JOHN SHOOK AND U. P. SEDGE DELEGATES TO ASSEMBLY

Traces Found of Cattle Rustling on the Reservation—Many Ranchers Are Putting Up Hay

Two men from Crescent City, Calif., one a merchant and the other a hotel man, were in Yonah Valley last week on a land-hunting tour.

John S. Shook and W. P. Sedge, the postmaster, went to the Falls Saturday, attending the republican "assembly."

George Chastain of Klamath Falls was visiting with the Shooks over Sunday. He looks as if he enjoyed better health than he has for years.

Emil Flackus has taken the contract to put up the Dave Shook hay crop this season, amounting to 1,500 tons.

A story of cattle rustling and killing comes over from the reservation that may develop into a criminal charge in the United States court.

Tom Michael is putting up the crop of hay on the M. P. Nelson place.

Henry Stanley was a business visitor to Dairy Monday. Henry enjoys the distinction of being the youngest eighth grade graduate of the Hildebrand school this year.

Miss Beulah Flackus is doing domestic work at the Gros ranch in the Upper Langell Valley.

Much of the wheat is heading out, but without rain the stalks will be very short—and probably the head, too.

The "subscriber" has been helping in the hay harvest during the past week, and had little time for hunting up news items.

At the rate of progress made by the road-building crew at work on the Pine Flat grade it will take twenty working days to complete the work—a mile and a quarter.

It is noticed that mosquitoes are more plentiful and pestiferous this summer than ever before in this valley.

Johns. Pool and "Doc" Pool have each built a new home close to the Soy Pool home in the north part of the valley.

Has a postmaster (or mistress) a right to withhold postal cards from the mail? is a question that has been asked by a good many people here-aways lately.

Ebenezer McNair has moved from the reservation into Poolville.

Miss Elsie Oden departed Monday for a visit with her sister at Susanville, Calif.

Frank McGler, who has been visiting with the Odens in Pine Flat, departed for his home at Fox, Ore., Monday.

Jesse Drew went to the Falls Monday for a load of freight for Dairy.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wood of Bonanza were visiting friends in Dairy Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Michael visited Edgewood Sunday.

Miss Nett Drew visited with her sister, Mrs. Campbell, in Langell Valley Sunday.

Mrs. N. S. Drew has been visiting her mother below the gap.

A fire broke out on Saddle Mountain, in Sprague river valley last week, but was subdued by the government forest rangers before much damage was done.
