KLAMATH FALLS, SATURDAY, JUNE 26, 1909.

The Salem Journal gives a list of candidates for governor: Frank Benson, Superintendent Ackerman, Attorney General Crawford, Food Commissioner Bailey, Dr. Withycombe, Dr. Andrew C. Smith, Jay Bowerman, Judge Grant B. Dimmick and Judge George J. Cameron.

The Warren Construction Company have aroused indignation in Roseburg by importing a gang of Greek laborers to work on the street paving being done there, instead of employing white workmen. What with all the delays and the foreign labor, Roseburg is having an interesting time in the work of street paving.

A strawberry plant bearing 800 well-developed berries is thought to be the record, even for this prolific variety, yet in the field of Mike Jabon, not far from Dufur, such a plant flourishes. The berries have been counted time and again by doubtful persons. The plant is supported entirely by one root, and spreads over a large area. It has grown with no unusual cultivation.

The city executive board Thursday afternoon awarded the contract for the building of the new steel bridge at Madison street across the Willamette river to Robert Wakefield and the United Engineering and Construction Company, both of Portland. The combined bids for substructure and superstructure were $416,615, engineering charges $20,520, the total cost of the bridge to be $437,135.—Oregonian.

A list of lands comprising 2,300 acres in Crook county was brought in to the Board of Water Commissioners at the State House in Salem, recently, by Roscoe Howard of the Deschutes Irrigation and Power Company with the request that the land be opened for settlement under the Carey land act. This request will be brought before the Commissioners and considered at the next meeting of the board.

Unless the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph Company moves its poles on the streets to be paved within the next few days, men will be employed by the City Council of Roseburg to chop them down, such procedure having been agreed upon by the street committee. The telephone company received official notification of the desired change several months ago, but failed to comply with the order. A couple of weeks ago the company was again notified, but without result.

In March, 1910, the term of Postmaster Squire Farrar of the Salem postoffice will expire, and the five-cornered race for his position, himself included as an active candidate for reappointment, has begun to grow warm around the edges. Last year the Salem postoffice was advanced to the grade of first class, with a corresponding increase in salary to $3,000 per year, with an additional increase of $100 per annum, provided by the present session of Congress, which makes the plum palatable.

William R. Walker was indicted by the Lane county Grand Jury recently for murder in the second degree. Walker, who is a former County Clerk, and belongs to one of the best families in the county, shot and killed Edward Lang during a quarrel at Walker's hop yard near Eugene several months ago. Lang and Walker had been drinking and Lang began to abuse Walker's aged mother. Walker ran into an adjoining room in the house, secured a shotgun and made for Lang. They grappled with each other, and in the struggle the gun was discharged, the birdshot entering Lang's leg. He died a day or so afterward.

BIG INCREASE FOR CLERKS.

matter of renting the room to the government, he said:

"The government is an exacting tenant and if the postoffice continues to remain in my building I will have to spend nearly two thousand dollars on improvements. It will mean that the Morning Express will have to be taken out, more boxes will have to be installed, and such other improvements as are needed for the better and more convenient handling of the mail will have to be made at my expense. I have realized very little from this part of my building for the past three years, and the prospects for improving that condition are not very bright. I am considering the matter, and when Mr. Hall returns he and I will take the matter up again and reach a decision one way or the other."

Three other parties are said to be desirous of securing the postoffice for their property, and it is stated that they intend to submit propositions to Mr. Hall.

From present indications it is practically certain that this will be the last year Klamath Falls will be without free delivery. For the year ending March 31st, this city came within $1,700 of reaching the amount required to make it a free delivery office. The first quarter for this year is $400 ahead of the corresponding period last year and even at that rate of increase it means that the required amount will be easily reached.

WANT TO KEEP PROFESSOR O'GARA

A mass meeting of Rogue River valley fruit growers is being held this afternoon in Medford in order to take steps toward securing the services of Prof. P. J. O'Gara as assistant pathologist in the Department of Agriculture for the next season. Prof. O'Gara has been giving the fruit growers of that valley valuable aid for many months past. The recent orders for retrenchment in all departments at Washington covers the field operators doing special work, and Prof. O'Gara has received notice that his salary for such work will cease.

Helping the Town . . .

By banking your money in a bank in your own community you increase the community's power to do business. If substantial farmers want to borrow money there is more to loan them. If you bank your money away from home it is loaned to other farmers, merchants and manufacturers. Help your home people. Money hidden at home helps no one. Placed in a bank it is put to work in ways that help all.

There is no forfeiture clause in the passbook, and it is under the owner's control at all times. It will take him over sickness; it will care for his family when he must go; it will see him through old age, and bury him when he dies. It is a simple business proposition. Begin early, and keep it up, and, like masons in the desert, it will supply him as he journeys.
