JUAREZ CAPTURED AFTER BLOODY TWO-DAYS' FIGHT

REINFORCEMENTS ARRIVE IN TIME

NAVARRO CAPTURED

AFTER ONE OF THE FIERCEST FIGHTS OF THE CAMPAIGN, THE INSURRECTION AT JUAREZ ATTACK PROVED SUCCESSFUL.

United Press Service. EL PASO, Texas, May 10.—The rebels captured the city of Juarez shortly after 10 o'clock this morning. Three hundred reinforcements, with General Blanco commanding, arrived at 10 o'clock, and stormed the old church, the federal stronghold. General Garibaldi's men, with the American assistance, then stormed the jail, released the prisoners and then burned the building.

The insurgents' flag, the tricolor without the Mexican gray eagle, was flown from the water tank on the city hall and a flagstaff near by. This was the signal of the capture.

At 11 o'clock, half an hour after the capture, some firing was heard in Juarez, but it was believed to be persons who did not know the town had fallen.

The insurgents declared that Navarro with his whole command abandoned the city at 10:30, going toward Mesquite. General Blanco's advance was not fiercely resisted except in the desperate encounter at the church.

The rebels found two scores of federal soldiers on the church roof. The rebels were seen to be capturing the city.

The rebels are celebrating the victory by ringing bells and shouting.

The fighting was desultory last night, and there was no appreciable change in the situation. The final assault of the insurgents was planned this morning after the rebel wounded had been removed. Fifteen hundred rebels under Orozco at daylight began the assault, the federals retreating from the customs house and the municipal buildings, and from the bell ring, the cathedral, the jail and the barracks.

General Navarro's forces were plentifully supplied with ammunition, and his officers declared that they would be able to hold out for a week. Several mines were exploded in the streets, causing great damage to the rebels.

The postoffice, four business houses, the Mexican Central round house and many box cars were burned last night, as was also a part of the barracks.

be given $250 a month or $2,000 a year, the city to furnish his help; second, that he receive $500 a month and furnish his own help; third, that he receive a certain per cent of the cost of the improvement of any street for his work there.

The propositions caused a great deal of debate, especially after most of the council were in favor of paying a flat salary. Judge Leavitt then raised a point that was a puzzle, when he wanted to know how the salary could be paid out of the general fund when most of the work would be done on street improvement work. It would not be right, he said, to force the whole city to pay for the engineering work done for the benefit of the property owners on one street, when the engineer will be almost constantly employed.

Castel finally made a motion that the city engineer be placed on a salary of $250 monthly, the city to furnish his help, and to pay him from the different funds according to the character of the work in which he was employed.

County Judge Worden asked for permission to build a small extension to the rear of the court house, and this brought to the front again the fire limit matter. The permit was granted in the end.

There were several ordinances which were to have come up for third reading and final passage last night, but Police Judge Leavitt explained to the members of the council that owing to their being in the hands of the abstractors he was unable to get them in shape. On account of the short notice given him for the preparation of the city hall bond ordinance, the judge said he was unable to prepare it, as he wished to have it correct in every detail, and save the city from an injunction suit such as is now on at Medford. Judge Leavitt asked until the 15th to complete the ordinance, and the council adjourned till that time.

ITINERARIES FOR FLEET ANNOUNCED

PART WILL VISIT EUROPEAN PORTS, WHILE REMAINDER WILL CRUISE ALONG THE GULF AND UP THE MISSISSIPPI

UNITED PRESS SERVICE

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Itineraries for the two divisions of the battleship fleet which will cruise during May and June have been announced. One division will visit Europe, while another will go to the Gulf of Mexico, one vessel of which will go up the Mississippi river. The cruise to the gulf is in response to a demand from Southern states that they be given an opportunity to see what a modern battleship is like.

The second division of the Atlantic fleet, Louisiana, Kansas, New Hampshire and South Carolina, will go to Europe, arriving at Copenhagen, Denmark, May 25th. The warships will then visit Stockholm, Sweden; Revel, Russia, and Kiel, Germany, leaving the last-named port for the United States on June 30th.

The Minnesota, Vermont and Mississippi left Philadelphia for Pensacola May 1st. Thence they will go to Mobile and Galveston, returning by way of Pensacola in June. The warships will be at Provincetown for summer maneuvers in July.

The Idaho leaves Philadelphia on May 7th, and will spend a week at New Orleans. She will proceed up the river, stopping at Donaldville, Bayou Sara, Palmetto and Natchez. If the condition of the river warrants the Idaho will go from Natchez to Vicksburg for three days, probably arriving there May 25th.

Let us make this reception a grand one. Let every one come out. We expect to have our head and young boosters, two organizations we think a great deal of. We feel that no one is any better than the other, and that every one will be public spirited enough to close for at least two hours and go to the depot to help welcome this excursion. Respectfully, C. T. OLIVER, Secretary Commercial Club.
