

MERCHANTS LEFT THIS MORNING

BIG TIME ON LAKE

SUNDAY WAS A DAY OF REST AND REAL ENJOYMENT FOR THE MEMBERS OF THE SAN FRANCISCO BUSINESS MEN

Well, they came, they saw, and they left again.

At 1 o'clock this morning the special train of ten Pullmans, two diners and a baggage car, carrying the party of San Francisco business men left on its return to California, after a stop of nearly two days in this city.

Members of the excursion seemed to feel greatly impressed with Klamath Falls, and highly elated with the cordial treatment accorded them by the residents of the town, and they declare that they will not lose an opportunity to speak a good word for the town and county.

Saturday evening at the Iris theater a "Get Together" smoker was held, when excursionists and local business men met each other in an informal manner.

After the meeting was called to order by Secretary C. T. Oliver of the Klamath Chamber of Commerce the Military band rendered two well received selections, and Mayor Fred T. Sanderson, in a well worded speech, welcomed the merchants to the city.

In the talk of J. H. MacLafferty, business manager of the Pacific Coast Paper company, a suggestion was given that the county would do well to consider speaking of the Panama-Pacific exposition in 1915, he strongly urged Klamath Falls to be well represented, and stated that the county should have a fine building of its own in which to show off its resources.

Charles S. Fee took occasion to announce the beginning of extra train service for Klamath Falls, and the prolonged applause following proved that the speaker had won a home in the hearts of the Klamath Falls people.

Will G. Steel of the Crater Lake company and W. H. Hellemann of the reclamation service gave interesting lectures, the former on Crater Lake and Oregon scenery, the latter on the Klamath irrigation project.

At 8:15 Sunday morning the business men, with Mayor Sanderson, the city council and Chamber of Commerce officers, left the depot for Shipplington spur, where they left the train and boarded the steamer Klamath for a trip on the lake, and the Journey along this scenic body of water was declared by all to have been the most pleasant part of their trip.

Whatever opinion they may have formed of Klamath Falls and Klamath county, it is a certainty that the merchants will not forget to say a good word about Upper Klamath Lake, for never was the lake traversed by a more appreciative passenger list.

Ever since they started north the business men have been busy day and night, but yesterday was a complete day of rest. Secretary Oliver and other members of the party from Klamath Falls were kept busy answering questions about this or that particular point or island, and there was nothing visible that was not brought to their notice, from the work on the Klamath-Natron cutoff to the Harriman Lodge on Pelican Bay.

A more perfect day could not have been selected, and when the Klamath, after a journey over a calm sea, arrived at Eagle Ridge Tavern, the excursionists were wild with enthusiasm. Some tramped through the woods, some used up whole rolls of film snapping the scenes, others scraped up boats and went out on the lake, while still more sat on the cool veranda of the tavern and enjoyed the view afforded, but all took occasion, before leaving, to thank Mr. and Mrs. Griffith for the splendid dinner served them, to compliment them on the cozy rustic structure, so admirably located and fitted as a resort far from the hum of the world, and a great many promised to return again this summer to spend a week or more, providing they could induce their better halves to come north instead of going to the beach.

After lunch had been disposed of and the party had sauntered around the tavern, the boat left at 1 o'clock, an hour earlier than the time scheduled, in order to give the party an opportunity of seeing Rocky Point, the camp ground at the upper end of the lake. This spot looked so inviting that the party finally prevailed upon Secretary King to arrange for a stopover, so the party went ashore here for thirty minutes. "Just wait till vacation time arrives," said several, "and you will see us up this way with plenty of fishing tackle."

The return trip was made in fairly good time, considering the fact that the Klamath ran out of fuel oil, and the pipes had to be taken out so that wood could be burned. Arriving at Shipplington Spur the train brought all back to Klamath Falls, and the party dispersed, some to go to Merrill with Oliver, others to arrange for the reception given by the business men of the town. This affair, though quiet, was none the less enjoyable, and both townsmen and business men parted, feeling more closely related, and conscious of having formed an acquaintance that bids fair to be of mutual benefit to both.

F. C. Bamber has returned from Portland, where he went as a delegate to the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows. Fred says that he had a fine time and learned many things about Odd Fellowship which he will tell to the members of Klamath Lodge on Friday evening.

SUDDEN ATTACK CLAIMS LIFE OF A. S. BENNETT

Amos S. Bennett, a carpenter and boarding house man, died suddenly at Beuna Vista Landing in Shipplington Sunday evening, from an attack of heart failure. Mr. Bennett had been feeling under the weather for several days, but Sunday he rallied, and went out for a walk. He returned at 5 o'clock, and half an hour later he expired.

