

SUMMONS

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for the County of Klamath.
 Mary L. McGuire, Plaintiff, vs.
 William H. McGuire, Defendant.
 To William H. McGuire, the above named defendant:
 In the name of the state of Oregon: You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint of plaintiff filed against you in the above entitled suit on or before Saturday, the 2d day of December, 1911, that being the last day of the time prescribed in the order for publication of this summons the first publication thereof being on the 21st day of October, 1911. And if you fail to so appear and answer, for want thereof, the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint, to-wit: For a decree dissolving the bonds of matrimony now existing between plaintiff and defendant, and for such other and further relief as to the court may seem equitable. This summons is served by publication thereof in the Evening Herald, a daily newspaper of general circulation in Klamath county, Oregon, by order of Hon. W. S. Worden, county judge of Klamath county, Oregon, made, dated and filed in said suit at Klamath Falls, Oregon, October 20th, 1911, which said order requires that summons in said suit be published each day, Sundays excepted, for a period of six weeks, commencing with the issue of said paper, published on the 21st day of October, 1911.

POLITICS IS BARRED IN BANKING REFORM

Southern Financial Leader Wants Business Men to Join in Non-Partisan Demand for Greatly Needed Legislation.

United Press Service
 NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 25.—F. O. Watts of Nashville, Tenn., president of the American Bankers' Association, urged upon the bankers' convention here the necessity of keeping banking and currency reform out of politics.
 "If the bankers and business men," he said, "who must be the leaders in the reform movement, succeed in keeping the question non-partisan, and in convincing the public beyond a reasonable doubt of the integrity of the control, then its enactment into law will be an easy accomplishment."
 To keep the control of the National Reserve Association out of speculative Wall street and out of the hands of politicians said Mr. Watts, were two of the most important considerations in drafting of banking reform legislation.
 Mr. Watts said he wasn't scared by the Wall street bugaboo. He said:
 "Undoubtedly those interests which according to passing speech and hurried composition are designated as 'Wall Street' favor the National Reserve Association or any plan of monetary reform making for stability and prosperity and relieving the best bankers of New York from the great strain of crop movements, trade expansion and panics. Passing the relatively small number of stock gamblers around New York's stock exchange, we find there banks, business houses, industrial and railway corporations vitally interested in every section of the country, and who have learned what one aptly expressed during the year in saying that his institution and allied interests 'make dollars out of the general prosperity of the country where they could only make pennies out of special privilege.'
 "Those interests would subscribe to that truth expounded at our Denver convention by one now a leader in one of the great political parties, when he said: 'It is the part even of selfish calculation to know that no interest can hurt the country as a whole and serve itself.' The real Wall street prefers prosperity to special privilege, and knows that they serve themselves most when building up the commercial, manufacturing, agricultural, transportation and banking interests of the whole country.
 "Even limiting the prompting force to selfish interests there should be no divergence of effort in this country on any business, and certainly none on the question of banking power and credit. So common has become the assumption by those persons most heard by the public that Wall street is inimical to every other spot in the country, and so far have such theories found judgment that an unfortunate prejudice exists that can only be removed through greater concern by New York's busy men—such concern as will cause them to remedy any wrongs that exist and then have in the future greater respect for the importance of holding a democratic attitude towards the things outside of their immediate surroundings."

Capital and Labor Must Be Kept Busy
 In the right channels to keep the nation prosperous. National prosperity is the collective result of local prosperity and "confidence" is the mysterious thing back of both. Confidence is necessary in all walks of life to bring success, for without it there can be no future. Our own town needs the confidence of her people. A town is known by its works just as a man is known by his deeds. There's no better way to show your confidence in the town than to be known as a home owner and no quicker way to gain your share of the independence for which our Revolutionary fathers fought than to own a home. Better start today—come in and talk it over with us—we can give you a good idea of the total cost as well as the kind of timber you'll need.
