HANLEY IS BOOSTER ON SETTLING WEST

GOAL OF AMBITIOUS

YOUNG MEN AMBITIOUS AND WILLING TO PUT SHOULDER TO WHEEL, SAYS HARNEY COUNTY'S NOTED PIONEER

United Press Service William Hanley, the Harney county pioneer and booster, who was a leading spirit in the recent railroad celebration at Bend, and a lifelong friend of James J. Hill, with Governor West and Thomas Richardson, forms the Oregon trio which went east to join the governors' special. Hanley was interviewed in St. Paul, and among other things said:

"I just thought I'd take a run down this way. You see, my cows keep me at home most of the time, but every couple of years I like to take a swing down in the direction of the sunrise. I thought, as this was the occasion of one of the best land shows ever held, it would be a good time to come.

"Any middle initial? Well, to be candid, yes; but I never use it. Middle initials have about gone out of use down where I hail from.

"Oregon is what I call an agricultural department store. We grow everything in the category, and I expect to see Oregon come right to the front among the states represented at the coming show.

"Of course my neighborhood is a little out of the beaten path, 125 miles from a railroad in fact, at present, but we are looking for a road to come down that way from present developments. Mr. Hill promises us? No, sir. Mr. Hill never promises anything. His first promise is a performance. I don't really think Lewis and Clark would find things much changed right in my neighborhood, but in the valleys to the north they might think Ponce de Leon's dream had been realized, and they had found the fountain of perpetual youth.

"I think the West is today the logical goal of every ambitious young fellow who is willing to put his shoulder to the wheel. The trouble is, too many merely visit our coast cities and return homestead and discouraged, without ever venturing into the rural parts. 'Back to the farm' is my slogan, and it can't be emphasized too much.

"Already we are abandoning the idea of utilizing good lands for range purposes and the young man of pluck has a better chance now than a generation ago in that country. It is necessary that a fellow have the stick-to-the-finish spirit, and not pull out just as the sun is about to shine.

"There are too many college graduates running around helpless nowadays. You see, they are so polished it is impossible for anyone to fasten a hook on them, and make use of them. This, I think is due to a popular belief existing some few years ago: 'Give your boy something nobody can take away from him.' Instead their parents gave them something nobody else had any particular use for.

BLOODY SLAUGHTER AGAIN PROGRESSES IN HANKOW

Hundreds of Bodies of Victims of Manchus Float in River, Above Which Vultures Hover, While Imperialists Slay Wounded

United Press Service HANKOW, Nov. 29.—One of the bloodiest slaughters of the war is progressing. Hanyang-Wuchang is running red with blood. Hundreds of bodies of Manchus victims are floating in the Yangtze, while swarms of vultures are hovering over the river. The rebels are crippled as a result of several days' fighting. They are also torn by dissensions. Their leaders admit the situation is critical. Imperialists are bayoneting the wounded.

PHILLIPS' FOLKS ARE DISTRESSED

INDIANA MAN, LAST HEARD OF IN KLAMATH FALLS THREE YEARS AGO, FAILS TO WRITE TO KIN AT HOME

Wanted—George W. Phillips. Albert S. Whitsett of Deputy, Ind., has written a letter to the First National bank of this city asking its assistance in locating George W. Phillips, formerly of Scott county, Indiana, and later of Klamath Falls. About five years ago he visited his parents at the old home, and was heard from a number of times from Klamath Falls, both by brothers at Denver, Colo., and at the old home. Mr. Whitsett writes that at one time Phillips was engaged in trapping furs and later purchased a houseboat and engaged in fishing as well. For three years past he has not been heard from by any of his friends. The reason the writer sends the communication to a bank, he explains, is because Phillips had ordered a little money forwarded to him at Klamath Falls, and is supposed to have used it to buy the houseboat with.

The writer says the father of the missing man is still living, although 89 years of age.

