

INGS AT THE COURTHOUSE

ly-Arant Case is Postponed; Mucklux Pleads Guilty; Henry Morrill is Sentenced and Paroled

A brief period this morning it was as if there would be an interesting session of court to-day when the court announced that it was to proceed with the case of Arant. Arant's attorney, however, asked that the case go over to the next term of court, on the grounds that his client was unable to obtain important witnesses at the time. The case was put over until morning, when it will be decided whether it shall go to trial or not.

A RECORD IN BEE DOM.

It is a record in the history of the county that a swarm of bees has been seen in the city of Klamath Falls. The bees were seen in the city of Klamath Falls, Oregon, on the morning of June 29. DUTY IN COMING.

M. R. Doty of Beutels, Cal., who was here during Railroad week and who purchased considerable property in one of the additions to Klamath Falls, has shipped a mammoth pile driver and a complete house-moving outfit to this city. He is an expert in his line, and will no doubt have all the work he can do. Pile driving will be something of an innovation in this section, but it is something that should have been looked into long ago. There are many sections of the city where it is absolutely necessary in order to secure a proper foundation. Then, there are many docks to be built on the two lakes in the near future. These two fields will, Mr. Doty believes, open up for him plenty of work, and he is coming prepared to handle it.

CHANGES IN POSTOFFICE

MORE CLERKS TO BE HIRED

Mrs. Hamilton Resigns; New Order of Business Starts on the First of July.

Mrs. J. H. Hamilton, who has been one of the popular employees of the postoffice since Postmaster Emmitt was appointed, has resigned, her resignation to take effect July 1st. Her decision to leave will be a source of great regret to the patrons of the office, for she has been a most popular servant of the public.

Under the new regime to be inaugurated on the first of the month, this postoffice will be entitled to three clerks—one for $75 a month and two for $60 each. Postmaster Emmitt has appointed his daughter, Mrs. Helen, to the position of chief clerk, but has not as yet decided upon the employes for the minor positions. The clerks in the postoffice will come under the civil service, and cannot be removed without cause and a hearing, should one be demanded. Under the civil service rules the minor clerks will receive $600 for the first year, $500 the second, and an increase of $1 a year until the salary reaches $1,100 per annum, where it remains.

MAIL ROUTE DISCONTINUED.

Pursuant to orders from the postoffice department, mail service on route No. 73,282 from Ashland to Odessa, will be discontinued on July 3d, and patrons of that route will hereafter get their mail at Klamath Falls. Service on this line has heretofore been afforded twice a week for five months during the year, and it has proved to be quite a convenience for residents along the way.

The discontinuance of this mail service will deprive the Dead Indian country east of Ashland and a large number of people resident there of mail service entirely, except as served by the postoffice at Ashland, 25 miles distant.

It is probable that an effort will be made to re-establish a postoffice at Lilyglen or vicinity and secure a star route service to it from Ashland. At least there is talk of this proceeding.

Four trains a day are unable to handle the passenger traffic of the S. P. The Alaska-Yukon-Pacific expedition is proving a great drawing card. Every berth on the new limited from San Francisco to Portland has been paid for up to the middle of July, and consequently there is a great clamor from the disappointed. More cars cannot be added to the train, and the time of 27 hours maintained and connections made between these two places.

A system of wireless telephony was recently tested by the French navy between the armored cruiser Conde and shore stations. It is reported that conversation was carried on over a distance of 100 miles. The inventors of this system are Lieutenants Jeanco and Colin of the French navy. Their work is quite remarkable in view of the fact that in our own navy we have had difficulty in maintaining wireless telephone communication over a distance of twenty miles.

UPPER LAKE NOTES.

Several wells have been bored along the water front with satisfactory results. The one at the new mill was put down 145 feet before good water was struck.

D. M. Griffith's new resort at Eagle Cape will be unique in many respects. The building will stand on the cliff 75 feet above the lake, with wide piazzas fairly jutting over. The water from the great white sulphur spring which boils up near the lake level will be pumped into a tank above the hotel. As the water is absolutely blood heat, it will be great for baths, and white sulphur baths are the best known.

Will Harland's new house will soon be ready for occupation. It is built on the bungalow style. Several other buildings are soon to be erected near Mr. Harland's, which, together with those already built, will make quite a showing.

The high south wind yesterday nearly dried up the lake. The big launch Curlew grounded in her stall in the boathouse and there was a fair current up the lake all day.

Tom Statten has installed a second engine in the launch Hohenzollern, which, aside from giving her greater speed, the novelty of two engines in the boat is apparent.

