

USE OF TANKS ADVISABLE

NOTED AUTHORITY OF SANITATION SAYS "USE THEM."

A GRAVE MISTAKE NOT TO

General Greenleaf Believes the Use of Lake Ewanna would Be Dangerous to Health of Community.

One of the most distinguished visitors that has come to this county during the summer is now a guest in the city. He is Gen. C. R. Greenleaf, who, with his wife, is visiting this section. The General was the first medical officer commissioned by Governor Dennison of Ohio for service in the civil war, on April 19, 1861, since which time, up to 1902, when he was retired with the rank of brigadier-general, he has been in the continuous service of his country, holding the highest positions within its gift as medical officer.

After serving through the civil war the General took part in several Indian wars. At the breaking out of the Spanish war he was chief surgeon of the armies in the field and served on the staff of General Miles in the Santiago campaign in Cuba. He had charge of the sanitary conditions in Porto Rico and was then promoted as chief medical inspector of the army. He served two years in the Philippines as chief surgeon of that division. He was also head of the medical department, U. S. A., in Washington for seven years, and has been sent abroad twice by this government to study the sanitary measures of foreign countries.

In view of his vast experience in matters pertaining to sanitation, the General was asked what would be the effect of the dumping of the sewage of the city into Lake Ewanna, and in reply thereto said:

"In my opinion it would be a grave mistake to follow any such course, for the reason that since the time of the Spanish war this country has given the matter of sanitation very careful attention, and if the report should go out that sewage was being dumped into this lake it would have a bad effect on the intending settlers in your city, for people those days will not locate where typhoid and other disease germs are allowed to propagate in their immediate vicinity, which would doubtless be the result if the foregoing condition was adhered to."

"Another feature that should be taken into consideration is the fact that it is not alone the grave menace to your city here, but also to the towns below you on this river, on which may be established there later,

BIG DEAL ON UPPER LAKE

CALIFORNIA FRUIT CANNERS' ASSOCIATION IN FIELD.

GET LONG LAKE LUMBER MILL

Means Annual Shipment of Three Hundred Carloads of Boxes to Be Used in California Fruit Trade.

One of the largest concerns on the coast, the California Fruit Cannery association, with headquarters at San Francisco, has practically taken over the management of the Long Lake Lumber company, and from this time on the scene of their operations on the Upper lake at Shipington will be with business. Major C. E. Worden and Fred Mathias have retired from the active management of this company, and the new personnel of the company will be as follows: Roscoe Cantrell, president and treasurer, B. S. Grigsby, vice president, and W. O. Hason, secretary.

W. I. Clarke, manager of the box department of the California Fruit Cannery association, is the man who has dealt through, and he has appointed Charles McGowan as superintendent of the box factory. Mr. Clarke, who left yesterday morning for San Francisco, in an interview with a representative of this paper, stated:

"The California Fruit Cannery association has practically taken over the management of the Long Lake Lumber company, and we will begin at once on the improvement of this property. We will build twelve or fourteen additional houses to take care of the employees and their families, and more as the occasion requires. There will be employed in the box factory about sixty men and at the saw mill about thirty, which means quite a payroll for your city. It is our desire to ship out about 300 carloads of lumber a year, and this is made possible by the large supply required to take care of the wants of the California Fruit Cannery association alone, as they will take the entire output. This latter concern ships out every year about 5,000 carloads of canned fruits, so you can judge that it takes some boxes to supply their demands. This city can congratulate itself on this company entering the field here, as it will doubtless be an opening wedge which other large concerns will take advantage of by establishing similar plants adjacent to your city on the Upper lake."

C. E. Worden, who was interviewed in regard to the above transaction, stated: "The California Fruit Cannery association has practically taken over the management of the Long Lake Lumber company, and Mr. McGowan and myself have retired. I consider this as one of the most important happenings in the history of Klamath Falls, for, first of all, it is the starting point of a payroll system, of which this town is in need, and then again, it means the opening up of the Upper lake country to other manufacturers, and it all being contiguous to our city, we will reap the harvest. It is the intention of the company to put up additional houses for the employees, and they are also taking up the matter of the erection of a new school house here. This latter matter is now being taken up with the town board, and will be decided upon this afternoon."

RESTS WITH LANDOWNERS

FATE OF PROJECT IS PLACED IN THEIR HANDS.

COMMITTEE'S REPORT IS KEY

If It Is Adopted Work Will Proceed; If Rejected the Project Will Lose the Money Appropriated.

The question of the construction of the upper project will not be decided until the government has completed its present work. It has been found advisable to locate another canal fifty feet lower than the first one. Most of the residents of the upper project are laboring under the impression that this new canal is the only one that will be constructed. This is a mistake. Both the old and the new one will be built. The government believes that by constructing the second canal the cost of the entire project will be considerably less than if only the high line canal was constructed, and have it of sufficient size to furnish water for all the land. Under the new plan it will be only of a size sufficient to cover the land between it and the canal now being surveyed. Under the present regime the government has only in mind economy and speed. If the landowners will give their assistance there will be a transformation here that will meet the desires of the most exacting and the future will see removed all the causes of complaint heretofore existing.

