LYMAN INDICTED ON THREE COUNTS

WRONGFUL MAIL USE

IN SUBSTANCE OF OFFENSE WHICH LEADS TO TRUE BILLS IN CASE OF SMOOTH SWINDLER WHO WAS HERE RECENTLY

United Press Service. LOS ANGELES, Nov. 9.—The federal grand jury has returned three indictments against Dr. John Grant Lyman, promoter of the Panama Development company, for fraudulent use of the United States mails.

While Lyman was escaping to Lakeview, his "manager" for the Panama enterprise, Lambert Smith, who is asserted to have been innocent of any wrongful intent, and who was to have been the chief witness against the promoter, died in Denver on his way from Panama to Los Angeles, where he intended to appear before the federal grand jury. The story goes that Smith, sent to Panama by Lyman, found that the "company" owned no lands there, and was broken hearted over the affair.

Lyman's wife left him at Los Angeles about the time of his arrest, together with another woman, who had been living with the Lymans.

Mrs. Lyman is alleged to have returned to their home at White Plains, N. Y., and there sued for a divorce from the swindler.

After he left her in Los Angeles and went to San Francisco, he is alleged to have lived in the Golden Gate City with an inmate, a Miss Lehman, alleged to be a New York heiress, who was missing when Lyman was caught.

She is supposed to have returned to New York, from whence she sent him $1,000, with which he is alleged to have paid his attorney's fees and other incidentals of his efforts to gain freedom.

"Doc" Lyman, as he is flippantly referred to, escaped from a hospital in Oakland, Calif., accompanied by L. B. Thorne, an attendant, and both were caught in Lakeview, whither they had gone by hired automobile.

They were brought to this city about the last of September, and Thorne, with four other prisoners, escaped from jail the following Sunday, none of the quintet being caught.

Lyman, however, with his broken ankle, using crutches, could not make the getaway, although he tried to bribe his guard, Fred Morley, at the Livermore hotel, as well as his jailer at Portland after he was taken there by Deputy Marshal Frank Beatty.

His attempt to bribe his Portland warden led United States Marshal Leslie M. Scott to take all surplus bedding away from Lyman, as well as most of his clothing, so that his lack of ordinary attire, combined with his lameness, would make escape hard for him. This peeved the medical man a lot.

He did not escape, and was finally taken to San Francisco shortly afterward.

Two Nights Of "Torture" By Minstrels Begin At Houston's This Evening

Wilson, the Montano Medford minstrel, are promising the public of Klamath Falls, will be sprung on the populace this evening when the doors of the Houston opera house are opened and the angry horde of torturers rush in to meet their fate.

At least torture is the way the hand bills of the Elks term the treatment which is to be inflicted, and the popular nature of the particular brand of outrage which the Antiered bunch intends to afflict the residents with may be estimated by a look at the decimated ticket plat will show.

Among the vast array of talent offered are some of the finest burnt cork artists that ever tortured from

BEAUTIFUL NOW COVERS MUNDANE

SPHERE FOR THE FIRST TIME THIS FALL, WITH MERCURY AND OLD BOREAN CONSPIRING FOR A REGULAR JAMBOREE

Today witnessed the first fall of the beautiful which has been recorded in Klamath Falls this fall. The snow was not entirely unexpected, as a large number of people in this city and vicinity, who are informed on the usual course of the elements, know that about about this time every year comes old King Winter, maybe with less pomp at some times than at others, but he comes.

It was an early hour this morning when the snow fell. As before indicated, it was not a startling occurrence. True, there were those who shuddered at the happening, as some people with tender feelings hate to see snow fall.

No one tried to save it from falling, so it just fell.

It was not greatly injured by the fall, but the descent will probably lead to its total destruction, for as these lines are penned—or typewritten, rather—the sun is threatening to annihilate all flakes of the beautiful within reach of its rays.

For the first time in months the lowest temperature of the night came Tuesday night before midnight. It is usually anywhere from 4 o'clock to 7 in the morning that the low is recorded by the mercury, although there are times when the lead-colored liquid shows its greatest tendency to droop about 2 a. m. But Tuesday night 35, the low mark, was just before mid-

J. W. Rosler, a man of middle age, who has been doing some work in and about Klamath Falls for the engineering department of the Southern Pacific road, was hauled out of the Oak street canal about 2 o'clock this morning by two women in a nearby house, who responded to his cries for help.

They notified the police, and Patrolmen William Hall and William Messner went down to Oak avenue, where they found the man standing up against a house, stiff with cold and wet.

As near as the police could learn, Rosler had been wandering around in the district, and on being refused admittance to a house there, stumbled into the water.

He claimed to have been robbed of $45 and a lady's watch, at least these were missing from his person when he was able to make a search.

He could not, or would not, give the police much idea about his movements, although he was at police headquarters for some hours after the occurrence.

The officers are endeavoring to trace his whereabouts prior to the time he was hauled out of the "drink."
