GIANTS GET GAME FROM CONNIE MACK

PHILLIES LOST ONE

ONLY PAIR CROWD AWAITED CONTEST BETWEEN FAMOUS TEAMS—THE SERIES FAVORS MACK'S MEN BY ONE GAME

United Press Service

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The Giants took the fifth game today in the world's championship series with the Philadelphia Athletics, Connie Mack's famous ball playing aggregation.

The series now stands, Athletics 3, Giants 2 games, in best four out of 7. Only a fair crowd awaited the opening of the bleachers, and early prospects were against the crowd being a record breaker.

The fact that the series stood 3 to 1 so far, the Phillies being far in the lead, seemed to put a damper on public enthusiasm.

The result of the game today will make the remaining two games of the series have more interest to the fans as it will make the contest less one-sided.

The lineup was unchanged today, while Coomb and Lapp for the Athletics, and Marquard and Meyer for the Giants were the batteries.

Umpires—Klem behind bat, Dineen on bases, Connolly in left field and Brennan in right field.

In the Klamath Development company's office building at Main and Broad streets a private branch telephone is being installed by Manager L. R. Robertson of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company's Klamath Falls office.

The branch will have about a dozen connections with various departments of the development company.

W. B. Baldwin, wife and family, and Earl Dowling arrived here last evening from Fowler, Colo., and expect to make Klamath county their future home. They have reviewed the country from Portland down, stopping at Salem, Albany and Medford, but Mr. Baldwin says Klamath county looks good to him. They are at the Oak street rooming house.

NO JURORS WITH OPINIONS TO SET

JUDGE BORDWELL, IN McNAMARA CASE, SAYS ANY DOUBT OF FAIRNESS WILL BE GIVEN TO THE DEFENSE

United Press Service LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25.—That no juror may be qualified to try John McNamara more because he says he is willing to lay aside his preconceived opinion was made clear today by Judge Bordwell, who said that where there was the slightest doubt of ability to be fair he would give the defense the benefit, and excuse the juror.

This expression was in connection with his action in excusing F. J. Mullen after a challenge by the defense.

Mullen said he believed McNamara guilty, but would try to lay aside the belief. Today attorneys are examining Albert Dunlap, a farmer, who admitted that he believed dynamite destroyed the Times building.

Lieutenant Governor Theodore G. Bilbo of Mississippi and J. G. Napier of Poplarville, Miss., the latter a brother of Attorney John H. Napier of the firm of Mills & Napier, who have been visiting the city for some time, left this morning for their southern home.

The three men were formerly in law practice as a firm in Poplarville, but are now separately engaged. Memo. Bilbo and J. G. Napier came here to give their depositions in the suit for divorce brought by John H. Napier against his wife. The visitors were a considerable part of their time the guest of B. St. George Bishop at his country place, the Cedars, forty miles up Upper Klamath Lake.

MILITARY MEET AT COURT HOUSE

INFORMAL GATHERING TONIGHT FOR BENEFIT OF ALL WHO MAY BE INTERESTED IN FORMATION OF GUARDS HERE

Tonight at 8 o'clock at the court house will be held an informal public meeting for the benefit of all those who are interested in the proposition to establish a branch of the state militia in this city. The petition circulated by Dr. W. C. Hunt toward having a company of guardsmen established in this city has been liberally signed, and the success of the movement seems to be in no doubt. The meeting tonight will be for the purpose of giving anyone who wishes information in regard to the duties and privileges of the militia, and what qualifications are necessary to eligibility.

Among those who have signed the petition are Captain J. C. Rutens, the attorney, who is understood to have seen service in the military, and Archibald Y. Tindall, of the composition department of the Herald, who was formerly in the United States army. Assistant District Attorney Charles J. Ferguson is an old militia man, and can give points on the work.