The question that confronts the landowners of the project is: Shall they adopt the report of that committee? If it is adopted, then all questions of difference between the government and the landowners are settled. If it is not adopted, then matters will remain as they are, the money appropriated for this project will be returned to the reclamation fund and distributed among other projects and the completion of the Klamath project indefinitely postponed. WILL HOLD FAIR IF—

PRESIDENT BISHOP NON-COMMITTAL ON ANNUAL EVENT.

PASSES IT UP TO DIRECTORS

Meeting Will Be Held Here the Last of the Week, When Definite Action Will Be Taken.

B. St. George Bishop, president of the Fair association, came down from his boathouse Saturday for the purpose of calling a meeting of the board of directors, the object being to set a date for the holding of the fair. When seen by a representative of this paper Mr. Bishop stated:

"I came down for the purpose of getting a meeting of the board of directors of the Fair association, at which the proposition of holding a fair this fall was to be discussed. This I find to be impossible, owing to the fact that a number of the directors are out of the city. I will return here again the last of this week, when definite action will be taken, and at which time I will have a statement to make to the public."

"Will the association hold a fair this fall?" Mr. Bishop was asked.

"I presume it will. It will probably be held the first week in October. This is a matter, however, which the board must act on. I am not prepared at this time to make any statement further than that we will hold a meeting the last of the week, at which time the public will be fully advised of the action taken." Continuing Mr. Bishop said:

"I had a conference with the president of the Chamber of Commerce, and am perfectly willing to cooperate with that organization in any matter that will promote the welfare of the community. In connection with the fair other forms of entertainment are desired by the city. It is a matter that can be easily arranged. There is nothing in the way of the Chamber of Commerce and Fair association cooperating harmoniously in this matter."

At the meeting of the merchants this evening the fair question will be one of the subjects considered. The sentiment of the business men seems to be that the fair must not be held at the fair grounds. They are willing to assist liberally in its promotion if it is held in the city. Otherwise it is doubtful if their contributions will be sufficient to meet the demands of the occasion. Mr. Bishop would not commit himself as to whether the association intended to hold the fair in the city or the grounds. He admitted that there was no grandstand, but intimated that one might be erected in time for the holding of the fair. He preferred to let the entire matter rest until the board of directors had acted on it.

All merchants are requested to attend the meeting at the courthouse tonight, as business of importance will be under consideration.

MEETING OF IMPORTANCE

Merchants Will Decide Tonight What to Do in the Way of Entertainment During Bargain Week.

A meeting of the merchants of the city will be held this evening in the courthouse, at which will be decided matters of the utmost importance to the business interests of the community. Three subjects will be under consideration—the holding of a county fair, what other form of entertainment will be on the program and Bargain Week. Each one of these subjects is filled with interest vital to every merchant in the city, and the meeting should have a full attendance. A canvass has been made of most of the houses on Main street, and every one seen has signified his intention of attending, and the indications are that it will be the most largely attended meeting of its kind ever held in the city.

The importance of the securing of the outside trade for this city was demonstrated last week, when one individual from Lake county spent with the merchants of the city about $425. It was a cash proposition. This is only one of many other cases of more or less importance, and if a proper effort is made hundreds of other purchasers will come every fall and spring.

Captain J. J. Rahm has just received his new power launch "Margarita" from the Michigan Steel Boat company. The launch is eighteen feet long, four and a half feet beam, with a six horse-power engine, canopy top, and capable of carrying comfortably fourteen passengers. Her speed is twelve miles per hour. Besides the launch, the captain has twelve row-boats of different sizes which can be secured at reasonable rates by applying at his new boathouse on the Upper lake. The Margarita will be used for the passenger business in the Upper lake and can be chartered at reasonable rates upon application to Captain Rahm.

MEETING OF IMPORTANCE

C. S. Scofield, agriculturist in charge of the Western Farm Extension and Investigation in the Bureau of Plant Industry, and Dr. L. J. Briggs, who is in charge of the pathological laboratory of Washington, D. C., left yesterday morning. They will turn direct to Washington. These gentlemen were here investigating the conditions of the marsh lands.

TONIGHT AT THE OPERA HOUSE

"The Troublesome Satchel" shows the laughable adventures of an unfortunate old gentleman who purchases at an auction of unclaimed property a handbag containing a burglar's kit.

Another exceptionally fine film, "Lady Helen's Escapade," deals with the novel experiences of a young society leader who, bored with the monotony of her existence, hires out as a domestic.

"The Little Shepherd," a dramatic comedy of unusual interest, tells of the life of a little boy as a shepherd in the mountains and the sorrow caused when the owner accuses him having stolen one of the lambs that was his charge.

Don't forget when you come tonight to bring a photo of your child and enter it in the contest.
