There are three counts against Shaw as an individual.

One charge is against Reed and Shaw together.

All the accused are to come into court tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock and plead. H. M. Manning is Shaw's attorney.

FRIGHTENED TEAM RUNS OVER A MAN

J. E. Reed Attempts to Stop Runaway and is Severely Injured

A team belonging to the Monarch Mercantile company ran away this morning and J. E. Reed sustained severe injuries in trying to stop them.

The wagon was standing at Ackley Bros. mill and Frank Howard was loading some lumber in the wagon when he cut his finger nearly off on a piece of steel that was in one of the boards. He told another fellow who was standing near to hold the horses while he tied up his finger. The horses broke away from the man who was holding them, and ran down Klamath avenue to Sixth street, where they turned.

The men who were working at Savidge Bros. mill near the railroad saw them coming, and the whole crew tried to stop the frightened animals, but failed to do so.

J. E. Reed, one of the carpenters, fell in front of the team and the horses ran over him, breaking one arm and spraining his shoulder. Dr. Merriman was summoned and dressed his injuries.

The team was caught some time later, and they were not hurt at all.

CHARGED WITH ASSAULT WITH A DEADLY WEAPON

J. M. Bell Pleads Not Guilty, and is Placed Under $1,000 Bonds

James M. Bell, who was arrested Tuesday and brought down from Sprague river by Deputy Sheriff John Schallock on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon on the person of Luke Walker, was arraigned in the circuit court this morning and waived his preliminary hearing and pleaded not guilty. He was placed under $1,000 bonds, which he gave. The arrest grew out of a quarrel over the use of water for irrigation, and in which Walker got somewhat the worst of the encounter.

Charles P. Bray, a wealthy lumber man of Oshkosh, Wis., who has been here all summer looking after his interests in this vicinity, left for Portland this morning.

Mrs. Al Abraham and Mrs. T. Williamson, daughters of Mrs. M. McMillan, proprietor of the Lakeside Inn, arrived here last night for a month's visit with their mother.

J. A. Pratt, the genial representative of the Warren Construction company, left for Portland this morning.

An extra good bill of pictures has been prepared for the patrons of this popular playhouse tonight. Among them will be the "Gypsy Girl's Love," a strong and yet highly pleasing drama. "The Saraband Dance," a mysterious picture, and "In the Shadows of the Cliff," another pleasant drama that will no doubt prove to be of the utmost satisfaction.

THINKS KLAMATH FALLS HAS BRIGHT FUTURE

William Rice, Mayor of Yreka, Calif., Has Optimistic View of This City

The city council had a visitor last night in the person of William Rice, Mayor of Yreka, Siskiyou county, Calif., who was an interested spectator of the proceedings. In conversation with a Herald reporter after the council meeting had adjourned, Mr. Rice said:

"We are getting ready to do some paving in our town, and I am somewhat interested in the work you are doing here for that reason, and besides I have property interests here and am pleased to see that you are going ahead with the work that you have undertaken."

"There is nothing that will do so much for a town as good streets and an excellent sewer system, and both of these you are soon going to have."

"No one who has the interest of the city at all at heart is going to object to the improvements you are now making, and I believe that with what you are doing in this line at present will mean much for this city in the near future. A person can overlook many things if there is a good sewer system in a town, and if the streets are also paved no one will have much reason to complain."

"I believe that Klamath Falls has a bright future before it, and that the possibilities of growth for the city have not yet been even commenced. I believe that this city will be one of the best in the state if the improvements you have started now are kept up."

AGED SOUTHERN OREGON PIONEER JURIST DIES

MEDFORD, Ore., July 27.—Hon. H. K. Hanna, for many years circuit judge of the First Judicial district, and who retired last year, died at his home in Jacksonville yesterday afternoon, aged 78 years. He had been failing for some time, but his real illness was only of three weeks' duration and was the result of old age and complications. He came to the Pacific coast from the east in 1850, and began mining at Sallors Diggings, near the California line. Here he was elected justice of the peace, and as a result began the study of law and later began to practice. In 1872 he was elected district attorney, and in 1890 became circuit judge, which position he held for 18 years, until old age caused him to retire from active work.

J. Jilinski is registered at the Livermore from San Francisco.
