

NEW WHEAT FOR KLAMATH

RUSSIAN HARD GROWS TO PERFECTION NEAR DORRIS

ON DRY ALKALI LAND

May Prove a Source of Wealth for the Dry Ranchers of Klamath County.

On the ranch of Thomas Cross, two miles south of Dorris, was tried an experiment this summer which may result in making the Klamath country as is the state of Kansas. The experiment was with the raising of hard Russian wheat. Mr. Cross procured some seed from Kansas and sowed a small amount of it for the purpose of seeing if it would grow here. The result astonished not only Mr. Cross but everyone that has seen the product. The kernel was fully twice the size of the Kansas grain, and seems to possess all of the fine qualities of the Russian article. The area planted has not been learned, but the amount of wheat harvested was about 2,000 pounds.

The land on which the seed was planted was alkali, and it was thought to be too strongly impregnated with it to be of much use for the raising of any crop. Sagebrush would not grow there, and it was with some misgivings that Mr. Cross decided to sow the wheat there. The results, however, have proved that the soil is admirably adapted for the purpose.

Samples of the wheat were sent to California millers for the purpose of securing their opinion as to its value as a cereal. Their reply did not contain the desired information, it being simply an inquiry as to how much of it they could procure. Samples have been sent to government agricultural colleges and the result of the analysis is awaited with interest.

A carload of the seed has been shipped into the Butte valley for planting this fall, and if the same success is met with when this is harvested it means that land in this vicinity will be made to produce crops that will bring returns far beyond the dreams of anyone.

O. B. Gates, manager of the Light and Water company, was in Dorris yesterday and while there secured samples of the seed and the wheat grown from it. He also brought back a sample of macaroni wheat grown by Mr. Cross and this is one-third larger than the seed from which it was grown. The samples speak for themselves and show what may be expected when this section is fully developed.

The wheat grown by Mr. Cross was on dry land. It is problematical what the result would be on land that was irrigated. It is well known that irrigation has a tendency to soften the wheat, but to what extent this will be true with the Russian hard remains to be determined by experiments. It is particularly adapted to dry farming and may prove to be one of the greatest blessings that the dry ranchers of this country have ever had.

TRIED TO PEDDLE BOOZE

Ban Askland, the Dorris Swede, who came into town yesterday evening and started selling booze to the laborers at the railroad camps, was arrested by the deputy sheriff, lodged in jail and this morning arraigned before Justice of the Peace Miller. He plead guilty and was given sentence of thirty days in jail and a fine of $250. In default of payment of the fine he will lay in jail an additional 125 days.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

INTERESTING TALKS BY PROFESSORS GIVE INSPIRATION

CITIZENS ATTEND AT NIGHT

"Parents and Children Should Be Good Chums," Says Prof. Alderman in an Address.

The Teachers' Institute continues to furnish beautiful thought and inspiration as well as practical suggestions.

Tuesday Afternoon Session

The session at the public school building Tuesday afternoon opened with the usual exercises, after which Mr. Panek gave some demonstration work in callisthenics, illustrating various fundamental exercises described in the mimeographed copies which had been previously distributed. He says that the regular callisthenic drills should not be given in grades below the fourth, but that motion games and exercises should be substituted. He gives three parts to every command, viz: the explanatory part, the pause, the command. Mr. Panek showed excellent self-command and good training ability.

Prof. Resler followed with an exposition of the N. E. A. and its work. He explained that the National Educational association, of which he is one of the board of directors, consists of many persons interested in the educational movement—college presidents as well as common school teachers.

In the course of the lecture he expressed it as his opinion that President Elliot, ex-president of Harvard university, will be known in the future as one of the greatest educators whom the world has ever produced. He introduced us to many of the great educational characters of today in the course of his reminiscence review of his connection with the work. He says that the next meeting may be held in San Francisco, and urges that in that case as many of the Oregon teachers as possible should be present.

A short recess was granted, after which the teachers met in department work.

The high school section, led by Mr. Alderman, discussed "The High School Course of Study," and this was followed by a demonstration lesson in "Beginning German" by W. J. Fitzgerald.

