FIRST ATTRACTION FOR THE LYCEUM COURSE

Edward Vance Cooke will open the season for the Klamath Lyceum Bureau on Saturday evening, October 21, at Houston's opera house. Season tickets for the course are now on sale at the Star Drug store. Here is what T. J. Matthews says of Mr. Cooke in the Lyceumite and Talent:

"Edmund Vance Cooke, the poet, gave two delightful entertainments, and easily established himself as a favorite. Had he not done so it would have been a great disappointment, as we had featured him strongly in our advertising. We did this because he furnished the stuff to do it with; and its quality and variety were a revelation to us, to say nothing of the unique and valuable suggestions made by letter. Had we received the same assistance all the way around we would have inaugurated an advertising campaign that would have astonished the natives."

"As it was, we did pretty well, and as a result of this advertising, one of Mr. Cooke's days was the second largest of the Chautauqua—the largest being Fourth of July. Outside of the Fourth and the two Sundays, Mr. Cooke had the two largest days. There were other fine attractions on both these days, but as our advertising campaign was mainly on Cooke we must attribute much of our success to his help. We are enlarging on this solely in the hope that talent will generally take notice and awake to the importance of furnishing managers with plenty of advertising help and suggestions. The bureau that only furnishes talent, and the talent that only furnishes entertainment, have not given the full value of their fees—they should furnish a little for the advertising man."

SPEECH AT BURNS WAS SURELY A GREAT HIT

MERCANTILE MAN OF LAKEVIEW FORMER HEAD OF ITS COMMERCIAL CLUB, ADDRESSES DEVELOPMENT MEETING

Special to The Herald

LAKEVIEW, Oct. 12.—Returning visitors from Lakeview report that the best speech made at the Burns convention, from a humorous standpoint, was delivered by V. L. Snelling, head of the large mercantile store here, and formerly secretary of the Lakeview Board of Trade.

Mr. Snelling made the hit of the occasion, and his puns were received with much relish by those assembled at the banquet.

"Vint" is one of the "live wires" of Lake county, and always ready to handle any subject with or without gloves. His efforts are generally appreciated to the utmost.

SEWER MATTERS COME BEFORE CITY COUNCIL

Phipps & Simpson having completed their work of laying sewer pipe in Klamath Falls, the city has released the bond furnished for the contractors by the United States Fidelity company of Baltimore, Md., of which J. W. Ross is the local agent.

City Attorney E. L. Elliott does not relish having to take up ordinances drafted by somebody else and tinker with them so that they will be in shape for the council. He so expressed himself last night at the council meeting. The ancient and honorable ordinance for the bitulithic paving around the White Pelican hotel, which is a constant visitor at council meetings, came up once more, and the probable cost of the work was not estimated in the document.

Councilman G. W. White moved to refer to the city attorney. "I prefer not to butt in on that after someone else," said Mr. Elliott.

"This thing of taking hold of somebody else's productions, and then having to work both ways is not what it is cracked up to be."

It is probable that James Force of the Strange-Maguire company, will see that the city advisors are furnished with an amended ordinance.

A contract was received from the government making terms for the city to lay a vitrified pipe sewer on Esplanade street where it crosses the main canal, and was filed. The work, according to Uncle Sam, must be done between October 15 and April 15, when the irrigation water is all out of the canal.

A letter from J. W. Metcalf, superintendent of the Shasta division of the Southern Pacific at Dunsmuir to City Engineer Don J. Zumwalt, was read. It said that the city's proposition to put a sewer beneath the company's right of way at a depth of fifteen feet was satisfactory, and the railroad is preparing the necessary signatures of its officers for consent.

NOT BUILDING BY THE PERMIT TAKEN

COUNCILMAN CRISLER SAYS THE KIAMATH HOUSE IS WHOLLY FRAME, INSTEAD OF STONE AND CEMENT

When building permits were called up in council last night Councilman C. B. Crisler said that the Klamath House had, according to his recollection, asked for a permit to build a structure with a stone and cement front, and that it is putting up a frame building.

"There is not a particle of fireproof material in it," declared he. It was suggested that if this was the true state of things the builder ought to be made to take down the building, but one councilman doubted whether this could be done. No action was taken, and the matter may be given attention later.

Building permits were allowed as follows:

L. M. Turton of Napa, Calif., by H. N. Woods, builder, 6-room wooden cottage, lot 14, block 41. High school addition, concrete foundation, brick chimneys from ground up. Cost $2,000.

Brier & Anderson, 10x12 addition to small house, lot 7, block 62. Nichols addition, frame, with shingle roof. Also tool house 8x12 on lot 6, block 29. Klamath addition, frame, with board roof. Cost not given.

MEYER IS APPLICANT FOR SEWER INSPECTOR

City council last night received an application from E. C. Meyer for the position of sewer inspector on the fourth sewer unit, the contract for which has not yet been let by the city.

Accompanying the application was a recommendation of Mr. Meyer from City Engineer Don J. Zumwalt, for whom Mr. Meyer has done considerable work in connection with city contracts. The application was filed.

The application of Will S. Willson to be made a regular policeman was also received and filed.
