CITY AFTER WATER AT ROCK SPRINGS

NOTICES ARE NOW UP

MUNICIPALITY WISHES TO TAKE 500 MINERS' INCHES UNDER SIX-INCH PRESSURE—MAPS TO BE FILED

Steps have been taken by the city to acquire water rights near Rock Springs and Aspen Lake to supply Klamath Falls with good water...

It is expected to take 500 miners' inches of water under six-inch pressure, to be brought to this city in a conduit...

Councilman M. G. Wilkins was not in favor of hurrying the matter, as he did not, as he expressed it, care about "buying a pig in a poke."

"Probably $150," replied Manning. On the mayor's suggestion to send Blumitt and Fielder right away to draw maps of the vicinity of the water...

"Fielder's team is for hire, and why not have it?" asked some one and there was a laugh. It was determined to have two men go in a rig and keep the nag and vehicle with them a week, if necessary, in order to get the work done.

Mr. A. Emitt's report on the water investigation some time since was in part as follows:

"Aspen Lake Springs—These springs are all pure, cold, clear water, cutting out from the base of large, rocky, timbered mountains, and are quite numerous. It will require about three miles of pipe to collect them to the city. They are unappropriated. Altitude 380 feet, or 223 feet above the water tank. A flow of 500,000 gallons per day can be had, with pipe line over rocky, timbered country and tunnel seven-eighths of a mile long. This tunnel, eighteen miles from city in almost direct line. To go around Eagle Ridge would require a pipe 30 1/2 miles long. An altitude of 420 feet, or 223 feet above the water tank. A flow of 1,000,000 gallons per day can be had with a slight deviation from a direct line through Long Lake and the south end of Wagon Lake without a tunnel, over a rocky, timbered, hills country to dig ditch for a pipe line 17 1/2 miles about 2 1/2 miles of pipe to collect springs of Aspen and Moss Creek and putting the water into Rock Creek a flow of about 10,000,000 gallons per day can be had by going around Eagle Ridge at a distance of 20 1/2 miles.

Rock Creek—There are three springs at the junction of which the altitude is 242 feet, or 85 feet above present water tank. Flow about 2,000,000 gallons per day. The water is pure, clear and cold. A small portion is appropriated and survey is made to appropriate the remainder. This water will have to be brought around Eagle Ridge, a distance of 28 1/2 miles, via pipe line, or through a range of hills with a tunnel one mile long between Aspen Lake and Klamath Lake, at a distance of 20 miles in nearly a direct line. This route would be rocky and need timbering to lay pipe.

Conclusions in the original report signed by Emitt, to whom the mayor always refers as "the engineer," were as follows: "After limited examinations of all these water supplies, Sun Creek is considered the ideal one from purity of water, ample supply, good watershed, with no prospects of ever failing supply through droughts or dry seasons. The land for ditch of pipe line is the best—not a rock in the whole line. Pressure can be had from the start, which would force the water through a smaller pipe the main length of 14 miles. Next in order would be Rock Springs."

It is understood that the recommendation of Sun Creek as the best location, as made in the report, giving Aspen Lake as second choice, was filed for the purpose of blinding any one who might try to stop in and get the desired location away from the city authorities. The mayor some time ago said, in a significant way, that the report "was all understood."

The listener saw, to the effect that there was a joker in the proposition, but just where the jest was located was not evident until now.

So far no official test of the water has been made, and there have been no estimates which will give the citizens any estimate as to the cost of bringing the water to the city and furnishing it to the residents, although sums varying from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000 have been mentioned. The council is expected to take this feature of the proposition up later.

Watch for arrests any hour," was the word sent from the offices of the National Erectors Association, Cleveland, following a conference between H. R. Brady, secretary of the erectors association, Detective Burns and Captain Washer of the federal secret service.

At a special meeting in New York yesterday of the directors of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey John Rockefeller resigned as president and director.

Federal Attorney Miller of Indianapolis asserts that the federal probe has uncovered the "most damnable plot ever entered into in this country. The time has arrived when such unscrupulous leaders as Gumpers must be reformed." It is expected that twelve prominent laborites will be indicted for carrying explosives on railroad trains.

MARTINS WIN IN MAIL ROUTE CASE

JURY TAKES COMPARATIVELY SHORT TIME TO RETURN WITH A VERDICT FOR PLAINTIFFS, AGAINST J. I. YADEN

It took only a few minutes for a jury this morning to come to a decision in the case of J. A. and J. I. Martin against J. I. Yaden. The verdict was for the plaintiff in the sum of $250.

