to the Falls on a business trip Sunday.

L. A. Stenzel, of Yonna, went to the Falls on Monday to dispose of the rest of his turkeys.

Mrs. Chas. McUmber, of Yonna, was visiting at Dairy last Saturday.

Adam Weidmann made a trip to Dairy Saturday.

C. C. Pearson and Walter Simpson helped Joe Welch raise his new barn last Saturday.

On the evening of the 15th inst. a dancing party was given at the home of Mrs. L. M. Fitch. Those present were the Misses Nellie Blinn, Hazel Fitch, Louise Ewert, Mary Smith and Mrs. Fitch. Messrs. Johnnie Donnell, Jerry Pearson and Ernest Nall. They all enjoyed a very pleasant time and a good supper.

Walter Simpson made a business trip to Dairy last Friday.

John Lind, of Yonna, was a Dairy visitor Saturday.

Verton Hastings, who has a place in Yonna, will go to his home near Portland and spend Christmas with his mother there.

N. P. Nelson and H. J. O'Brien were hauling wood last week for their winter's supply.

WANTS TO BE PRESENT AT SENTENCING OF RUEE.

In order to be present in San Francisco in time to be present in Court when sentence is passed on Abraham Ruee Thursday, Rudolph Spreckels, who financed the graft investigation and prosecution in that city, and who is a passenger on the Japanese liner Nippon Maru, which sailed from Honolulu on Monday, has agreed to pay for the extra cost incurred in the effort to reach port a few hours ahead of schedule. The Nippon is due at San Francisco on Thursday noon, and Ruee is to be sentenced at 10 o'clock Thursday morning.

WHAT CONGRESS DID AND WHAT IT IS GOING TO DO.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—Now that Congress has adjourned until January 4, there are very few senators and congressmen left at the Capitol, as nearly all of the legislators have gone home for the holidays.

The chief business of Congress during the past two weeks was to listen to messages from the president. The senate passed a few minor measures of local interest, such as bridge bills, etc., and confirmed a lot of people for office.

The row over the colored soldiers of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, who were concerned in the Brownsville affair, and some incidental attention, chiefly because of a presidential message on the subject and Senator Foraker's spirited reply. There were two or three speeches on the postal savings banks bill and the senate recorded its indignation, though dignified, protest against the language of the president in that part of his annual message relating to the employment of secret service officers. There was no constructive legislation attempted. It is apparent that it is the leaders' intention not to do much more than pass the usual appropriation bills at this, the last session of the sixtieth congress.

On the first day after the holiday recess, it is expected that the senate will receive a reply from the secretary of war in response to its resolution asking under what authority detectives were applied to investigate the Brownsville affair and what was the character of the investigation.

On January 6 the senate will take up the so-called omnibus claim bills. The legislature, executive and judicial appropriation bill, which carries the money for most of the salaries of the various government departments, will also probably be acted on during that week.

The house while it was in session passed on only two measures of consequence, that providing for the taking of the next census, and the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill. Diversion was afforded, however, by the report of the select committee appointed to consider the president's message. The resolution passed was merely one of inquiry. But it gives the president a chance to "get back." A vain raid on the Reed rules of the house, led by Representative Gardner, Republican of Massachusetts, was the incident of the past week. The only bills passed during the past week were of minor importance and related to the District of Columbia and pension and war claims. The penal code bill remains the unfinished measure and debate on it will be resumed after the holidays.

RAISE IN PRICE OF MILK THE FIRST OF THE YEAR.

Mr. Ford, who has charge of the Allamont Dairy, announces that beginning January 1, the rates for milk and cream will be increased. The new price will be an advance over that charged now of two cents a quart for milk and five cents a pint for cream. This will make milk cost ten cents a quart and cream twenty-five cents a pint.

Mr. Ford states that he is now feeding his dairy cattle on hay and that in order to bring the milk up to the requirements of the state inspector it will be necessary to use milk feed. The advance is necessary to cover the extra cost.

BEGINS CAMPAIGN FOR SCALP BOUNTY STATUTE.

Wild animals, cougars, panthers, wolves, bears, and other "varmints" are destroying the fast vanishing game of the state. William R. Mealey, of Foster, Linn County, wants the legislature to put back an adequate bounty on these animals for the protection not only of the game, but the livestock of the country. He, therefore, has prepared a petition and a circular letter which he is sending out over the state. The petition is in the form of a memorial to the legislature asking that the bounties be established.

The letter sets out to the people of the state the reasons why the legislature should be asked to enact such a law. It is the purpose of Mr. Mealey to have the people of the state circulate the petitions among their friends for signatures. These signatures are to be presented to the legislature in the hope that it will take favorable action.

MARRIAGE A FAILURE; ADVOCATES FREE LOVE.

Emma Goldman delivered the first lecture of a series in Portland Sunday night at Albsky Hall. Instead of waving the red flag and upholding the use of bomb, dagger and poison as a panacea for all the ills which vex mankind, Miss Goldman this time confined herself to the rather trite statement that marriage is a failure. She preached the doctrine of free love, or free union, declaring that there is no such thing as happiness after marriage. Emma Goldman still wears the "Miss" before her name. She asserted that marriage is simply a woman's insurance, giving her a house to live in, and food and clothing, but no home. When a woman marries her independence vanishes.

BUILDING DELAYED BY LUMBER SHORTAGE.

Contractors are complaining that they cannot get lumber for the completion of the buildings in the course of construction and for the commencement of other structures. With four sawmills tributary to this city and with an almost inexhaustible supply of timber this seems to be another case of the shoemaker's children being forced to go barefooted.

There is a shortage in all kinds of building lumber, but more especially in finishing material. Contractors state that unless the local millmen get busy most of the better lumber to be used next year will have to be imported.

BAND BOYS' DANCE TOMORROW NIGHT.

Extensive preparations are being made by the Band boys for their big dance tomorrow night. The orchestra has been diligently rehearsing for some time and excellent music is promised for the occasion. The Band boys always manage to have a big attendance and their parties are becoming very popular. Everyone is promised a good time. To accommodate the large crowd expected the dance will be held in the Opera House.

ARRANGING FOR GAMES

High School Basket Ball Team Will Play Valley Schools Last of January

The boys of the Klamath County High School believe that they have a winning basket ball team and are now making arrangements to play some of the leading schools in Rogue River and Willamette Valleys. This year's team is composed of the same members which constituted the champion team last year and with only a slight improvement over last winter they are bound to carry off some of the prizes and those who have seen their playing this year pronounce them sure winners.

A tour will be made the latter part of January when teams from the following cities will be played: Yreka, Ashland, Grants Pass, Medford, Roseburg and Cottage Grove.

Another local team is being organized in the city to play against the High School team for practice. This will be called the White Stars after last year's team and will be composed of members of the school and boys from town. Bonanza claims to have a strong team and it is probable that a game will be arranged in the very near future.

The members of the High School team are: Carlyle and Vincent Yaden, Erwin Rolfe, Garret VanRiper and Will Hurn. Those who witnessed the exciting games last winter will know what to expect when this team gets into action. With the exception of Will Hurn the team is comparatively a light one, but it was demonstrated last year that the game is to the swift and not the strong. The citizens of Klamath Falls would very much like to see another series of games arranged to be played at the Opera House.