AFTER COOKE FOR ANOTHER TRIAL

LYCEUM WILL TRY TO GET THE HUMORIST FOR DATE THAT WAS SLEPPED UP ON, BUT MAY HAVE SUBSTITUTE

Edmund Vance Cooke, the humorist-lecturer who was to have lectured Saturday night in the opening of the Lyceum course, but whose train was delayed, got here along toward midnight, and when met by Secretary E. L. Elliott and others of the local organization expressed his regret that the Houston opera house had not been secured for Sunday afternoon or evening.

It would have been impossible to get the opera house for Sunday evening and the difficulty of getting a Sunday afternoon crowd would have probably caused the Klamath Falls organizers to balk.

An unsuccessful attempt was made to get into communication with Medford, where he was to appear Monday night, to take Tuesday instead—it being an unfilled date—and let Mr. Cooke entertain here that evening. While the opera house was taken that evening, some other hall could probably have been secured.

The Lyceum has written to the Britt Lyceum bureau, which is furnishing the course, to furnish Cooke for another date later. If this cannot be done probably some other attraction will be offered instead.

Mr. Cooke was naturally disappointed in not filling his date here, as he suffers quite a loss by not earning a lecture fee on that night. On Sunday he was given a ride about the city, and was much pleased with his local reception.

SECOND AUTOPSY ON BODY FAILS OF CLUE TO CYANIDE

United Press Service BOSTON, Oct. 25.—The second autopsy of Avis Linnell's body was performed today.

A search of her bathrobe failed to disclose a vial or paper containing cyanide.

This was the third time the corpse has been examined.

The first was the autopsy performed after finding the body in the bathroom and the second was last midnight, when the coffin was opened.

BUILDING STARTS ON NEW DEPOT

SOUTHERN PACIFIC HAS CREW BUSY AND ESTABLISHMENT OF NEW CAMP INDICATES WINTER WORK ON CONSTRUCTION

Special to The Herald CHILOQUIN, Oct. 25.—A crew of Southern Pacific men began work on Monday on the foundation for the new depot. The building is to be a combination passenger and freight depot, and will be two stories.

The water tank has been completed, and men are now finishing the laying of pipe to carry the water from the river to the tank. The engine and pump are already here, and will be installed soon.

It is reported here that as soon as the water tank is ready for use that the work train will make their stop at Chilquin, instead of having to run into Klamath Falls every night.

Another railroad camp is being established two miles beyond the old camps. The new camp will be twelve miles north of Chilquin. This would indicate that work is to continue this winter on the extension of the line.

County Commissioner C. Guy Merrill is on a trip to Fresno, Calif.

Mr. Van Court spoke on writing in the grades, and Miss Jennie Cameron of the Milton Bradley company gave a talk on drawing. ATTORNEY BEING BETTER, GONE EAST TO LOCATE

Attorney C. E. Deming, a graduate of the University of Kansas, who located here in the early summer, and had an office over the Klamath County bank, has decided to go to Kansas and engage in the practice of his profession there.

Mr. Deming, shortly after coming to Klamath Falls, had the misfortune to suffer a severe attack of typhoid fever, from which he has practically recovered. He will probably locate at Manhattan, Kans. His law library has been purchased by W. H. Shaw, the assistant city attorney.

SOME FINE WHEAT FROM POE VALLEY

JOHN VAN METER, A PIONEER GRANGER GROWS CROP WHICH YIELDS FORTY BUSHELS TO ACRE WHEN HARVESTED

John Van Meter of Poe Valley, an old time resident in this neighborhood, believes he is entitled to the championship as a wheat grower in this section of the country. Mr. Van Meter has just harvested a crop of wheat on his place which ran forty bushels to the acre, and weighed 136 pounds to the sack.

If there is any rancher in the Klamath Basin who can beat this record Mr. Van Meter would be glad to know about it. He brought in a load of it Tuesday, and disposed of it to Martin Brothers, at the Klamath Falls Roller Mills.

I. D. Applegate has returned from a visit to Ashland, and left this morning for the lava beds to look after his sheep business.

CITIZENS SHOVELING

DIRT AND ROCK AT POE KLANATH IN ORDER TO GET ROADS IN BETTER SHAPE FOR HANDLING LARGE TRAFFIC

County Judge Will B. Worden is today at Fort Klamath, where he found the spirit of the people decidedly in favor of good roads, so much so that twenty volunteers with teams were working to the end of improving the highways in the town.

