WANTS CONGRESS TO INVESTIGATE

CONDITIONS SUCH THAT SLAV-ERY PRACTICALLY EXISTS

PLANTERS' PROMISES NOT KEPT

Deluded Siberians Are Lured to Hawaii by Fallacious Agreements.
Grievances Not Remedied

United Press Service.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 7.— Conditions akin to slavery in the Hawaiian Islands are pictured in a memorial asking for an investigation submitted by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, to the department of commerce and labor. Sugar planters acting through the Hawaiian government, Gompers charges, have been luring peasants from Harbin, in the interior of Siberia, to the islands.

Russian and Hawaiian agents are engaged in the work. They recruit peasants, Gompers says, by attractive pamphlets and in these and by other means promising the peasants wages of $45 per month, free houses, fuel, electric light, furniture, an acre of land each for gardens, evening schools, free hospitals, half pay during sickness, free railroad fares and free schools for children.

A delegation of 300 deluded Siberians went to the islands last October, and the total number that yielded to the lure of the sugar planters is over 1,000. Their experiences is thus set forth by Gompers:

"Instead of all the comforts above described, the people found wooden shanties, without roofs, the floors made of rough boards, set apart with wide crevices. The furniture consisted of a few benches, a table and a few beds; instead of the promised electric light, kerosene lamps were to be used, the oil to be supplied by the men themselves; the fuel consists of the roots of sugar cane, which the men were to carry from three to seven miles. Coal is a great luxury, which is seldom obtainable.

"Instead of the free transportation to and from work, the men had to walk to the place of work at a distance of five miles, and the time consumed was not included in the working day; lateness by five to ten minutes was punished by a deduction of a quarter of a day's pay; the wages are $22 a month for men and $13 for women. The men are compelled to buy all their provisions in the plantation store at such exorbitant prices that they exceed the earnings due, and they become the debtors of the planters. In short, the conditions are such as would establish a condition of peonage.

"After three months of suffering and quiet submission, having spent not only their scant earnings, but the money they brought with them, realized from the sale of their real property and other belongings at home, the men revolted; they left the plantations and went to Honolulu with a view of informing the American government, through its regularly constituted authorities. The people looked for work elsewhere, but could find none.

"The governor of the territory was informed by a delegation sent by the men of the unbearable conditions, but the only answer that they received from the governor was that they were to return to the plantations, and a promise to improve the conditions of their life was made.
The people returned to work, but found no fulfillment of any of the promises made, and the people began to appeal for assistance from the outside world. The people rose in protest, and they were driven from the plantations. Some of them have found employment working on Japanese vessels. Hundreds of others were left breadless and homeless, all of them having been driven from their shanties, their belongings having been thrown out into the open fields.
They have sent two delegates to go to Washington; on their way these delegates stopped at the Imperial Russian consulate at San Francisco, and there they were assured by the consul that there was no necessity for them to go to Washington, advising them to return to Honolulu, the consul having referred them to a Russian representative, one Kerberg, who, he assured them, would take care of their grievances and remedy all wrongs.

"The men returned, but nothing was done for the people, and the owners of the plantations evidently took another course to drive the people into submission. It started with the arrest of their three leaders, A.
Vasilieff, Biloff and Surupoff, who, charged with vagrancy, were sentenced to three months' imprisonment then came ten more arrests for alleged vagrancy, and six of them were sentenced to six months' imprisonment.

"At the time Vasilieff was arrested the people rose in indignation, demanding an explanation for the arrest of their leader, but they were brutally attacked by the police, brutally wounding many of the men, as well as the women and children.
Rumors have been spread through the press dominated by the planters, with a view of overawing the peasants and forcing them into submission that the police commissioner of Honolulu had ordered the police to shoot to kill."