Bennett was forty-one years of age, and leaves a wife and two children, a boy and a girl. The remains were taken to the Willis undertaking parlors and the funeral will be held at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon.

J. D. Carroll returned Saturday evening from Lakeview.

A. N. Holman of Portland, who came in from Portland on last night's train, left this morning for Lakeview.

John B. Shook is in from Bonanza. He is at the Lakeside Inn.

H. S. EXCURSION ON WEDNESDAY

ARRANGEMENTS WERE COMPLETED THIS AFTERNOON FOR THE ANNUAL STEAMER TRIP ON THE UPPER LAKE

This afternoon the students of the high school having the annual excursion in charge made arrangements for the chartering of the steamer Winema for Wednesday, and that morning the students and faculty of the institution will leave for a cruise and picnic on Upper Klamath Lake. The exact points to be visited have not been decided upon yet.

This excursion was to have been held Friday, but owing to the inclement weather preceding that date it was decided best to postpone the trip.

PROSPECT FOR BALL TOURNEY

PORT KLAMATH, DORRIS AND POSSIBLY MERRILL AND KLAMATH STARS WILL ENTER FOR THE BIG EVENT

Prospects for a successful baseball tournament in Klamath Falls around Fourth of July were never better, according to Secretary Oliver, of the Chamber of Commerce, and he says that he is daily receiving inquiries. Dorris and Port Klamath have announced their intention of entering teams in the tourney, and if the history from the Chemawa Indian school is secured, as expected, the Klamath Stars will no doubt also be entered. Wood has a fast team this season, and may take a try for the money, and the same can be said of Merrill.

Such a tournament, if arranged, will take place in July, possibly beginning on the 1st and closing on the 4th, when the top notchers would be pitted against each other for the trophy. There are bound to be several teams who claim the championship of this neck of the woods, but in this way the question will be definitely settled.

MAN IS ARRESTED ON A HORSE STEALING CHARGE

Deputy Sheriff Pearson of Keno yesterday arrested Hugo Allbright upon instructions from Sheriff Barnes, charging Allbright with stealing a horse. The animal was used by Fritz Keith, who tends the headgates for the reclamation service at Shipplington, and was taken from Keith's stable Saturday night. As soon as he noticed its absence he communicated with the authorities.

HARRIMAN LODGE WAS PILLAGED LAST FRIDAY

For entering the Harriman Lodge on Pelican Bay and taking a shotgun, a number of boxes of shells, a gun scabbard and several cans of peas, O. H. Wagner and Otto Arlee were this afternoon bound over to await the action of the grand jury by Judge

Graves. The theft was committed Friday evening, and the men were brought here yesterday by C. D. Wilson of Rocky Point. All of the goods were found in their possession. Horace M. Manning appeared for the state and John Irwin for the defense.

RETURN FROM THE LAVA BEDS

GOELLER, SHOOK AND RUTENIC ARE HOME FROM THEIR TRIP TO THE SCENES OF THE BLOODY FIGHT OF '73

The party consisting of J. F. Goeller, John Shook and J. C. Rutenic, who left here two weeks ago for the lava beds, returned Saturday night in Mr. Goeller's launch. While they report severe weather and considerable hardship on that account, they are full of praise of the points of interest, historic and natural. They had with them for the first week Peter Schonchin, son of John Schonchin, second chief under Captain Jack in the Modoc war, Peter being one of the few surviving warriors who, from an Indian's point of view, so gallantly stood off the forces of regulars in the famous natural stronghold. Probably the most thrilling experience was to listen on the ground to his description of the defeat of Major Thomas' command, April 26, 1873. He showed on the ground where Thomas' command marched into an ambush, how they retreated over a broken ground for three-quarters of a mile, men straggling and running, herded like sheep by the Modocs interior in number, and where the remnant of about fifty men finally ran into a depression, hiding in the high sagebrush like rabbits, the Modocs firing indiscriminately at close range into the brush, killing or wounding nearly all. The Indian's sense of locality was wonderful to the city-bred whites, empty cartridge shells attesting to his correctness in location, though a fire had swept over the country in the thirty-eight years of the Modocs' absence, changing the appearance of things.

