

CANTATA IS BIG SUCCESS

Remarkable Musical Ability Shown By Young Students

The auditorium of the High School was filled last evening with an appreciative audience to listen to the rendition of Cowen's "Rose Maiden." This cantata is rather difficult work for High School pupils, but under the direction of Mr. Wirtz it was given in a manner which evoked only praise from everyone. The chorus work was good, and showed the result of faithful training. Perhaps the most pleasing and melodious one was the "Bridal March" the number of the cantata best known to the public.

The soloists acquitted themselves with great credit. Miss Mamie Boyd, as soprano, sustained the role of the Rose Maiden and charmed the audience with the clearness and richness of her tones, her high notes being particularly bell-like. Miss Mildred Wilson, contralto, as the gardener's daughter, made her initial appearance as a singer in Klamath Falls. Her voice is remarkable for its sweetness and sympathy, and it is to be hoped she will be heard often.

Mr. George Mason, always a favorite, sang the baritone role, and although he is usually heard as a tenor, he delighted his listeners with his work, his voice appearing to advantage in this register. He is to be congratulated especially on learning the part at very short notice.

Mr. Edwin Rolfe, in the tenor solo, was also new to the public, but surprised his hearers by his ability. His voice is very mellow and sweet, particularly in the middle register, although he is possessed of great range.

The Des Company Meet a Hearty Reception

Houston's cozy little theater was filled to capacity last evening to greet the popular Des Company in their opening play. From Hags to Riches. All of the old members were greeted with rounds of applause and the new players were installed as prime favorites ere the first act was over. In the language of circuses, the company this season is bigger, grander and brighter than ever. "The Girl of the Golden West," the play made famous throughout the United States by Blanche Bates, will be the offering this evening. Margaret Lee will appear in the stellar role of Roxy. It is said that in this character she gives one of the best performances in her career. Eddie Mitchell will display his remarkable versatility in the trying role of Jack Delmon, the road agent.

The climax of the second act is conceded to be one of the greatest scenes ever written. Roxy, the bar-tender of Hanchman's Rest, plays cards with Luke Short, the sheriff, for the body of her wounded lover, the road agent.

FOR WOMEN FOLK

Does it seem to you that he isn't quite so kind and attentive to you as he used to be? Maybe that is so, but don't get sad and scold! Keep your face bright and cheery; look the very best you can, even about your work. Make up for his lack of kindness by being more so yourself. Win your loved one back again. You can do it, you will do it, too.

Fill with fruit, sweeten, sprinkle over this a few cracker crumbs. Make plenty of slashes in the crust; put on top crust and pinch upper crust well on to the lower one.

IMPORTANT PROPOSAL SUBMITTED TO WATER USERS

Supervising Engineer Hopson Requests Assistance of Association in Removing Certain Complications Preparatory to Resuming Operations on a Large Scale

Mr. E. G. Hopson, Supervising Engineer of the U. S. R. S. for the Pacific district, which includes the Klamath project, has been at Klamath Falls for the past few days conferring with Mr. W. W. Patch, Project Engineer, on matters relating to general policy and future extensions of the reclamation project. The result of the conference has been that an important proposal has been made to the Klamath Water Users' Association by the Reclamation Service. The Reclamation Service desires to at once clear up and remove certain ambiguities and complications of a legal and business character that have been delaying the prosecution of the government project, and invites the active cooperation of the association toward this end. The service officials state that in the event of an early and successful issue to this necessary preliminary cleaning up process they will recommend the immediate resumption of operations on a large scale.

The Secretary of the Interior has allotted a heavy appropriation for the extension of the Klamath project, and these funds now available have hitherto not been utilized except by comparatively small and unimportant operations. It is to be hoped that a means may be found to fully satisfy the government and enable it to proceed with these developments at an early date.

