BIGGER PRESERVE WANTED FOR DEER

IS NOW INEFFECTIVE

SUPERINTENDENT W. F. ARANT OF CRATER LAKE NATIONAL PARK EXPLAINS HOW THEY ARE EARLY PREY IN THE FALL.

If recommendations made by W. F. Arant, superintendent of Crater Lake national park, to Secretary of the Interior Walter Fisher are adopted the size of the park will be increased to three times its present dimensions for the particular purpose of protecting deer and making for the game a preserve which will better serve to protect them than the territory now set apart.

As it is now, Mr. Arant explains, the deer roam through the park territory in the summer unmolested, and when the storms start in the fall and begin filling the park with as much as twenty feet of snow in places, the deer cannot live there, so they seek the low ground, which is outside the preserve, and their tameness makes them easy prey to the hunter's rifle.

"I have been deeply interested in this matter for some time, and for more than a year have been anxious to have something done, if possible, to save the deer," said Mr. Arant. "Just now I am more persuaded than ever that it would be a desirable move. I stated in my report, in substance, that it is hardly fair to the deer for the government to act practically as an agency for furnishing game to the line where the hunter awaits him, and in addition to that put him there in such a tame condition that he does not understand that he should be wary of the hunter."

"There is no blame attached to the hunters. They have a right to kill the deer when the open season comes, and it is the most natural thing in the world for them to act under the law of the season. They are not game hogs, but gentlemen, and no proper complaint can be made of their conduct. The places where the deer come out are well known. A man familiar with the territory and their habits knows the places where they cross, and the hunters are comparatively sure of just where to lie in wait, outside the park, for the animals to pass. They have all gone out now, for there have been some storms up there already, although the results have all gone, and the past week has been just like it here in Klamath Falls. But I venture to say there is not one deer within ten miles of our place up there today, where in the summer there are probably 1,000 of them roaming the park.

"As an illustration of how tame the deer are after being protected all summer in the park, I can relate an incident. Some men who were working for me were camping near the edge of the park, and as it was after the storms had begun and there was three or four inches of snow on the ground, they had a tent erected, and happened to be sitting in it. While seated there three fine buck deer passed deliberately along in front of their tent and wended their way on down. Those men could have followed them and shot them if they had wanted to, but they had no desire to take them.

"Now it would be no surprise for those same three animals to go on out to the unprotected territory and pass some other tent, with the result that they would immediately fall victims to the hunter's rifle."

The park now embraces 249 square miles, being 13 1/2 miles across east and west and 18 1/2 miles distant from the north to the south line. Mr. Arant suggests that the protected area be increased by taking a strip about nine miles north and eighteen miles to the west, and thus triple the size of the present park and include an area to the west, north of Rogue River, on the head of the Umpqua and Elk creeks. This territory, in Mr. Arant's opinion, is the greatest natural wintering ground of the deer on the Pacific coast.

Also included would be Diamond Lake and Antelope Valley, the latter being said to be the only territory containing antelope in their natural state in the country.

Mr. Arant is now making the annual preparations for closing up everything at the park for the winter. Floors of bridges over deep canyons are taken up. Some of these bridges are 100 feet long. It is necessary to remove the flooring to preserve it, as twenty feet of snow, or a rush of water from some thaw when the weather breaks would destroy the structures in short order. It is probable that Mr. Arant, who aims to be the last to leave, will come out in about two weeks, and remain until the spring weather makes it feasible to return and open up quarters preparatory to the park season.

DEVELOP CHURCH INDEPENDENTLY

REV. DR. COLLINS WHO WILL PRESIDE AT EPISCOPAL SERVICES TOMORROW GIVES OUTLINE OF LOCAL SITUATION

Rev. Dr. Henry C. Collins, who has come to this city from Ventura, Calif., to conduct services for the congregation of Grace Episcopal church, and who will hold the same tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock in the Houston opera house, has furnished to the Herald a summary of the situation here, as he looks at it, which is as follows:

"In taking up the work of the Episcopal church in Klamath Falls it is not the desire to draft upon the church in the other folds, but the purpose is to enlist in the Lord's service those who have hitherto taken no active interest in the cause of religion and those now unattached.

