Successful Men are Men of Action

They lay out a plan and then work toward that end everlastingly. Without an object—a goal for which to strive, one's life can easily be frittered away on mere trifles—things that amuse for the moment but bring no lasting rewards. Theodore Roosevelt, when president of the United States, foresaw the effects of this tendency when he said, "The home is the backbone of our nation."

It takes backbone, though, to start, but the man who succeeds these days must have backbone. Better stop and think, and if you have not yet made a start towards a home come in and let us tell you something about the cost of a home suited to your needs, and explain how you can possibly arrange to get started today. You'll find it the best investment you ever made.

RUBBISH AT THE POSTOFFICE

ONE OF THE difficulties that Postmaster Clyde Brandenburg has to contend with is the untidy inclinations of some of Uncle Sam's customers. They not only litter the postoffice counter and floor with castoff envelopes and wrappers taken from matter that is carried in mail classes lower than the first, but they often throw away the newspapers, circulars and other discarded matter into the street in front of the postoffice.

This makes it rather difficult for the postoffice force to keep the mail station and premises as neat as they would like to have them, and it has been suggested that the city have some waste cans along the street, which would give less cause for people to litter up public premises with their castoff paper.

In all probability there is an ordinance against putting rubbish on the street, which the city could enforce against every offender in this direction, but even if there were not, no person has a right to decorate any premises but his own with such litter.

The mere fact that Uncle Sam is paternally inclined toward everybody is hardly justification for people to rub it into him, and good nature has its limits. If the persons who are so thoughtless as to deposit waste on the floor of the postoffice and on the street and sidewalk in front of it would give a little more heed to common decency and be just a slight degree more respectful of the rights of their neighbors, it would mean a whole lot to the public.

Each fellow citizen (or citizeness) should pack off his own useless mail or wrappers and put it where such stuff properly belongs, in a waste box, stove or basket, until the city provides a public receptacle for such useless material. It would not mean much labor to individuals to look after their own rubbish, and just a little personal effort in this direction would mean a great accomplishment taken in the aggregate.

SOCIALISM IN ITALY

ANNOUNCEMENT has been made at Rome by Premier Giolitti that immediately upon the assembling of parliament early in November the first measure to be taken up will be his bill creating a government monopoly on the life insurance business out of the profits of which the government will establish an old age pension system. The bill was introduced last spring, but went over until this fall for passage, and according to Premier Giolitti will now be given precedence over all pending legislation.

Aside from being one of the strongest socialist measures that the government has yet undertaken to pass, the bill is unusually drastic in that it wipes out of Italy all the foreign insurance companies without giving them any compensation for the loss they will sustain. American companies will be especially hard hit, should this bill pass, for in addition to the large amount of business done by them in Italy, they also have vast sums of money invested there.

There is every indication that the bill will be bitterly fought, but Premier Giolitti will have the support, nevertheless, of all the extreme parties, the radicals, the socialists and republicans, all of whom are well represented in the Italian parliament.

"FELLOW CITIZENS" IS HER SPEECH FORM

PRESIDENT OF CALIFORNIA W. C. T. U. GREET'S MEMBERS, NOT ONLY AS SISTERS AND CO-LABORERS, BUT AS VOTERS

United Press Service
 STOCKTON, Calif., Oct. 16.—"Fellow citizens," began Mrs. Sarah J. Dorr of Los Angeles, in an address here before the members of the state W. C. T. U., of which she is president. "I greet you today, not only as co-laborers and beloved sisters, but as fellow citizens; yes, real, voting, fellow sisters of a great commonwealth. Right has triumphed. The California women are free. Yes, free, and with the right to have a part in forming the government of the grandest state of all Uncle Sam's domain."

MINERS WILL ATTEND SAFETY DEMONSTRATION

GREATEST GATHERING OF MINERS EXPECTED TO ATTEND A MEETING IN PITTSBURG SOON —PRESIDENT TAFT GOING

United Press Service
 WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 16.—When President Taft visits Pittsburgh October 31st he will find the greatest gathering of miners ever assembled in this country. Thirty thousand or more are expected to attend the national mine safety demonstration, under the auspices of the United States Bureau of Mines, the American Red Cross and the Pittsburgh Coal Operators Association. Francis Feehan, president of the United Mine Workers for the Pittsburgh district, recently requested the Pittsburgh operators to declare October 31st a holiday in the mines of this district, so that all of the miners might attend and witness the demonstrations, and this has been agreed to.

It is believed that this movement will spread all over the state and into West Virginia, Virginia, Ohio, Illinois and Indiana. Other states farther away will send big delegations of miners, many of them accompanying their first-aid-to-the-injured teams, which are to compete for honors before the president of the United States and other distinguished guests.

The mine safety demonstration begins October 30th, but the big event for the miners will be on October 31. Throughout the country the miners are now holding preliminary meets to determine which teams will represent them in this humanitarian tournament, and much rivalry is being manifested. The first aid teams at the mines are really hospital corps, and are often as skilled as surgeons in giving emergency treatment and in the proper bandaging of wounds and splinting of fractures. Much skill, speed and clear-headedness are required in administering first aid to a miner injured a mile or more underground, and in bringing him to the surface. All these teams have been practicing for weeks in the hopes that they may bring the honors to their mines.

Already more than half a hundred teams from as many mines throughout the country have entered the life-saving exhibition, one team signifying its willingness to come all the way from Roslyn, Wash., to show its skill.

PICKET STRIKE JUST AVOIDED

WATCHERS OF SHOPS WHERE WALKOUTS TOOK PLACE DEMAND QUICKER ACTION ON BALL SCORES, AND GET IT

United Press Service
 PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 16.—Almost a strike was caused by pickets of the Los Angeles striking shopmen over the Portland-Vernon ball series. The "incipient" strike of the strikers was occasioned by the pickets stationed at the Albina and Brooklyn shops, who made a demand for quicker action on the baseball scores.

The news of Portland's second victory over the Tigers did not reach the pickets until two hours after the game was over, so they demanded that the results be phoned to them hereafter immediately after the close of the games. This was agreed to by the committee, and the strike was avoided.