The public school section listened to a model reading lesson presented by Professor Resler, a continuation of work given in the morning; and an able discussion of spelling by Mr. Fred H. Peterson, principal of Bonanza high school.

The primary section discussed "Nature Study" and "Birds."

Tuesday Evening Session

The evening session at the high school auditorium was largely attended by citizens of the town as well as by the teachers, and the program was entertaining and good.

The High School orchestra rendered some good selections, after which Prof. Alderman delivered especially to the parents of school children, an address full of humor, pathos and personal experience. His subject was "Chums, Chumps, Lumps, Loops and Spooks." By means of many illustrations from his own observation he enforced the thought that the ideal relation between parents and children is that of chums. He considered it a mistake for parents to over-indulge and sacrifice for their children, but feels that they should win their sympathetic help and co-operation.

Mrs. Gamble rendered a solo which was highly appreciated by the audience.

Prof. Resler then addressed the assembly on "The New Education." He showed how the changed conditions are demanding higher training in all lines. He predicts the time when there will be no class distinction based on higher learning, but everyone in his own department of work will be made efficient by careful training and preparation. The time has already arrived, he says, when the engineer in understood to have completed a harder technical course than the B. A. The time is coming when every young man or woman must know first of all what he wants and then prepare for it on a scientific basis.

Teachers in Attendance

The list of teachers in attendance at the Institute are as follows:

HOLABIRD VISITS PORTLAND

Harriman Representative Says That Oregon Will Get Her Share of New Enterprises.

William H. Holabird, generally known as the special representative of the executive department of the Harriman railroad system, arrived in Portland yesterday from Southern Oregon, where he has been on railroad business, the nature of which he refused to explain. He is staying at the Portland hotel, and will leave in a few days for New York. His home is in Los Angeles.

It is generally known that during the life of the late E. H. Harriman, Mr. Holabird was his most confidential business associate. When Harriman wanted to know the value of a road and its worth as an investment or as a part of the great Harriman system, Mr. Holabird was the man detailed to investigate and submit a detailed report to the great railroad speculator.

When interviewed last night, Mr. Holabird admitted that he is still employed in the same class of work for the Harriman lines, but refused to divulge his errand to Oregon. When asked if there is any new railroad enterprises planned, of which he had information, Mr. Holabird said that he would not be permitted to tell of such a thing if such were the case.

"I can say this much," said Mr. Holabird. "I have unbounded confidence in Oregon and her resources, and it will only be a matter of time until Oregon gets what is due her."

HENEY IS DEFEATED

SAN FRANCISCO GRANT PROSECUTOR MENTS WATERLOO

TOM L. JOHNSON LOSES OUT

Tammany Saves Gaynor, But Loses the Rest of Ticket—McCarthy Elected in "Prisco."

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—Special unofficial returns from all precincts indicate the defeat of Heney for district attorney by a majority over 1,000. There is joy in the ranks of those who have been accused of grafting, for they feel certain that in the defeat of Heney their worst enemy is shorn of his power to do them harm. McCarthy is elected by a safe majority. It is rumored today that Heney will contest the election. His defeat is a bitter dose for him to swallow, and it is confidently predicted that he will not give up without a fight in the courts. When asked if he contemplated contest proceedings he refused to commit himself either way.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 4. (Special)—Tom L. Johnson has gone down to defeat after one of the hardest fought campaigns in the history of the city. He is accepting his downfall philosophically.

NEW YORK CITY, Nov. 4. (Special)—Tammany has won a barren victory in the election of Gaynor as mayor of the city. The entire fusion ticket, with the exception of mayor, has been elected, and this robs Tammany of the richest prize of all—the Board of Estimates, which will expend during the next four years about one billion dollars. Even in the election of Gaynor it has won a doubtful victory, for no one expects the erratic judge to continue to wear the collar of Tammany. There is great jubilation in the city over the election of the fusion ticket, and conservatives all over the city are singing the praises of W. R. Hearst for the sacrifice he made in becoming a candidate, for it is recognized that if he had remained out of the fight the entire Tammany ticket would have been elected.