"The material development of this wonderful country, which is so blessed by the Creator's bounty, is a part of His purpose, but equally so, and of even more importance, is the development of the religious and moral forces of the community, for the future greatness will depend on whether or no these material and spiritual forces go hand in hand, the one guided and restrained, it may be, by the other. It is true that 'righteousness exalteth a nation,' and it is our purpose to assist in this part of the development of Klamath.

"There are many public spirited, loyal, generous and unselfish men, who are foremost in their endeavor to develop the material affairs who have not as yet taken their place in that which makes for the higher and better, more enlightened citizenship and public service, men who are the very best and have the most power for influencing the life of the community in the religious sphere. It is to these we appeal, asking them to take up their part and shoulder the burden that belongs to them as men and citizens.

"We welcome the support of all. The courts of our place of worship are open and free to all men. Come freely and join with us in our worship of Him upon whose bounty we live, move and have our being.

"To the other folds of our Lord and Master, we extend fraternal greeting, asking their fellowship and co-operation in the Lord's cause. As there is but one body and one spirit, one hope of our calling, one Lord, one faith, one baptism, we may be of one heart and mind, bound together in fellowship and love, looking for the consummation intended by our Lord, 'one flock under one Shepherd,' now ardently desired by all branches of His church."

MORE COMEDY WORK RENDERED

AMUSING PRODUCTION OF JOSEPH DETRICK AND ASSOCIATES AT OPERA HOUSE GRATIFIES A GOOD SIZED AUDIENCE

An amusing comedy, "The Man of Her Choice," with Joseph Detrick in the principal laugh-producing character, was given at Houston's opera house last night to an audience whose risibles were worked overtime in responding to the ludicrous situations which came about through the loss of the false teeth of a young man who was already enough distressed at having to wear such a convenience.

The three acts furnished all the amusement a reasonable person could ask for, and the performance, which was a decided success, will be repeated tonight with subordinate roles again in the hands of such capable people as Floyd Menzel, J. G. Harper, Leslie Glenn, Olive Mordoff, Reva Raymond and Lois Bolton.

SILVER LAKE IS LINKED BY ROAD

COUNTY HIGHWAY FINISHED TO UPPER LINE OF COUNTY AND LARGE AMOUNT OF DISTANCE IS CUT OUT

D. E. Burrell of Fort Rock who has charge of the gang of road-builders who have been improving the Klamath county highways under direction of the county court, reports that the county road is completed from Chiloquin to Silver Lake.

This highway runs on the east side of the marsh, and along it the following new bridges have been built: Solomon's Flats, 72 feet long; Wocus Bay, 16 feet long; Skellog, 16 feet; across Williamson River at the upper end of marsh, 67 feet.

These bridges, Mr. Burrell says, are safe for traffic of the heaviest kind.

The completion of the road which the men have been constructing means twenty-one miles of new road, and will save about eleven miles of the distance from Chiloquin to Silver Lake, as it cuts out all the water in the marshes of Abraham Charlie, a well known Indian, and Alexander Davis, as the route avoids these spots and goes through the big flat instead.

From the Williamson River north along Long Prairie the marsh is avoided by running through the woods a distance of seven miles. The newly completed road means that Klamath Falls has better access now to a large and newly settled district than ever before, including the Silver Lake, Fort Rock, Christmas Lake and Summer Lake settlements, which are growing very rapidly, owing to the number of settlers taking up farming in those locations. What was formerly territory shunned as worthless is being taken up eagerly.

When Mr. Burrell settled in the Fort Rock region there were only seven other people at that place, and now there are a large number, and this season 5,000 bushels of grain have been threshed, despite the still primitive conditions and the large amount of unbroken land.

Freight is moving up that way rapidly, and yesterday seven big freight outfits, all with trail wagons left Chiloquin, which is the present terminus of the railroad, with supplies, such as feed, flour, salt and other staples. Included in the number were Jamison from the upper end of the big marsh, Fox from Fremont, LaBree from Silver Lake, Duncan from Arrow and Bulck from Rock Valley. Two days ago Stanley Martin of Silver Lake started up with three outfits.

