

PRIZE WINNERS AT COUNTY FAIR

PREMIUMS AWARDED ON FRUIT AT RECENT AGRICULTURAL EVENT—SEASON SHORT, COLD AND BACKWARD FOR PRODUCT

The following is a list of premiums awarded on fruit at the late Kinnath County Fair, as near as I can now ascertain, as no record was made at the time and many tags removed or misplaced:

- Apples—
R. W. Tower, first prize for Alexander, Gano, Iowa Blush, Yellow Bell-sower, Wealthy, Stayman's Winesap, McIntosh Red and Peter. Second prize for Jonathan and Winter Banana.
F. L. Armstrong, first prize for Klamath Pippin, Gloria Mundi, Jonathan, Lawyer, White Winter Pear-maine, Snow, Wimmer's Desert, Rome Beauty, Bismark. Second prize for Strawberry Pippin and Wolf River.
Ross Sutton, first prize for Ben Davis, Minnesota Pippin.
R. M. Richardson, first prize for Strawberry Pippin.
J. F. Goeller, first prize for Graven-stela.
Mrs. J. T. Henley, first prize for Twenty-ounce Pippin.
Mrs. J. W. McCoy, first prize for Wolf River.
J. Hurley, first prize for Yellow Transparent.
W. W. Mendenhall, second prize for Ben Davis.
Plums and Prunes—
F. L. Armstrong, first prize for Bartlett, Pomegranate, Bradshaw, Maynard, Prune Plum, Pacific Prune, Giant Prune and Silver Prune.
Chas. Koster, first prize for Wild Plum and Wild Plum preserve.
O. A. Stearns, first prize for Italian Prune.
J. Hurley, first prize for Egg Plum. Second prizes were awarded to F. D. Fryor for Bartlett; Ross Sutton for Maynard, and W. W. Mendenhall for Italian Prune.
Peaches—
F. L. Armstrong, first prize for Flenish Beauty and Clapps Favorite, and second for Bartlett.
J. F. Goeller, first prize for Bartlett.
Plums—
Mrs. J. W. McCoy, first prize for Late Crawford.
F. L. Armstrong, first prize for Holderbaum.

- J. Hurley, first prize for peach with no name.
Nectarines—
F. L. Armstrong, first prize for White Nectarine.
H. Newnam, first prize for nectarine with no name.
R. M. Richardson, second prize for nectarine with no name.
Crab Apples—
F. L. Armstrong, first prize for Siberian (yellow).
R. M. Richardson, first prize for Siberian (red).
W. W. Mendenhall, first prize for Transcendent.
Quinces—
J. F. Goeller, first prize for quince with no name.
F. L. Armstrong, second prize for quince with no name.
Grapes—
F. L. Armstrong, first prize for Black Nectar.
F. L. Armstrong, first prize for Wyoming Red.
F. L. Armstrong, first prize for Brownville Niagara.
Vine Lemons—
J. Hurley, first prize for Vine Lemon. There were two plates of apples not named, by F. D. Fryor of Brownell, which were awarded first prizes each, although many others of inferior quality and unnamed were not recognized.
It must be remembered that the usual season for fall and winter fruit comes at least one month later than the date of the fair; also that this is an off year for fruit, the season being short, cold and backward, so that there is at least from 30 to 40 per cent difference in the size of fruit of that of ordinary years, this season's fruit being fully that much smaller than usual when fully grown.
At the time of holding the fair all late varieties were not more than two-thirds grown.
Awards for Collections of Fruit—
F. L. Armstrong first best collection of apples.
R. W. Tower, second best collection of apples.
W. W. Mendenhall, third best collection of apples.
F. L. Armstrong, first best collection of fruits.
W. W. Mendenhall, second best collection of fruits.
Ross Sutton, third best collection of fruits.
Respectfully submitted,
O. A. STEARNS.

ELKS' BLOWOUT NOGELY ENJOYED

all else failed he would have enough left to join the Elks. The speaker told of a desirable feature of being a lodge man.
"While I am not fortunate enough to be a member of your order, I am a lodge man so far as other organiza-tions are concerned, and I guess ev-eryone here is a lodge man," said he. "I have often thought that if we but lived up to the tenets of our orders how much better the world would be. This is no slur at anyone, for I say that if any single one of us were to do it at all times it would be a grand accomplishment."
"Often we see a man, maybe, come into a business house or bank with a button on his coat denoting that he belongs to a lodge. He may be in-cluded to feel his importance of this fact, and swell up some just because he is a member of the order. That fact may not be exactly to our liking, but a good order is something to jus-tify a man in feeling some pride that he is permitted to partake of its priv-ileges and benefits. The fact that he wears a button shows that some-where, some time and some place that man has been very well thought of by his neighbors and fellows."
"It may be that you or I may not like him or feel unpleasantly toward him for some cause or other, but never-theless the button is a testimonial that he was well thought of by a num-ber of people. If he had not been he could not have got behind that button. If I had a million, I'd be able to sit around and watch to see how Brother E. L. Elliott is going to straighten out this Chronicle business." (Laughter.)
D. B. Campbell related some of his interesting experiences when traveling among the Maoris in New Zealand some years since, and Colonel M. G. Wilkins made a happy talk, in which he included a presentation to the lodge of a handsome vase of flowers on behalf of Mrs. L. H. Bath, whose husband is a member of the order. He said that the gift typified many fea-tures of B. P. O. E. life, union prom-inent among them, as the flowers were banded together as the members were.
An unexpected interruption to the speech making was the arrest of David Kenyon on the order of the ex-alted ruler, Harry B. Galarneau and Earl Whitlock apprehending the of-fender and escorting him to the front of the hall. As fines had been the order of the evening Kenyon was led up to the tray where the deposits had been made by various contributors he reached for his purse prepared to thanks for the present, at the same time expressing his intention of continuing to work for the good of the order as hard as can be in the future.

Among the informal speakers of the evening were Hunter Savidge, W. H. Dolbeer, W. I. Clarke, George C. Clark, W. V. Plum, Fred Melhase and others, some of whom had to be pinned under arrest by Guy Merrill in order to induce them to produce a tale of an entertaining nature.
Success of last night's frolic was largely due to the house committee, Chas. J. Ferguson, H. P. Galarneau and C. H. Daggett, and the invitation committee, W. H. Dolbeer, M. G. Wilkins and Leslie Rogers, not to overlook Exalted Ruler E. B. Hall and others whose services were voluntary, but none the less valuable, in bringing the plans for the evening to a successful termination.
