KLAMATH FALLS, MONDAY, AUGUST 23, 1909.

Concealed Weapons.
Once in a college town the rumor that students were carrying concealed weapons reached the ears of the local police. The chief at once issued stringent orders that the heinous practice should be stopped. One day a group of them passed a policeman, and one of the students in so doing put his hand in his hip pocket. Then, as if recollecting himself in time, he hastily withdrew it and looked sheepishly at the policeman.

"What have you in that pocket?" the latter asked sternly.
Instead of answering, the student and all his companions, as if panic stricken, started to run. After a chase all the students were cornered and ordered to deliver up whatever they had in their hip pockets.
Meekly they obeyed. Each one carried a cornucopia. The remarks of the policemen cannot possibly be recorded.—Philad.

There once was a man with money to burn.
Who never burnt any that you could discern.
What was the use?
There once was a worm that wanted to turn,
But didn't attempt it, so far as I learn.
What was the use?

Fine Crops.
"Do you raise anything worth while in your garden?" said the visitor from the city.
"I should say so," answered Mr. Crosslot. "It's the best place for fishing worms in the entire village."

HAS NO EQUAL

The duties of a Weekly Newspaper are varied and various. It carries to the outlying districts and country homes the news of the week, and keeps the country resident in touch with the world, of interest in a manner that could be covered in no other way. Through its columns our country friends learn of the doings in the neighboring cities and towns, the acts of their county officials, and the deliberations and decisions of the county courts.

In its advertising columns the progressive merchant sets forth his wares, and many a bargain is decided from its columns before the trip to town is made. Many merchants take advantage of its advertising space to set their goods thus before prospective customers, and in doing so make many sales that would otherwise be lost to them.

How welcome a sign in town is when it has been made familiar to the visitor by its constant appearance in "his" Weekly Newspaper no one but that visitor can tell, but from his eager search for familiar names it is easy to determine just what weight his Weekly gives to his judgment when making purchases.

The Republican offers exceptional opportunities to the enterprising merchant in this respect. It goes into every home in the county. Those who have not subscribed for it are borrowing it from their neighbors, and promising to subscribe when they come to town. With a circulation of over 1,000 (1,021, to be exact), it is read by five times that number, and is a welcome guest to every member of every family.

Our mailing list is open to all prospective advertisers, or to any one who is interested in it, and at $2 per year the Republican is the best investment ever made by any person in search of the best.

It is the endeavor of the publishers to make the Republican the leader of all State Weekly Newspapers, and no expense is spared to accomplish this end. It is far ahead of all local competitors now, and will always be so. The facilities are unsurpassed in any office in the State. The most modern machinery and the latest faces of type are used in its production. No expense is spared in any way, and the result is self-evident.

As the country grows with the rapidity that is has in the past few years, and as brilliant prospects forecast for the future, just so fast will the Republican grow. From the little four-page paper of three years ago, it has reached its present generous proportions, and its future is bound to be just as great as the future of this section.

Helping the Town . . .

By banking your money in a bank in your own community you increase the community's power to do business. If substantial farmers want to borrow money there is more to loan them. If you bank your money away from home it is loaned to other farmers, merchants and manufacturers. Help your home people. Money hidden at home helps no one. Placed in a bank it is put to work in ways that help all.

A Savings Account . . .

Is a rainy day fund, a life insurance policy, a sick benefit, a funeral benefit, and an old age pension. There is no forfeiture clause in the passbook, and it is under the owner's control at all times. It will tide him over sickness; it will care for his family when he must go; it will see him through old age, and bury him when he dies. It is a simple business proposition. Begin early, and keep it up, and, like manna in the desert, it will supply him as he journeys.