At one point he showed where a soldier, having made his escape from the last stand of the Thomas command, was shot down by an Indian in ambush, and after a short defense with his bayonet—designated as a gun-knife—was stabbed by a second Indian coming up. The correctness of this location was proved by Mr. Goeller finding a human thighbone near the point. The battlefield had become lost, and no residents of the district knew its location. Mr. Goeller intends to send down crosses to be erected, with proper inscriptions, for the benefit of future tourists, and Mr. Charles Merrill is going to see them erected at the proper locations. Besides these historic points, there are ice caves, craters and blowouts of striking interest. Brinker's Pharmacy, Main street, will have the relics on display.

EITHER WEED OR MERRILL SUNDAY

OLIVER IS TRYING HARD TO ARRANGE A GAME FOR HIS TEAM WITH ONE OF THE ABOVE FOR THE 20TH OF THIS MONTH

Manager Cale Oliver of the Klamath Falls baseball team is working hard to secure a game with the Merrill nine for Sunday. He says he will play the team either here or in Merrill. Merrill has an awfully clever bunch of ball tossers on the job this year, and they promise to give every team in the county a run for their money.

RUNAWAY GIRL FOR SALE FOR PRICE OF RAISING

LOS ANGELES, May 22.—Catherine Noley, 12, is for sale. Her mother, Mrs. Margaret Noley of Long Beach, says she will part with the girl for a consideration to any family of good standing who will adopt her.

Catherine recently ran away, and since then has been staying with Mrs. Herman Hurwitz of Los Angeles, to whom she appealed after a day of wandering. She refuses to go home. Mrs. Noley has written to Mrs. Hurwitz, offering to permit her to adopt the girl, provided she will buy her outright. No price was named, but the letter said it must be commensurate with the cost of raising a girl for thirteen years.

OREGON SOON TO HAVE A NEW WOMAN LAWYER

SALEM, May 22.—The graduating class finishing the Willamette University law course this year numbers among its members one woman, Mrs. Donald H. Upjohn. Mrs. Upjohn will take the bar examination with her class in June.

In delivering the charge to the class Judge Percy R. Kelley of the circuit court of this district, said he hoped soon to experience the sensation of being addressed in court by a female attorney. A woman lawyer was recently admitted at Fendleton.

Dr. V. D. Guittard and wife from the Agency are among today's guests at the Lakeside Inn.

"TERRIBLE 8TH" ON THE MARCH

FEDERAL REGIMENT IS LOSING NO TIME IN A HIKE ACROSS THE COUNTRY TO THE BEEZAP OF ENSENADA

United Press Service MEXICALI, May 22.—Colonel Myot's "Terrible Eighth" federal infantry is marching toward Ensenada, passing without bloodshed within hailing distance yesterday of the rebels in the Mexicali trenches. Mayot's force is marching rapidly, abandoning the women, children and camp followers who are unable to keep up. The rebels rescued some women and a three-days-old babe from the desert after the federals had passed.

LIBERALISTS ARE STILL AFTER MADERO

HE IS SLAVEHOLDER

MANIFESTO IS ISSUED DECLARING THE REBELS' SUCCESS WOULD NOT CHANGE THE EXISTING CONDITIONS

United Press Service LOS ANGELES, May 22.—Declaring that Madero is a member of the slave holding class, and asserting that his elevation to the presidency or change of cabinets would not mean anything for the people of Mexico, the Los Angeles junta has sent to the printers a draft of a manifesto signed by Magon, General Figueroa and others, declaring that the war will not end until the natural resources of Mexico have been restored to the people for free and equal use.

Magon said that the decision will affect all revolutionists in every state bordering on the Pacific ocean. The liberal army is equal to Madero's but it is believed that in the event of peace half of Madero's force will join the liberals. The manifesto appeals to socialists all over the world to lend their assistance.

SENIORS GIVE PLAY WEEK FROM TONIGHT

Madero Jr. Tells United Press What They Hope to Accomplish

JAUREZ, May 22.—What he and his associates hope to do for Mexico in the new era apparently opening for that country through the defeat of Diaz, why he will not, if he should gain the presidency, become a tyrant, and whether Mexican people are capable of a democratic government were discussed here today by Francisco Madero Jr. in a statement to the United Press.

By Francisco Madero Jr. (Copyright, 1911, by the United Press Association) I am sure we will not commit the faults of Diaz, because those belonging to our revolution are guided by the sentiments of the highest patriotism, and not by personal interest. Furthermore, the people of Mexico will never again endure a tyrant. Having suffered for over thirty years the dire consequences of being deprived of the privilege of exercising their political rights the people will not again permit themselves to be bereft of those rights. Your question whether I and my associates will be able to avoid Diaz' mistakes, whereby he was converted from a successful and patriotic revolutionist into a tyrant, will be better answered by public opinion than by me, because our honor and our patriotism can be better testified to by