Five dollars reward for any one who will produce the little ratty calf that chewed up my shirt and a pair of socks last Saturday. They say it is the last straw that breaks the camel's back. Well, this case is not the last straw, but darn near the last shirt—or socks, either, for that matter. I have just spoke to one of the neighbors who has a little bull calf reddited to such tricks. He said he did not think his calf did it, and if it did it was not to blame, for it probably thought from the size of the socks that they were hay cocks, and as the shirt was of a green color any calf might be mistaken. But this explanation is not satisfactory; hence the reward offered. I have owned those socks ever since they were little things, and a shirt is no shirt at all unless it has all its parts. I know I am an old bachelor, but a bachelor is some better than a brute and has rights that even a bull calf is bound to respect. THE COMMODORE.

BISHOP LOST.

B. St. Geo. Bishop was around this afternoon fooling his friends. He and Mrs. Bishop had a little wager in which his famous goatee and mustache were at stake. Well, "Bish" lost, of course, and he proceeded to carry out his part of the contract. The change was so great that he could not resist the temptation of going around and seeing a few of his friends, being aided and abetted by a couple of those whom he first fooled. They would introduce him as Mr. So-and-So, and with a face as solemn as a judge "Bish" would acknowledge the introduction. It is the first time in twenty years that he has been without a mustache, and he declares that if it continues to feel so good he will not have one for the next twenty.

GOVERNMENT OFFER TOO LOW

Mr. Murdoch Does Not Feel Inclined to Make the Sacrifice Demanded.

The question of the future location of the postoffice has not been settled, and the probabilities are it will not be for some time to come. This is due to the fact that Mr. Murdoch will not accept the offer of the government unless he is aided by the business men of the West End. He states that it will cost him in the neighborhood of $1,300 to enlarge and equip the office to comply with the new conditions. In order to meet this expense he has applied to the business men of the West End for assistance, on the ground that it will be a benefit to them to have the postoffice remain where it is. Some have responded, others have not, and whether enough will agree to come in remains to be seen. One business man said:

"As matters now stand, I would like to see the postoffice remain where it is, for the reason it is more convenient for me. That is the only reason. After we get free delivery I don't care where they put it. It can go to the Upper Lake, or anywhere else, for the carriers will do the business. As far as it brings trade is concerned, that is all moonshine."

Mr. Murdoch stated that he would reach no decision for the present, aside from the one that he must have financial assistance for the installation of the equipment. If that is not forthcoming, then he does not believe in justice to himself he can accept the government's offer.

PROOF POSITIVE

A Western newspaper man visited Washington recently and told the following story on former Representative Amos J. Cummings of New York, who was once city editor of the Sun. One Saturday night it was announced that all the saloons were to be closed next day.

Cummings called his star reporter, Murray.

"Tom," he said, "go out to-morrow and find out if the saloons are selling liquor."

It was Thursday when Tom again appeared at the city desk.

"They were," he reported.

"I TOLD YOU SO."

An old couple lived in the mountains of Eastern Tennessee; he was ninety-five and she ninety. Their son, a man of seventy, died. As the old folks crossed the pasture to their cabin after the burial the woman noticed a tear roll down her husband's cheek. She patted him tenderly on the arm, and said:

"Never mind, John, never mind; you know I always said we would never raise that boy."

MASON GETS A CONTRACT.

Word has been received from Lakewood that W. H. Mason, who went to that metropolis a few days ago, has secured a good-sized slice of the contract that has just been let for the construction of the big irrigation works near that city. This work is being done by the Oregon Valley Land Company in connection with their land scheme, and it is estimated that upwards of 75,000 acres of land will be brought under irrigation. How much of the contract Mr. Mason secured has not been learned, for he went at once to Alturas to make arrangements to begin work immediately. He is expected home in a few days.

POKEGAMA WILL CELEBRATE.

The employees of the Klamath Lake Railway and the Algomah Lumber Company and their friends and neighbors will unite in a celebration of the Fourth of July at Pokegama Monday, July 5th. Log rolling in the mill pond, baseball, foot races, with fireworks and a dance in the evening are among the features of the day's program. The committee in charge is composed of H. L. Swift, Joe Frazelle, G. C. Alvey and W. A. Brown.

There will be no excursion to Shasta Springs on July Fourth, due to the fact that the requisite number could not be secured. There is no doubt whatever but that more than one hundred and twenty-five would have gone on the excursion, but they failed to notify Mr. Thompson. He had to guarantee that number, and if they did not show up he would have had to foot the bill. He, therefore, thought it advisable to call the matter off. There will likely be many who will wish they had given this matter their attention, now that it is too late.
