KLAMATH FALLS, WEDNESDAY, JULY 13, 1910

A LIE AND THE TRUTH

A certain publication that wishes to pose as a "newspaper" is trying to hoodwink the people of this city into believing that it publishes the news. What are the facts? The Herald has published every important item of news from one day to three months ahead of this so-called newspaper. So frequently has this occurred that it is common knowledge...

of those many unpleasant events that lie in the path of the man who stands at the head of a public corporation. Nevertheless, the citizens of Klamath Falls, practically to a man, regret to see him leave this field. This city needs such men as Gates. He is a builder, a constructive genius who deals in big things and has the courage to pioneer in the uncertainties of the future.

STRIKING GARMENT WORKERS ARE GAINING GROUND

United Press Service. NEW YORK, July 13.—The Garment Workers who are on strike announced yesterday that 100 firms had signed the union scale and an order ending the strike is expected shortly.

Fireless Cooker "Have you ever tried a fireless cooker?" "Yes; we've had one for six months. My wife tried to fire her, and I've told her to go, but she simply ignores our requests and says she'll scratch the eyes out of any other girl we dare to bring into the kitchen."—Chicago Record Herald.

Reassembling Beginner (wrathfully)—Look here, I'm tired of your laughing at my game. If I hear any more impudence from you I'll crack you over the head. Caddie—All right; but I'll bet you don't know what's the right club to do it with.—Pick-Me-Up.

All Inspiration "Your novel is evidently the result of inspiration." "Yes; I didn't start it until after reading the advertising notices my publishers got up."—Washington Herald.

No Other Way "Do you go in for swimming?" "Well, my boy, how can you swim without going in?"

The Mean Thing Husband—Now, don't ask for money every time you write. Wife—Boo-hoo! You don't want me to write so often, then?

The Foolish Man Bill—Since I have come back I find that I'm forgotten by all my friends. Will—Why didn't you borrow money from them before you left?

The Dog Had Feelings The Narrator—And from my tee shot the ball, caught the dog, after him over a bush and landed him in a pond; and I've never been able to induce the dog to come on the links with me since. The Listener—Perhaps he objects to be seen out with Ananias.

Changed His Mind "He vowed he would love me always, no matter what happened." "Well?" "And got mad five minutes later because I had a pin in my belt."

Deliver to His Grave "He was driven to his grave!" "Sure he was. Did you expect him to walk there?"
