PROGRESSIVES IN HIGH FEATHER NOW

ELECTIONS ELATING

ONLY SEVERE SETBACK THEY GET IS IN NEW JERSEY, ELSEWHERE BEING REGARDED AS FOR PEOPLE'S RULE

United Press Service WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 8.—Progressives see victory in the election results. The only severe setback was in New Jersey. Results elsewhere are hailed by the progressives as victories for the people's rule.

SOCIALIST GAINS BIG IN OLD BUCKEYE STATE

Many Cities Pick Mayors of That Party, Whites Ex-Secretary Garfield, Denying Reports, Falls Before the Progressives

United Press Service CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 8.—The cities of Canton, Lima, Martins Ferry, Fosteria, Lorain and Mount Vernon elected socialist mayors. Mayor Whitlock's Toledo plurality was 4,500. Baker's plurality was 17,900. Baker called the result a "monument to Tom Johnson."

PERSHIN IS OUT AGAIN AFTER TYPHOID SIEGE

Photographer Had Eight Weeks in the Hospital, But Pulled Through, and Says That He Now Feels as Fine as a Fiddle

Photographer S. R. Pershin is out again after eight weeks' confinement in the Samaritan hospital with typhoid fever. He was in a very critical condition for a time, but pulled through the attack nicely, and now says that he feels fine.

Mr. Pershin's father, A. B. Pershin of Ipswich, S. D., is here to visit his son and look over the country, expecting to stay some time yet.

Demented Contractor at Golden Gate City Hacks Unfortunate Spouse, Who is Expected to Die Monday—Cuts His Own Throat

United Press Service SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—Demented, John Cooper, a contractor, chopped his wife almost to pieces with a hatchet, cut his own throat, and is dead.

The wife is expected to die at any moment.

MUST LAY WALKS ON MAIN STREET

PROPERTY HOLDERS OUT WHITE PELICAN WAY MUST SPEND THEIR MONEY, WHILE ON THE OTHER END DELAY IS GRANTED

Whether cement sidewalks shall be laid on the north side of Main street as provided by ordinance recently passed in council caused some lively discussion Monday night, when Street Commissioner Charles Woodard asked the council to back him up in getting property owners to obey the city's directions in the matter.

At the same time he admitted that he had exempted the Barnum property from the mandate, but said he had assured some other property owners, notably the White Pelican people, that if they put in walks as ordered without demurring, the city would see that others did.

Councilman G. W. White said that the Seeds property would come in for a share of the paving, and Mrs. Seeds would find it a hardship to put in the walk now, so that if others were exempt he favored having her given the favor of delay until May, when all the walks could be put in without haggling.

Mr. White doubted the authority of Mr. Woodard to exempt anybody, and said it was not fair to make fish of one and flesh of another.

Here Mayor Fred T. Sanderson urged Mr. White that the councilmen ought to back up the street commissioner, and say nothing reflecting on him. The councilman replied with considerable vigor that he took exception to the mayor's interruption of his remarks as well as to the statement that there was a reflection, he contending with ardor that Woodard was a street commissioner who had done exceedingly well in his work, and that he (White) had always backed him wherever it was right to do so.

The muddle was finally untangled when Councilman McGowan moved that all property owners be compelled to comply with the ordinance. The motion prevailed, the only negative vote being Mr. White's as he preferred to wait until May, especially as at a former meeting of the board the property holders on lower Main street had been granted an extension until spring. White called for a ye and nay vote, which, when recorded, did not change the result.

This means that the Barnum, Hughes, Shannon and Seeds properties will have to put in their walks now. Mr. Shannon had offered to put in an 11-foot walk in the spring if permitted to have the delay until then.

WHITE PELICAN HOTEL BANQUET

While the White Pelican Hotel will open its doors to public patronage on Thanksgiving day, November 30th, the big public banquet with which the fine new hostelry will celebrate will be held on the night of the following Saturday, December 3d.

The price of the banquet is $3 a plate. There will be no invitations issued, and anyone is at liberty to make reservations at any time.

Those may be had by applying to the office of the White Pelican Hotel, in the Klamath Development company's office building, at Main and Broad streets, by letter, in person or by telephone, the number being 401.

MANY MURDERERS HELD IN NEW YORK CITY JAIL

Twenty-six Prisoners in Tombs on the Charge of Killing One or More Human Beings—Breaks All Previous Records for the Big Prison

United Press Service NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Twenty-six prisoners awaiting trials on charges of murder or murders are now confined in the Tombs, which constitutes a record.

In addition to those in prison, eleven men charged with homicide are out on bail.

Two women are among those in the Tombs who will be called upon to answer to allegations of murder.

One of these is Mrs. Francis O'Shaughnessy, who is alleged to have killed her husband because she found letters from another woman in his possession.

WANT WOMEN WITH KIDS TO HAVE ALLOWANCE

Oregon Congress of Mothers Would Have State Law Provide for Needy Women Bereaved of Their Husbands

United Press Service PORTLAND, Nov. 8.—The Oregon Congress of Mothers in session here formally launched a campaign to secure the enactment of a state law providing pensions for needy widowed mothers whose children are under 14 years old.

A committee was appointed to make a systematic campaign for the measure, which will be carried before the next legislature. The congress will recommend that the proposed Oregon pension law shall be modeled along the lines of the Missouri statute, which provides for a pension to be drawn from county funds under the direction of the juvenile court.

After being under the physician's care for several days, Mrs. A. Y. Tindell is again able to be about. Mrs. Tindell is a talented musician, and her indisposition was a source of much worry to her friends in Klamath Falls musical circles.

The balladists are I. J. Knapp, W. E. Lidyard, R. C. Gass and Director Wilson.