ITALIAN ATROCITIES IN TRIPOLI MAY LEAD POWERS TO MAKE A CONCERTED DEMAND FOR THEIR ABANDONMENT

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Italian cruelties in Tripoli may cause a concerted demand by the powers that Italy observe modes of "civilized" warfare. In the house of commons Member Leuch asked Foreign Secretary Grey if he would not use his influence to prevent a repetition of atrocities.

Grey deprecated the question as offensive to a friendly power. Reports indicate that a thousands beings were slaughtered in Tripoli.

ALGOMA PEOPLE BUY

BIG MILL BEING MOVED HERE FROM POKEGAMA, AND OPERATIONS WILL BE UNDERTAKEN ON LARGE SCALE

Klamath county has secured another big lumber manufacturing plant.

The Algoma Lumber company, which has been operating in the Pokegama district for the past several years, is moving its plant to this county, having finished their contract in that section. A deal was closed yesterday whereby the company purchased the saw mill, including the mill site and all improvements at Rattlesnake Point, also all the timber holdings of D. B. Campbell.

It is the plan of the company to enlarge the Campbell mill and continue its operation. It has not been definitely decided whether the site will be used for the permanent location of the company's plant or not.

Representatives of the company have been in the city for about ten days negotiating for a location in this county. A large number of sites were considered, and while the property just purchased may not be the final location of the new plant, it means that it will be permanently located in Klamath county and that this city will be reinforced with another large pay roll.

The mill at Pokegama has been dismantled and loaded onto the cars, and this shipment of eighteen cars of machinery and steel is expected to arrive in Klamath Falls within the next four days.

It is the intention of the company to replace the rotary saw in the old mill with a band and with the gang saw equipment the mill will have a daily capacity of over 200,000 feet for day and night shifts. The plant which is being removed from Pokegama is practically new, and is said to be one of the most modern mills in this section of the coast country.

It is also the intention of the company to build a large, up-to-date box factory wherever it may locate its large mill. The company also owns a box factory plant at Montague, and large timber interests near there. No statement from them has been forthcoming as to whether they intend to move this plant or build an entirely new box plant in the Klamath Falls section.

The officials of the Algoma Lumber company are: A. Gregory president, F. P. Fay vice president, and E. J. Grant secretary. R. H. Hovey, the well known timberman, who has spent a large portion of his time in Klamath Falls the past three years, has become associated with the company as quite a heavy stockholder, and it is understood that he is to have charge of the Klamath Lake operations of the company, while H. H. Edmonds will be superintendent.

Mr. Gregory is owner of the A. Gregory Fruit company, of Los Angeles and Southern California. He is also a heavy realty owner in the southern city, as well as the owner of some big orange groves. Mr. Fay is also in the fruit business, being the president and owner of the Fay Fruit company. He owns the well known

Bombardier Gets Light Penalty For Selling Liquor To An Indian

Ray Brown, former bass hornor, or bombardier blower, in the Klamath Falls Military band, who was taken to Portland some weeks ago and there indicted by the federal grand jury on the charge of having sold liquor to an Indian on the Klamath Indian reservation, pleaded guilty when called up for trial.

The penalty is the smallest prescribed by law that may be inflicted for the offense, and the leniency of the court was due to the fact that Brown had in his possession an honorable discharge from the United States navy, which he showed to the court, as well as the further fact that he had not sold the liquor to the Indian with any view to making a pecuniary profit for his own benefit.

Big Wind Damage On County Road, Trees With Long Roots Pulled Out

When the wind blew a gale on Sunday, October 8th, it did a large amount of damage to the telephone lines between Chiloquin and Silver Lake, and also uprooted a great number of lodgepole pine, as well as jack-pine, tearing out by the roots trees with roots fifteen and twenty feet long, and felling them so that the roots stood up in the air as the trees usually do.

In one place trees blown over were so thick across a road that for a distance of 100 yards they covered the highway just like a mat. The inconvenience caused on the county road was considerable, as for a distance of twenty-five miles between Chiloquin and Silver Lake trees were blown across the road, all of which has since been cleared off onto about eight miles, and this has yet to be cleared of the debris. This is between Wocus Bay and Solomon's Flats.
