KLAMATH FALLS, SATURDAY, JUNE 5, 1909.

A cheap fence can be built with posts and bamboo boards ten inches wide with two barbed wires on top. This fence will keep hogs, give them health and the owner profit.

As soon as the pigs are weaned the sows should be turned with the male and then put by themselves in a good clover pasture. A clover field is a paradise for hogs and a money-maker for their owner.

Don't compel hogs to go a long distance for water when the heat waves shimmer and dance in the distance. Fresh water at hand at all times is a matter of vital importance; and the sows should be fed every day as made and not be allowed to rot in the swill barrel.

The most insidious enemies of the average hog raiser are lice and worms. The feeder will often insist that he has neither in his pen, when a careful examination will detect the presence of both in large numbers. We prefer to dip all pigs soon after weaning, and to give them a course of treatment with worm powder.

When two horses become accustomed to working together, don't change them.

It is very hard on a prompt horse to be obliged to work with a lazy one. The wear and tear is great and unnecessary, and a loss.

Do not bang the bits against the horse's teeth. Be patient and he will open his mouth.

Helping the Town . . .

By banking your money in a bank in your own community you increase the community's power to do business. If substantial farmers want to borrow money there is more to loan them. If you bank your money away from home it is loaned to other farmers, merchants and manufacturers. Help your home people. Money hidden at home helps no one. Placed in a bank it is put to work in ways that help all.

A Savings Account . . .

Is a rainy day fund, a life insurance policy, a sick benefit, a funeral benefit, and an old age pension. There is no fortune dived in the pastbook, and it is under the owner's control at all times. It will tide him over sickness; it will care for his family when he is laid up; it will see him through old age, and bury him when he dies. It is a simple business proposition. Begin early, and keep it up, and, like manna in the desert, it will supply him as he journeys.

Now is the time to open an account with the