Phillips is described as about 5 feet 8 inches high, light complexion, blue eyes, mouth well filled with gold crowned teeth, not talkative in manner, light hair, baldness approaching, chews tobacco. He is temperate, uses language free from vulgarity, weighs 130 to 140 pounds, dresses neatly and warmly, and is about 45 years old.

If anyone knowing about Phillips will write to the First National bank or to the Herald word will be sent to Indiana.

PERMIT REFUSED BY COUNCILMEN

COFER BROS. REQUEST TO MAKE REPAIRS WHERE E. R. PERSHIN WAS TURNED DOWN FAILS TO TOUCH OFFICIALS

At Monday night's council meeting a request by Cofer Bros., through W. D. Cofer, for a permit to repair the premises back of 429 Main street, was turned down. This is the same place for which E. R. Pershin had asked a permit for alterations last week and was refused.

Councilman White stated that the location was within the fire limits, and he believed that by issuing the permit the city would be violating its own laws. City Attorney Horace M. Manning thought the same as Mr. White. Councilman Allen Stansbie's motion to allow the permit, seconded by Colonel M. G. Wilkins, was lost.

R. L. Alexander secured a permit to put up a five-room bungalow, 24x20, with brick chimney, on lot 685, block 104, Mills First addition.

W. S. Fish, for the Big Basin Lumber company, of which he is manager, asked a permit to erect a barn on lot 6, block 1, Railroad addition. It was laid over until the next meeting. In the interim Chief of Police Samuel L. Walker will look over the proposed site.

INDIAN SLAYER COURT HEARING

William Kolkomish, otherwise called William Judah Jim, charged with the killing of Quimby Kickkaskane near Modoc Point, November 22d, had a preliminary hearing this afternoon before United States Commissioner R. M. Richardson. The defendant was represented by C. M. O'Neill, while Edson Watson, Indian agent for the government on the Klamath reservation, appeared as private prosecutor. Nellie Chickkaskane, sister of the deceased, told of Kolkomish abusing his wife on the north side of the house, while Quimby was on the opposite side fixing a whiplash. She said Kolkomish tore the waist off of his wife and was shaking her when the witness told him not to do it. The enraged man, she said, then pointed a revolver at her and told her not to come. She turned away, and just as she did so her brother approached, telling William to stop his treatment of the wife. William, she said, quickly aimed his revolver at Quimby and shot him dead. SEVERE HANKOW BATTLE WITH REBELS VICTORIOUS

Slaughtering Combat Raged for Day and a Half, With the Result Leaving the Position of the Imperialist Forces Precarious

United Press Service SHANGHAI, Nov. 29.—Hankow messages say there was a battle there for thirty-six hours, the rebels winning.

The rebels captured Tiger Hill, a fort on the outskirts of Nanking, thus making the imperialists' position precarious. Heavy casualties at both battles are reported.

Charles Sexton, brother of a Mc-Namara juror at Los Angeles, died, and the juror is at home under a guard, while the court adjourned in respect to the juror. Attorney Davis' partner was taken ill, which leads to talk of a hoodoo in the trial.

Drill Strikes Hot Water On County Farm, With Surface Water Plentiful

G. A. Harmon of Riddle, Ore., contractor for the well at the county poor farm, today struck some hot water at a depth of over 200 feet. Yesterday the drill was in water as cold as could be, and today a drift of 90 degree aqua was run into.

General Manager George J. Walton of the Klamath Falls Light and Water company would like to get the driller to start working on a bore for artesian water on the Reames property as soon as possible. The contractor has word that the 12-inch pipe needed for the water company's experimental puncture of terra firma is on its way, and will be on the ground by the time he would need it if he were to start right away.