Bowman W. Dennis, representing the Bankers' Life Association of Des Moines, Ia., said this morning: "Klamath Falls is the finest little city I have visited in four years. To me it seems that it has the greatest future of any town of its size on the coast. People on the outside are all looking this way and the railroads are already headed for Klamath county."

CITY COUNCIL MEETS

There was a special meeting of the city council last night, called to pass on the ordinance introduced for the re-advertising of the bonds for the sewer system.

The ordinance was read and a vote taken, passing the ordinance unanimously, and tomorrow the bonds will be advertised in the weekly papers.

SCHOOL BOARD INSPECTS NEW SCHOOL SITE

School Directors Sanderson, Fountain and Obenchain this afternoon visited the site chosen for the erection of the new school building. They were surprised with the beauty of the surroundings and were unanimous in their belief that it is the most slightly location in all the city. Speaking of it, Mr. Sanderson said:

"The voters made no mistake in the selection of the site on the west side of the river, as it is one of the most slightly locations I have ever seen. With a structure commensurate with the size and importance of the city erected there, it will be one of the best testimonials of the progress and enterprise of our citizens that one can receive. It can easily be seen from every train entering and leaving Klamath Falls, and will no doubt have a very beneficial effect when this city is on the main line."

Work will begin at once grading the site and an engineer will within the next few days stake out the location of the new structure.

Gus Shroeder and Bert Gowdy returned to their homes at Summer Lake this morning with two six-horse wagons loaded with supplies purchased at the local stores.

Hon. George T. Baldwin returned last evening from San Francisco, where he has been for the past few weeks on business.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE

"A Case of Lumbago" causes one young man a great deal of inconvenience and the girls at the dance he attends a great deal of amusement.

"Holding Up the Wedding" in order that the groom may drink in full the health of the bride with his cronies, is rather tough on the bride. "Sweet-Toothed Dogs" are a nuisance any way, and when they insist on following you all over town they are even worse.

"The Right to Labor" belongs to every man, and one workman who has a family to support showed his good sense when he refused to go out with the strikers, but rather preferred to stay and work for his living. "Hunted to the End" by the friend of the man he had murdered in a duel and finally brought before the court and sentenced, should be the lot of every man who goes out of his way looking for trouble.

"A Paying Business" is built up by a beggar, supposedly blind, but in reality too lazy to work, and his accomplice, when they pretend to photograph every one who donated any money.

WERE NOT HILL'S MEN

THOSE SEEN ON REAMEN TRACT GOVERNMENT MEN

ONE PARTY UNACCOUNTED FOR

Were Engaged in Running Surveys Across Buena Vista Hill Last Friday.

Rumors were flying thick and fast this morning to the effect that Hill's surveyors were in town locating a line for the Oregon Trunk through this city. The chances are, however, that there is no foundation to the suspicions, for all of the surveyors have been accounted for, with the exception of one crew of six men seen last Friday on what is known as Buena Vista hill. The party arousing most interest was the one seen Saturday on the Reamen tract at the southern end of Lake Ewauna. These, however, proved to be employees of the reclamation service making a topographical survey in connection with the drainage of the marsh lands.

The crew seen in the Buena Vista addition came down the west side of the lake and crossed over the hill, heading for Klamath Falls. There were six in the party—two viewers and four others engaged in running the survey. They refused to state who they were, where they came from, or where they were going. Inquiry at the Southern Pacific headquarters brought the information that none of their surveyors were at work in that neighborhood last week, and the reclamation service furnished the same statement.

It is known that a party of six surveyors left the main crew of Hill surveyors now located at the Klamath Marsh and started south. Nothing has since been heard of them, and it is possible that they are engaged in running a preliminary survey down the west side of the lake to ascertain if a feasible route can be secured. The generally accepted theory has been that the Oregon Trunk would come down the east side of the lake, crossing at the head of Link river and come down Conger avenue.
