

ADY GIVES PLAN FOR MARSH DRAINAGE

FORM CORPORATION

THEY OF THE LAND OWNERS, HE SAYS, WOULD INSURE THE SUCCESSFUL DRAINAGE OF SUCH VALUABLE PROPERTY

This is the first time since reclamation has first been talked of here that the swamp lands of the lower lake have been in such shape that they can be reclaimed...

Mr. Ady has been successful after a long and tedious fight, and the secretary of the interior has authorized the releasing of the lands...

There are about 15,000 acres of swamp land on the Oregon side that would naturally come under one system. Along the shores at the southern end of the lower lake, there are about 10,000 acres in private ownership...

Mr. Ady's plan for reclaiming the 15,000 acres along the railroad is for forming a corporation by placing all the land in one company. This company could easily dispose of bonds to the amount of $10 an acre...

According to Mr. Ady it is impracticable to reclaim these lands by the individual owners except that portion owned by two or three of the larger holders.

Mr. Ady believes that this work can be done very cheaply and at much less cost than was estimated by the reclamation service.

Where the government planned to irrigate the land by bringing water in ditches from the upper lake, Mr. Ady states that all of the land can be irrigated from the channel...

Armistice Ends Today; Hostilities Are Expected By Consul at Juarez depends upon the probable time to be set for the retirement of President Huerta. The rebels were assured that this is to retire, and that a new election will be called soon.

Ady is confident that the money can be secured to finance the project if the owners will form the company, and hopes to see work commenced within three or four months.

U. S. AFTER BUYERS

Weyerhaeuser, Hopkins and other large tracts bought from the Southern Pacific are affected

As the result of the decision in the Oregon and California land grant suit by Judge Wolverton, it has been announced that the government suits against the forty-five owners of timber land purchased from the railroad company, will be pressed to trial at once.

Among the forty-five who purchased land in amounts of 1,000 acres and more and against whom suits have been filed are: Ashland Manufacturing company, Booth Kelly Lumber company, Pokagona Sugar Pine Lumber company, Weyerhaeuser Land company, Albert C. Hopkins, Oshkosh Land and Timber company, and others whose lands are in Klamath county.

About 10,000 acres of the Hopkins tract is affected, and about the same amount belonging to the Weyerhaeuser, and between 12,000 and 15,000 belonging to the Oshkosh Land and Timber company.

There was some doubt about whether the government would prosecute the private cases before final adjudication of the main suit in the United States supreme court, but the understanding prevails now that such cases will be pressed. Judge Wolverton's decision is taken as sufficient confirmation of the government's position.

Most of the land was passed to its present owners more than ten years ago.
