KLAMATH FALLS, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1909.

A BOUTIQUE FOR MOTHER

We applaud the soldier, but we do not give to the mother the honor and respect that she is entitled to. "Unless the strong, intelligent woman bears a sufficient number of children, so that the race may increase, and not decrease, unless she brings up these children sound in body, soul and mind, unless this is true, no brilliancy of genius, no material prosperity, no triumphs of science and industry will avail to save the race from ruin and death." So that society should look upon the woman about to become a mother with admiration and envy rather than with scorn and pity. The woman who deserts her home and neglects her children for the hollow pleasures of the social world is unworthy the name of mother. I like the diagnosis the old family doctor made of a society woman's sick baby. She had been away from home all day, neglecting her baby, and she sent for the old doctor to come and see what was the matter with it. He was crying feebly and looked pale and sick. The old doctor took it up in his arms. It immediately began to root around in his bosom with open mouth, and the old doctor solemnly handed it back to its mother and said: "I am sorry to tell you, madame, I can do nothing for the child; it is hungry."

Blessed is the home where the good mother and wife is found. She is the richest jewel ever won by man. Without her nations would fall and civilizations crumble; without her charity would lose its sweetness, mercy its tenderness, and the Christian religion itself would perish.

With duty well performed, she reflects the wealth, the power and the glory of the state and nation. She, with her little ones prattling at her knee, is the culmination of man's highest ideals of peace, love and perfect happiness.—Medical Sentinel.

THE MEANEST MAN

Bill Nye had truth well told when he said: "A man may use a wart on the back of his neck for a collar-button; ride on the back coach of a railroad train to save interest on his money till the conductor gets around; stop his watch at night to save wear and tear; leave his 'I' or 'U' without a dot or cross to save ink; but a man of this sort is a gentleman and a scholar compared to the fellow who will take a newspaper two or three years and when asked to pay for it puts it into the office and has it marked 'Refused.'"

Washington.—Secretary Ballinger has withdrawn from all form of entry 3,262 acres of land along the upper Deschutes river in Oregon. The withdrawals, it is announced, were made contingent upon proposed legislation to conserve water power sites on public lands.

The land withdrawn is the waterway in connection with which charge has been made in granting rights of way to the Hill and Harriman railroads through the Deschutes canyon. Ballinger had rendered construction of a power plant in the canyon impossible.

DAIRY DEVELOPMENTS

Emil Flackus has returned from his tour of discovery, but I have no report as to the character of his discoveries. Pending his departure he sold his home place at the Four-Mile Spring to his brother, Theodore. If I were to guess, it would be that he is sorry he didn't find a new place that suited him better first.

George Smyth got the roof on his new house just before the big rain began. Wasn't he lucky?

The rain which has been falling by spells—long spells—for the past week has soaked the earth to a depth of fifteen inches and possibly further, but beyond that point I haven't investigated. In any event, it is damp far enough down to insure the growth of next year's crop for the dry land farmer. There is a foot of water in the lake in the south part of the valley, which was dry all summer.

Citizens in the neighborhood of the Hildebrand school house are agitating the matter of building a hall for dancing and public meeting purposes. A meeting was called for Saturday last of those who are interested in the project. How much was subscribed to the fund I haven't heard.

If the county commissioners could hear the cussings they are getting for not improving the roads out this way life would be a burden to them. In the spring it was announced that they were going to expend $25,000 on the roads during the summer, but they didn't; or, if they did, it is a mystery where they put the work. Certain it is that very little in these parts was done, where it was most needed.

"Sandlapper," the correspondent of the Express, is of such an amiable disposition as to be very easily consoled. At least I conclude so by his observations respecting the defeat of the proposition to increase the par value of the shares of the Water Users' association at the recent meeting. He writes as if a majority had voted against the proposition, and says "the majority should rule." The fact was that of the shares voted only about one in seven voted against the proposition. If it is a consolation to be in as small a majority as that, let him not be discouraged. It really was the non-residents who did not vote who defeated the adoption of the proposition, as a majority of all the stock of the association was necessary to adopt it.

Jack Rueck contemplates building a residence in Bonanza and removing to that place for the better education of his boys. He expects to rent his farm. Mr. Rueck has been an important factor in the progress of Yonka valley, and he will be very sadly missed by the community.

Henry Stoehler expects to put in a telephone at his bachelor home near Dairy, as he has bought a share in the valley line some time since.

Not much "development" going on these rainy days, hence few happenings of public interest.

The Smyth sisters, Misses Annie and Mary, are arranging to give a dancing party in their new house on Thanksgiving evening, to which all their friends are invited. No doubt it will be a joyous occasion.

Invitations are out to a Thanksgiving dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Beck. It is also the birthday anniversary of their daughter, Rosa.

Some time since a prominent citizen and member of the local fraternity of Iowa wrote here for information regarding the good and bad features of Klamath county, with a view of coming here in the spring to make a home on a farm. The gentleman who answered the letter recently got one in reply, in which the writer expressed himself gratified at the vast deal of information given him, and because of its apparent fairness and reasonableness, and said he got a far better idea of what the country really was like than he had been able to gather from the pictures and pamphlets sent him by the real estate agents at the Falls—to whom he had written. This ought to be a pointer for the Klamath Falls boomers. A little candor and frankness goes a long way, sometimes.

F. M. Bennett, who belongs to Wm. A. Flackus' bridge gang, at work putting in a new bridge near Merrill, was called home Saturday last because of the illness of Mrs. Bennett, who is suffering from pleurisy.

Eddie Flackus, son of Wm. A. Flackus, who graduated in the eighth grade last year, is reviewing his studies under the tutelage of Mr. James G. Wight at the Hildebrand school.

Miss Mary Smyth expects soon to attend the Dairy school before long. W. P. Sedgwick, acting postmaster at Dairy, has received notice of his appointment as postmaster at this place. The board, in blank sent to him was misdirected, and had to be sent back for correction.

E. W. Norridge and wife arrived today from Mayville, Ore., for a honeymoon visit with Rev. Norridge and family.

The cost of the Panama Canal will be more than double the first estimate—$148,000,000. It will probably be fully three times that sum, and even more. The cost was estimated on bases that no longer exist. Besides, every great work, in all ages, has cost far more than the estimates. Wise men, who wish to erect buildings, get estimates and then double them.

All along the Willamette the valley cities are getting excited, as the river is constantly rising.

Helping the Town . . .

By banking your money in a bank in your own community you increase the community's power to do business. If substantial firms want to borrow money there is more to loan them. If you bank your money away from home it is loaned to other farmers, merchants and manufacturers. Help your home people. Money hidden at home helps no one. Placed in a bank it is put to work in ways that help all.

The First National Bank of Klamath Falls

Is a good bank to put your money in—safe and reliable.

A Savings Account . . .

In a rainy day fund, a life insurance policy, a sick benefit, a funeral benefit, and an old age pension. There is no forfeiture clause in the passbook, and it is under the owner's control at all times. It will tide him over sickness; it will care for his family when he must go; it will see him through old age, and bury him when he dies. It is a simple business proposition. Begin early, and keep it up, and, like manna in the desert, it will supply him as he journeys.

Now is the time to open an account with the