The Martins sued for $375, alleged balance on a $2,375 contract to carry the mail between Fort Klamath and this city from December 1, 1908, until July 1, 1910, or nineteen months, at $125 per month. The Martins, by their testimony, claimed that Yaden kept behind in his payments. The defendant asked an offset of $500 damages alleged to have been suffered by reason of plaintiff's getting the government to hold up his pay for the mail carrying as well as $59 more, he claimed to be due from the Martins for changing the mail route for them under an agreement.

NEW RAILROAD ACROSS OREGON, LOVETT STATES

Special to The Herald PORTLAND, Dec. 5.—Announcement of a new railroad across Oregon from east to west was appropriate news for Thanksgiving week.

President Lovett of the Harriman system has authorized the construction of the Oregon Eastern from Vale to Dog Mountain, a distance of 140 miles. The road will not stop there, but will be built to Burns, then presumably on to Bend and very likely south to connect with the Natron-Klamath line.

Work on the project will be rushed, and it is expected to get the first link under way before the end of the present year. This new mileage will be of great value to Eastern Oregon, a country now undergoing rapid development, and will give modern transportation to a district now isolated.

Thomas W. Stephens left this morning for Fort Klamath on a business trip which may require several days absence.

MISSING MAN IS AT LAST LOCATED

GEORGE W. PHILLIPS, WHOSE INDIANA RELATIVES HAVE BEEN ANXIOUS, HAS BEEN LIVING ON HOUSEBOAT ON THE RIVER

George W. Phillips has been located. He is the man from Scott county, Indiana, from whom his relatives had not heard for three years, and it was the anxiety of his kin which led to a letter being sent to the First National bank here, asking for trace of him.

Mr. Phillips says that he has been living on his white houseboat down the Klamath River, and that the failure to keep in communication with his relatives was just a simple case of neglect, partly his fault, and partly theirs. He heard about the copy of the letter having been printed in the Herald, and came to the office to get a copy.

GUILD SALE TO BE NEXT WEDNESDAY

SPECIAL TABLE OF WORK OF LITTLE FOLKS, VARIETY OF REFRESHMENTS, AND MUSIC TO BE INCLUDED

On Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Muller Music company's new store, on Main street, between Seventh and Eighth streets, the annual sale by the ladies of the Episcopal Guild will be held. Tea and cake will be served in the afternoon and in the evening coffee and punch will be in order for refreshment. One of the leading features of the offerings will be the goods on the children's table, and this deserves the particular attention of the older folk.

A number of enthusiastic youngsters have been working all the year to prepare attractive fancy work for the sale, and it will be offered at the event Wednesday.

As an added attraction of the sale a very pleasant musical program has been arranged, as follows:

Orchestra, selection; piano solo, George E. Bradnack; vocal solo, W. L. Smith; song, Mrs. Birdean-Fraker Gambell; violin number, Charles W. Knapp; vocal solo, George B. Hayden; song, Mrs. Don J. Zumwalt; song, Mrs. William Wagner; clarinet selection, Charles W. Knapp; song, W. H. Shaw; reading, Mrs. Elmer French.

DU FAULT WOULD SELL BUSINESS

ASKS COUNCIL TO TRANSFER HIS LICENSE TO HIS PRESENT PARTNER, C. E. RILEY, AND TOM A. JACKSON

Ed H. DuFault's saloon license now operative at the Sixth street location, will be sold to C. E. Riley, his present partner, and Tom A. Jackson, if present plans carry, and the business will be conducted in the room now around the corner on Main street occupied by the Saddle Rock restaurant.

The necessary permission of Henry Bolvin, owner of the Saddle Rock premises, has been obtained, but that of the city council has not been. On the proposed bond of $1,000 Michael Motschenbacher is surety.

Attorneys Thomas Drake and Herbert S. Crane were on hand last night to look after the matter, but the council preferred to defer action. The question will come up at the next meeting.

PELICAN FAVORS TO FOLK DINING

WOMEN GUESTS AT BIG BANQUET RECEIVED SILVER BON BON BOXES, AND EVERYBODY GOT BOOKLET WITH POEM

Inadvertently the Herald, in its account of the White Pelican banquet forgot to mention favors which were distributed to the guests. To the women were given small silver bon bon boxes, wrapped in tissue paper, tied with white ribbon, with a sprig of holly spread tastefully over the lid.