The proposal is briefly outlined in the following letter, which was submitted to Mr. Alex. Martin, Jr., president of the Water Users' Association, this morning:

"Dear Sir: I desire to bring before the attention of yourself and the directors of the Klamath Water Users' Association the following matters dealing with future extensions of the Klamath project: "I would like at an early date to recommend for immediate construction works incidental to a more comprehensive extension of the project than has hitherto been accomplished. "There are certain matters, however, of a legal and business character which have an important bearing on this question and which, in my opinion, should be satisfactorily dealt with prior to the government's beginning the work of actual reclamation. As these matters are either wholly or partially within the scope of legitimate action by your association, I would like you to give them your very serious consideration and to advise me at your earliest convenience as to whether the proposals herein referred to are acceptable to the association and whether the association will be prepared to take active steps during the next few weeks to carry them into effect.

"I desire very sincerely to enlist the active support of your association in eliminating any complications which may impede the speedy prosecution of the work.

"In the event that the association is prepared to co-operate on the lines herein set forth, the Reclamation Service will endeavor to aid your association in every possible way.

"The matters on which I deem early action to be essential, prior to the adoption of any extensive program, are as follows:

"First—To increase the capital stock of the Klamath Water Users' Association to a capitalization more nearly proportioned to the full development of the acreage of the Klamath project.

"Second—To increase the par value of the shares of stock of the association to a figure more nearly representing the estimated building cost.

"Third—To increase the area of lands subscribed to the association in certain localities where insufficient areas are now subscribed.

"Fourth—To secure the agreement of marsh land owners to a special form of stock subscription contract, or a supplementary agreement to the present contract, dealing specifically with the drainage feature of marsh reclamation work as a necessary adjunct to the ultimate irrigation feature.

"Fifth—The securing of grants of free right-of-way for all canals, levees, transmission lines, pumping stations and other works necessary for the complete reclamation of the marsh lands.

"I have not attempted at the present time to deal with any of these matters in detail nor to submit drafts of any of the documents necessary to carry these proposals into effect, these being matters of detail not yet fully thrashed out, but which will be presented in due time. What is desired at the present time is a full expression of opinion by the board of directors as to its desire to co-operate in bringing these matters to a successful issue, and in the event of the board so desiring, the appointment of a special committee fully authorized by the association, or other available means to accomplish these ends. Respectfully,

E. G. HOOPSON, Supervising Engineer.

CLOSED SEASON FOR FISH IN LINK RIVER

Fishing is Prohibited During June, July and August

It is not unlikely that the deputy fish warden will find it necessary to inform some of our local Waltonians that angling for trout is prohibited in Link river during the months of June, July and August. Yesterday was the first day of the closed season, but throughout the entire day men and boys could be seen fishing off the wharf. Of course, there is a question just where Link river ends and where Lake Ewauna begins. However, to be on the safe side, it will be good policy for all to refrain from catching trout during the closed season, as the fish are not of the best quality at this season of the year.

Reports from the north end of the county are that fishing is exceptionally good in all of the streams, and that already several parties are enjoying outings at some of the most pleasant locations.

Will furnish the sugar. W. H. Dolbeer, chairman of the barbecue committee, announces that he has received word from Mason, Ehrmann & Co., the Portland wholesale grocery house, that they will furnish the sugar for use at the big feed on Railroad day. The committee now has the coffee and sugar and it is up to some one to furnish the cream.

Through the kindness of Senator Bourne, County Superintendent Swan has received enough copies of the government publication "A Primer of Forestry" to supply a copy to each school library of the county. One-third of the entire edition will be distributed to the schools of Oregon. As the forests of Oregon and of Klamath county are among the most valuable assets, it is hoped that the teachers will make use of these booklets and teach the children some of the important principles of scientific forestry and perpetuation of our forests. The book is prepared by Mr. Gifford Pinchot, and contains much interesting and valuable matter.

The County Superintendents' convention will meet in Salem June 28th. The western division of the Oregon State Teachers' Association will meet at Albany June 29th. A very profitable meeting is anticipated.

REBEKAH LODGE, I. O. O. F. Lodge will meet promptly at 7:30 p. m., Thursday evening, June 3d. By order of the Noble Grand, LULU STRAW, Secretary.