County Commissioner Summers said today that the drill is now cutting into the earth at approximately fifty feet a day, and would soon reach the 500 feet contracted for by the county commission. He believes the thing to do is to keep on going down

MEETING HELD LAST NIGHT TO BOOST FOR A GOVERNMENT BUILDING, MAYOR CHOOSES A COMMITTEE

Mayor Fred T. Sanderson last night presided at the meeting held in the council chamber for the purpose of working for a new federal building. Those present included Colonel M. G. Wilkins, County Judge Will S. Worden, County Commissioners Sam T. Summers and C. Guy Merrill, Justice of the Peace Charles Graves, W. Frank Arant, superintendent of Crocker Lake Park; Rosell H. Dunbar, city superintendent of schools; Robert A. Emmitt, Caleb T. Oliver, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; I. Jay Knapp, A. C. Wrona of the pioneer Press, and Councilman Russell A. Alford.

Mr. Arant came out plain and clear as an advocate of the movement, speaking of various official matters that have to be transacted with this city as the base. While deprecating any desire to forward any personal matters, he said the office which he holds had to be kept in this city practically half the year or more, and that he was quite sure that his business would be glad of a little spare space in such a building, if it were secured. "We are on the ground early for this thing, and certainly there is no one ahead of us who is likely to beat us out," confidentially declared Mr. Oliver. "The nearest place there is a federal building is Medford, 203 miles away by rail, and the only town that is anywhere near qualified for a federal building that is a possible competitor is Ashland, which, while it has sufficient population for a federal building, is too near Medford, and I don't think she is likely to get one as long as Medford has it. We have a large territory to serve from a federal building.

"I was talking to the United States commissioner, R. M. Richardson, who was a little under the weather, and unable to give me the time for all the details that I wanted, but he told me that in the past year there had been seventeen government cases in his bailiwick, which included sixty-seven witnesses, and while I don't know what the railroad fares amounted to involved in their travel, it is safe to put it at least $1,000. That does not take in the amount of other expenses involved in the cases. I had also a short talk with Judge Henry L. Benson, who stated that while he was unable to be here tonight, he would be glad to write letters at any time on the subject, or do anything else that he could for further the end which we are all seeking."

Colonel Wilkins stated that there

Furniture Of New Hostelry Going to Work Being Rushed

A. R. Fredericks, head of the San Francisco furniture house of Joseph Fredericks company, is here looking after the installation of the furniture in the new White Pelican hotel. The furniture came in some days ago, but could not be put in the rooms at once because other work was not far enough along to permit its installation.

Now the attractive brass beds are up, covered by big, thick mattresses, and looking just as comfortable. The dressers, chiffoniers, chairs and tables are being rapidly put in place, and lace curtains are going up also.

Both the freight and passenger elevators are accepted, while the dumb waiters, speechlessly polite, which lower food from the kitchen to the basement and return the "empties," and carry drinkables to those who feel overdone in the Turkish baths, are ready for their regular stunts when called on. The range in the kitchen is up and ready to be doing as well.

Various members of the house staff, which will number about sixty all told, have been getting here by easy stages, and are all practically on the ground. Of these, eighteen were here before Chief Clerk E. H. Louser went to San Francisco and tried his "round up" stunt, when, out of forty that were to be corralled, less than half were ready.

A feature of the hotel service will be an electric auto bus, which will run from the depot to the hotel driven by Andrew Waldheim, who is also the artist who drew designs for the regular cafe cards, the special dinner menus and the bottle labels which will be used by the hotel.

An enormous electric sign, with letters several feet high, will surmount the front of the building, facing to the southwest, and when illuminated is expected to be not only visible, but readable, for several miles.

FRAUD IN REGISTRATIONS WHOLESALE IS CLAIMED

Supporters of Both Political Contenders in Los Angeles Municipal Election Admit It May Figure in the Balloting

United Press Service LOS ANGELES, Nov. 29.—With the general municipal election less than a week away, supporters of George Alexander, the good government candidate, and those of Job Harriman, the socialist and union labor nominee, admit that the uncovering of wholesale fraudulent registrations is likely to figure largely in the result of the balloting on December 5th.

To ascertain the identity of persons responsible for the alleged illegal registrations a force of detectives from the district attorney's office are engaged in a house to house canvass. The voters of the city want to know which party, if any, is responsible for the registration scandal.

Thousands of votes, it is admitted by both factions, hinge upon the result of the investigation.
