KLAMATH FALLS, TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1909.

OUR EGG OUTPUT

Something of Its Value and How It Is Handled in the Cities.

The egg output of this country represents a greater annual value than our production of gold or any mineral, excepting only coal. Hence it is a serious matter that five per cent of all eggs sent to market should be culled out as "dirties" and sold at a discount of at least twenty per cent. This signifies a loss of one per cent of the total value of the egg crop.

The common trade name for the cracked eggs is "checks." Those in which the fracture is not readily observable are called "blind checks." Handlers of such produce detect the latter by clicking the eggs together, or incidentally to the "candling" process. "Dents" are eggs whose shells have been pushed in without rupturing the lining membrane. "Leakers" have lost part of their contents, and are not only a loss themselves, but do damage by smearing other eggs.

The eggs handled by a Western produce house will ordinarily show from four to seven per cent of "checks." In further handling the same eggs will suffer additional breakage equivalent to from one to three per cent. Eight per cent from loss to market is stated by the Department of Agriculture to be a fair estimate for broken eggs. Such eggs are worth less than "dirties." Probably they represent a loss of two per cent of the total egg crop.

There is no kind of egg, however, that is a total loss. Even rotten eggs of the most advanced description are sold for a price to leather manufacturers. Those that are pretty bad, but still possible, are disposed of in large cities to pushcart dealers at five cents a dozen wholesale—by whom they are retailed among the poor, by the pint, liquid measure.

Badly broken eggs are thrown in with the rotten ones. Great quantities of stale eggs (known to the trade as seconds) are broken into cans holding thirty dozen each, frozen solid, and kept in cold storage until wanted. Before being sold they are thawed. For "checks" and "dirties" there is always a good demand by cheap restaurants, bakers and boarding houses, which get them usually at about half price.

A Queen Elizabeth Joke.
Queen Elizabeth liked her jokes, and although her pleasantries were of a less sanguinary turn than her father's, she must have been even more formidable than usual when disposed to be frolicsome. A tale may be found in one of Lord Essex's letters with regard to a new dress belonging to one of her maids of honor, over the possession of which the owner had been rash enough to exhibit some elation. The young lady, it seems, was several inches taller than her majesty, hardly perhaps quite a nice or loyal thing to be. Having desired that the dress should be made over to her custody, the queen, first carefully selecting an extremely wet day, was pleased to put it on and trail it for yards behind her in the mud, the owner of the humiliated garment having to appear as delighted with the royal fun and condescension as the rest of the lookers-on.—London Tatler.

Interfered With Business.
"So you think you'll go to the mountains next year?"
"Yes; too much breeze at the seashore. Always blowing the cards off the bridge table."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

OREGON'S VACANT LANDS

The Rapid Settlement Never Before Equalled in Any State.

PORTLAND, Sept. 14.—Special.—Vacant lands of the state are being settled in a way that has never before been equalled. A private land company is opening up a huge tract around Lakeview, the purchasers of contracts now being on hand there in large numbers to take part in the drawing. On September 15th will start the fall colonist movement from the east, when thousands of new settlers will reach the state to make their permanent homes here.

The vacant wheat lands of Central Oregon are being filled up at an unprecedented rate, the coming of railroads up the Deschutes being the cause of a big boom in wheat growing in that great undeveloped country. During the past week a record trip was made into the vacant lands about Bend by a party of settlers who went overland from Corvallis by auto. The trip was made from Corvallis to Bend, a distance of 150 miles, in one day, and the next morning members of the party filed on 320 acre homesteads near Bend and will engage in wheat growing. A tract of land of 250,000 acres in that district has just been included in the new 320 acre homestead law, and is proving very attractive to settlers.

An American Joke From England.
The typical American says a contributor to the English Illustrated Magazine, although partial to making jokes, is often quick tempered and unable to recognize a joke made by another, with results that are sometimes unpleasant.

Thus, a senator was once at a fashionable dinner party at Washington when he was asked what fish he would take.
"Wal," he said, "I reckon I'll take plaice."
A wit who chanced to be present remarked, with a twinkle in his eye, "Ah, senator, still a plaice seeker?"
"Yess," answered the senator, at the same time whipping out a revolver and shooting the wit dead, "but what's that to you, you dern'd stranger?"
Afterward, when the joke was explained to him, the senator confessed that he had acted rather hastily, and to show that he bore no grudge he went to the funeral of the inopportune wit.

What would you say if some man living in Klamath Falls made it his business to drive out to your place, no matter what part of the county you are living in, and spent several hours telling you all the news? And what else would you think if he said he would be glad to come out the following week and do the same thing again, and promised to come every week in the year? Wouldn't you inquire as to his mental condition? Well, I guess you would want to know what business he was engaged in that he had so much spare time for disseminating news, or had some ultimate object in cultivating your acquaintance.

We'll bring the news.
Well, here's the point: The editor of the Weekly Republican has a better proposition to make you than the man who peddles news from house to house. It is not worth your while to ask what our business is; it's to peddle news, and peddle it in the best manner and shape possible. It is an impossibility to propose to make a personal visit to do this news-telling act; we simply concentrate our time and save buggy wear and horse feed (your horse feed) by staying right in Klamath Falls and gathering every bit of news that's going and printing it in The Republican. We are not a nephew of Uncle Sam, and consequently we have to pay the postage to send the paper to you, but even then that's easier than to get out to your place and hand you the paper personally.

Oh, yes; you may as well know, too, that we have an axe to grind by coming out to see you every week in the year. Mother says father came to see her twice a week for four years before she found out what he was coming for, but The Republican will make you understand in less time than that. You will get to know all the news of the county, and lots of things besides—things that go to make you as snappy and up-to-date as any other man in the township, or county, either; you won't get wise to things that occurred three months ago—you'll know them the week they happen. If you don't it's your own fault. Tie a string on your little finger when you start to the Falls next time and subscribe for The Weekly Republican to come and tell you the news every week in the year.

Watch the Ads, Too.
Read the ads—all of them. Look them over each week as carefully as you do the news matter. It costs the merchants good hard-earned money to put those ads in the paper, and they mean them to be read. If you miss getting the full worth of your subscription money it's because you fail to read The Republican ads. You know where to trade when you come to the city; or at least you can't blame it all onto your wife if you make bad bargains.

Helping the Town . . .

By banking your money in a bank in your own community you increase the community's power to do business. If substantial farmers want to borrow money there is more to loan them. If you bank your money away from home it is loaned to other farmers, merchants and manufacturers. Help your home people. Money hidden at home helps no one. Placed in a bank it is put to work in ways that help all.

A Savings Account . . .

In a rainy day fund, a life insurance policy, a sick benefit, a funeral benefit, and an old age pension. There is no substitute closer to the pocketbook, and it is under the owner's control at all times. It will take him over sickness; it will care for his family when he must go; it will see him through old age, and buoy him when he dies. It is a simple business proposition. Begin early, and keep it up, and, like money in the desert, it will multiply him as he journeys.