One of the professional acts secured for the olio is Mrs. G. T. Wilson, dramatic reader, who will give the child dialect selection "Over the Baluster." Mrs. Wilson comes from Medford for this occasion. She is a graduate of the Northwestern School of Oratory, was for five years director of Western College dramatic department and for several years in lyceum work.

Mr. Wilson will give an Italian dialect character song in costume, and the olio will close with a concert male quartet, "Sweet Evening Bells," sung by Messrs. Upp, Knapp, Rambo and Wilson.

The cast for the whirlwind farce which closes the show is as follows: "The Great Kidnaping and Breach of Promise Case."

MANCHURIANS PEEVED IN GOVERNMENT'S CALM

Position in Regard to Plot to Massacre Hans—Yuan Shi Kai Expected to Declare Himself a Caesar in Celestial Affairs

United Press Service PEKIN, Nov. 8.—Manchurians are angry at the government's conciliatory attitude over the plot to massacre Hans.

A strong Manchu force surrounds the senate on the pretext of being a guard.

Yuan Shi Kai has despatched the senate a message which declares a truce for peace is useless unless the government first reformed.

He is returning to Pekin with his own select troops, and is suspected to intend to declare himself a Caesar.

STRANGE WRITER ADMITS BURNING

IS IT JAIL PRISONER?

MYSTERIOUS LETTER TO SHERIFF, SIGNED WITH NAME SIMILAR TO CAPTIVE, WHOSE WRITING RESEMBLES MINE

In the mail to the sheriff's office this morning came a letter signed A. R. Morgan, which Deputy Sheriff John Schallock believes is from the alleged firebug he arrested yesterday, in which the writer asserts that he, and he only, set fire to the four buildings which were damaged by flames during Monday night and Tuesday morning. The prisoner, who gave his name as Henry Morgan, when shown the letter by Deputy Sheriff Schallock, denied the authorship of it.

The officer then took the prisoner before Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Horace M. Manning, where he was asked to give a specimen of his handwriting, by using a lead pencil, which was the instrument used in the writing of the letter. The writing was so similar that Schallock was convinced that both writings were by the same man.

The letter reads as follows: "Klamath Falls, Ore., Nov 7, 1911. "Mr. Sheriff—I am writing this to let you know that you have not caught the fire bug or fire bug as yet. I had no one else set fire to four (4) different places, at short intervals, only to have the pleasure of seeing people run to and from in the middle of the night. I REALLY ENJOY IT.

"I am the guilty party, and I am positive that I do not know anything about horse thieves being around.

"I only attended to my business, that was in setting fire to the number of places that I have already mentioned. Yours truly,

"A. R. MORGAN."

Just how Morgan—if the prisoner wrote and sent the letter—mailed it is not known. It is dated yesterday, the day he was captured, and the chances are that if the prisoner wrote it he mailed it with the regular batch of letters that comes from the prisoners every day or so. The envelope was addressed to "Mr. Barnes, Sheriff of Klamath County, Klamath Falls, Ore."

FAMOUS ENGLISH DIVINE WILL TOUR THIS COUNTRY

Noted Preacher in City Temple, London, Has Perfected Plans to Speak in the Principal Cities of the United States

United Press Service NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The Rev. E. J. Campbell, the famous English preacher of City Temple, London, has completed plans for an extensive tour of America. He will speak in most of the large cities of the country.

Final City Hall Bond Ordinances Through Council, Hopes Are High

At Monday night's meeting of the council three final ordinances relating to the issue of approximately $40,000 worth of bonds for the new city hall, the proposed fire protection system and the garbage site, requested by E. H. Collins & Sons, the firm which successfully bid for the bonds, were passed under the emergency provisions.

It is now hoped by Mayor Fred T. Sanderson and the other city fathers that the money will soon be forthcoming from the bond firm for its purchase.

While the bonding proposition was taken up early in the summer the best the city has been able to do so far under the difficulties with which it has had to deal has been to acquire the site for the hall from Attorney F. H. Mills.

Although there has been gossip to the effect that the bonding people, whose attorneys have continually asked for more details regarding the city's status under the new charter, were merely doing so in order to "spar for wind" (it being the theory of Dame Gossip that the bond issue was unable to market the bonds), Mayor Sanderson says he has been convinced right along that such was not the case, and that the bond issue had already made the sale and was anxious to get hold of the bonds as soon as its desired information about the city's legal condition could be had.

The mayor hopes to have the ordinance in the new hall by this time next year.

Private Sewer Connection Mixes Up Pine Street Property Owners

When the Pine street sewer was put in the properties of Mrs. Walker and John Fountain were assessed for connections with it, although the owners had practically constructed their own sewers by laying pipe in the alley back of their properties and connecting the same with the Fifth street main.

The buildings are low, and it would be difficult to make advantageous connections with the sewer on Pine street, City Engineer Don J. Zumwalt told the council. As the property owners had laid for the sewer connection, Fountain's bill being $32.90, they did not wish to pay an assessment for the front connection. Mayor Fred T. Sanderson and councilman C. B. Crisler expressed the opinion that it would be better for the city to pay the bills incurred by the property owners and have them pay the Pine street assessment, to make everything regular. This will probably be done at a later meeting of the council, when the city engineer will submit a written report on the subject.

Have Had a Pleasant Visit

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus King of Ashland have spent the last three weeks at the Cabler home, near Klamath Falls, visiting their cousins, John and Rosie Cabler, and at the home of Mr. King's sister, Mrs. Crisler, in Klamath Falls. Mr. and Mrs. King were very favorably impressed with Klamath Falls, Mr. King especially enjoying the duck hunting while here.