Since August 1st the county has had an outfit working on the road leading into Fort Klamath, and the last 5 1/2 miles going to the town has been made into a permanent road of good character.

In grading and making the road a lot of pumice stone was dug up, and this was hauled into Fort Klamath town and distributed on streets which needed filling in spots. As fast as a load was dumped near the desired spot the workers followed and leveled the highway with it.

The people at Fort Klamath are so anxious for good roads that they did not wait for some one to do the work for them, but tackled the business ends of shovels and other implements, and gave the work a practical impetus.

NO SCHLEY DEATH MASK, AS WIDOW OPPOSED IT

Admiral's Son and Sister Approved Measures to Preserve Features for Statue Use, But Mrs. Schley Objected to Idea.

Special Press Service WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 25.—A national movement to erect a statue of the late Rear Admiral Winfield Scott Schley is already talked of, and it has now developed that because of objections of the widow, no death mask of the admiral's face was made.

This is regretted by artists and the friends of the late admiral, as the making of a death mask would have insured an exact and true reproduction of the admiral's head and features in any statue cast from it.

Soon after the arrival of the body in Washington from New York last week a naval officer in Washington suggested to Dr. Winfield Schley, son of the admiral, that a death mask be made. The admiral's son approved of the suggestion, and so did his sister.

The consent of Mrs. Schley, the widow, was secured, and preparations began for making the mask.

Mrs. Schley changed her mind, however, before the preparations were complete. Her wishes were respected.

Will Brotherton was in the city yesterday from his Poe Valley place, bringing in a load of grain. Mr. Brotherton is highly pleased with the result of this year's work, having averaged 22 1/2 bushels of wheat to the acre.

Disastrous Fire At New Pine Creek Burns Many Buildings, Fifty Horses

LAKENVUE, Oct. 25.—A large portion of the business section of New Pine Creek, Ore., together with fifty horses in McNab's stables, was consumed by fire Sunday night. The loss is fully $50,000, with small insurance.

Among the buildings burned were Dan Boone's store, Mrs. Hammarley's shop, Vineyard's blacksmith shop, Henry West's photographic gallery, a harness shop and a meat shop.

The Lake hotel caught fire, but was saved.

several times. The Warner Valley Mercantile company lost horses and freight, Walter Nygwanger of Lakeview, lost freight and some horses.

There were several thrilling experiences during the fire. New Pine Creek is south of here, almost on the California border. The N.-C.-O. extension, recently reached it from Reno, Nev.

Arthur Livermore and L. M. McFadden are on a trip to San Francisco, whence they went to arrange for fixtures for the new barroom of the Livermore hotel when that business is transferred to the Withrow-Melrose building, at Fourth and Main streets.

Sheep Sales Made And Market Showing Decided Life In Lake

Special to The Herald LAKENVUE, Oct. 25.—A large number of sheep have changed hands here during the past few days.

Among the sales made to outside buyers are the following:

Charles Sherlock to Louis Gerber, 2,000 wethers at $2.40, for delivery at Tule Lake; Charles Sherlock to Herbert George, 2,000 lambs at $1.50 for delivery at Davis Creek. The latter were lava bed stock, and extra early, and being among the finest in the country they brought the top price.

James Morin sold 800 2-year-old wethers at $2.25 to Swanston & Son, for delivery at Davis Creek, while O. T. McKendree purchased another bunch of 600 lambs from Turner at Merrill, for delivery there, at $2.

McKendree also got 500 2-year-old wethers from Sol Chandler at $2, and Dan Chandler sold Louis Gerber 600 lambs at $2.20. Luke Mann disposed of 300 wethers to Louis Gerber, for which he received $1, the latter being mixed one and two year old stock.

The market seems to be improving, with more sales being made.

O. T. McKendree has taken a team of men to get the 5,000 lambs he bought of Dave Miller, which are to be fed at Merrill.
