F. M. Clark of Omaha left this morning for his home. He has been fishing for the past two weeks at Spring Creek.

J. S. Wolf of San Francisco, who has been spending his vacation at Spring Creek, came down from that resort yesterday and left this morning for his home.

A marriage license was issued yesterday to Oda D. Craven and Miss Lulu J. Given. They were married by Rev. J. W. Price.

E. Heymans and M. Rosenberg of San Francisco went to Odessa Monday to enjoy a few days of the splendid fishing at that resort.

Arrangements are being made to transfer the big dredger, the Klamath Queen, to the Upper Lake. It is proposed to cut a channel out Willow to Fourth street, where the ground will be solid enough to hold it up, when the same route taken by the steam shovel will be followed.

Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Taylor, formerly of Weaverville, late of Marysville, arrived here yesterday and remained during the day. The doctor left last night for Klamath Falls, Ore., where he will locate and practice his profession. Mrs. Taylor, after visiting for a few weeks with her sister in Southern Oregon, will join her husband.—Redding Searchlight.

Dr. C. P. Mason and Thad McHattan returned home last evening from the hunting and fishing trip. They deny the allegation that they were hunting after bear. From the doctor's appearance it would seem that he was diving after fish, although he said he was caught in the rain. Thad won't talk about it at all, and it looks as if he shoved the doctor overboard. At any rate, they had some fish to show for their trouble.

A NEW ACCOUNTING SYSTEM.

The Monarch Mercantile Company has installed a new system of keeping accounts, and it is considered the most complete and systematic of its kind extant. It is the McCaskey One-Writing System, and has been in operation among the leading merchants of the country for many years, whose endorsement of it is unanimous. With this system they are enabled to give an itemized bill with each purchase, thus giving to the purchaser an exact copy of every transaction, the customer's record being the same as that of the store's. Each customer is provided with a slip-holder to hold the sale slips. The last slip received will show the total amount of the customer's indebtedness, so that it will be a very simple matter to keep the accounts accurate and up to date.
