TAKE CARE OF YOUR TEETH.

Even with the best care it is sometimes not possible, owing to the state of one's health and what not, to prevent a slight discoloration from forming upon the teeth. A professor of dentistry taught me the following method of decolorizing them. Try it; you will find it wonderful.

A tiny pledget of absorbent cotton upon the point of a toothpick is dipped into tincture of iodine; this is carefully run over and around each tooth, avoiding the gum as much as possible; a second pledget, similarly prepared, is then dipped in pure alcohol, and run over the iodined teeth. The result must be seen to be appreciated.

It is a great mistake to use cheap tooth-powders. They are coarse and gritty, and contain nothing to ensure alkalinity of the mouth. It is much better to have one's tooth-powder prepared at a reliable chemist's, and the following formula was given me by a well known New York dentist:

Sodium bicarbonate, 1 dram; magnesium carbonate, 1 dram, powdered orris root, 1 dram; precipitated chalk 2 ounces, menthol, 5 grains. Flavor with oil of wintergreen.

A mild antiseptic wash should follow the use of the powder; for this purpose lysterine, milk of magnesia and glyco-thymoline are good. They must be diluted.

Dentists also have assured me that if we use bicarbonate of soda (chemically pure) upon our teeth every day, rubbing it well into the spaces, they would be forced to close their offices.—January Delineator.

Frank legislative proposals are features of every law-making assembly. A legislator in Georgia not long ago proposed that laws be enacted to protect hotel-guests from mosquitoes.

In another state a measure was adopted fixing the length of hotel bed sheets. Other laws, equally unique, have been proposed elsewhere. In nearly every case, however, the suggested legislation has been directed against some business or corporation. It is somewhat consoling, then, to learn that at least two of the unique bills that are to be introduced in the Kansas legislature during its next session are to be designed to "regulate" legislators.

If reports are true, one member of the lower house has drafted a proposed statute fixing the price that state employes may pay for meals on dining cars. The state auditor has already decreed that expense accounts including dining car meals that cost more than 75 cents will not be approved. Some of the members of the legislature, however, think this too high, and they propose to designate what the price shall be. But this only provides for a legislator's meals en route to the state capital and does not cover his eating expenses after he arrives at his post of duty. Here, however, another legislator steps into the breach. He wants the state to build a dormitory for its law-makers. Every legislator is to be given a separate room, if his plan is adopted, but all will be required to dine together in a general mess hall, just as soldiers do in the army, or as is done in co-operative boarding houses operated for the benefit of poor college students. Perhaps this plan might be elaborated on to make it of real value to the state. The evening meals might be served in the mess hall, but breakfast and luncheon should be served to the legislators at their desks in the statehouse. If roll was called just before meals were served and provision was made for denying food to those who failed to respond, there would probably be less difficulty experienced in maintaining a quorum.

A $50,000,000 corporation headed by men whose reputation for achievement would alone carry conviction, has been organized for the purpose of manufacturing ships and establishing aerial transportation between America and Europe. Thurlow Wood Barnes of Chinese railroad enterprises, is to be president of the gigantic concern, which will be known as the Aerial Navigation Company of America; and he will be seconded by Lewis Nixon, designer of battleships, who will be the chief engineer and superintendent of construction. "These airships are to be constructed on the patents of E. J. Pennington of London," said Mr. Nixon. "We propose to build ships seven or eight hundred feet in length with comfortable accommodations for 100 passengers. The craft will be constructed of steel, aluminum and other metals. The first of these ships will be built at the Nixon ship yards on Staten Island this year."

During the past twelve months the railroads equipped 900 miles with automatic block signals and during 1909 2000 miles will be equipped. The Union and Southern Pacific are credited with more than half this work.