To both men and women were given booklets designed by Chief Clerk E. H. Louser of the hotel, containing the poem called "The Answer," a Thanksgiving toast read by its author, G. X. Wendling vice president of the Klamath Development company, at the banquet.

The illustrations of the verses, a series of pictures of the jubilant white pelican enjoying various phases of life, by E. C. Mullgardt of San Francisco, who was one of the guests at the White Pelican opening, are well conceived.

TO DISCUSS GOOD ROADS AT MEETING IN PORTLAND

Special to The Herald PORTLAND, Dec. 5.—Good roads throughout Oregon will be the chief topic discussed at the annual convention of county judges and commissioners of the state, which will be held in the Portland Commercial Club convention hall December 12-14.

Road legislation will be considered, with a view to permanent highway construction throughout the state.

Barnes Chambers, proprietor of the Gun Store, has gone to Placerville, Calif., for several weeks' visit with friends.

JUST FREEZING, AND THAT'S ALL

LOW POINT LAST NIGHT WAS CONGEEALING MARK, WHILE IT GREW A LITTLE WARMER AFTERWARD

Last Night's low point of the thermometer was freezing, or 32 degrees, at 7 a. m., while an hour later it was a degree warmer. The low point the night before was 23 at 7:30 a. m., while at 8 o'clock yesterday morning it was 24. Last night at 8 o'clock it was 36, against 31 the night previous, while the high yesterday was 48 at 3 p. m., against 49 the day before.

B. C. Spink Down With Pneumonia

R. C. Spink returned last evening from Klamath Agency, where he was called yesterday by the illness of his brother, B. C. Spink, who has a severe attack of pneumonia. Mr. Spink states that his brother is a very sick man, but that it is too early yet to form an opinion as to the seriousness of the attack. Mrs. Taylor, the nurse, accompanied Mr. Spink to the Agency, and has taken charge of the patient.

TIMES THROUGH WINDOW TO WIFE'S ROOM, DIES

EUGENE, Dec. 5.—Charles Laughery, a young man who has been employed at Marcola for some time, committed suicide by taking a quantity of arsenic and rough on rats, dying after having been in agony all day. Laughery and his wife separated some time ago, and brooding over their trouble, the husband finally decided to end his life.

Buying the arsenic and rat poison from a Marcola druggist Laughery got up in the middle of the night and walked several miles to the home of his wife's parents, seven miles south of Eugene. The wife was startled to see a man climbing into her room through the window at 4 o'clock, but soon recognized her husband, who calmly told her that he had just taken poison and that he wanted to die. He lingered in great agony until evening.

Laughery said he had taken the arsenic ten minutes before he entered his wife's room, but swallowed a handful of rat poison after he got in.

LAND VERY CHEAP ON RESERVATION

SUPERINTENDENT EDSON WATSON OF KLAMATH RESERVATION SAYS NO NEED OF WAITING FOR IT TO BE OPENED

According to Superintendent Edson Watson, the Klamath Indian reservation is now practically thrown open to the public, and in his opinion no formal opening of the reservation will be necessary. The conditions are somewhat different than those on other reservations which have been opened to the public in that practically all of the agricultural lands have been allowed to Indians and the only acreage unoccupied is the timber.

This does not mean that there is no opportunity for the white man to acquire homes and property on the reservation, as Mr. Watson claims that the Klamath Reservation offers

ONE LIFE, FIFTEEN YEARS FOR OTHER

PUNISH McNAMARAS

JUDGE DENOUNCES JAMES AS A MURDERER AT HEART, AND BITTERLY CONDEMNES HIS BROTHER JOHN

United Press Service LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—James McNamara was today sentenced to life imprisonment in San Quentin penitentiary by Judge Bordwell, who first denounced him as a murderer at heart and declaring that no extenuating circumstances existed in the case.

John McNamara was given fifteen years at San Quentin. John, who was secretary and treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, was bitterly denounced by both District Attorney Fredericks and the judge.

At the last minute the judge announced that he would sentence the McNamaras in Judge McCormick's court room in the Hall of Justice building, instead of his own in the Hall of Records.

At 10:15 a. m. the judge arrived and took his seat.

At 10:20, the McNamaras, handcuffed to Sheriff William Hammond and his assistant, entered, and took a position at the district attorney's table. Shortly after 10:30 a. m. James was sentenced after Fredericks made a plea for a life sentence as a penalty.

KING OF SIAM CROWNED POMP CHARACTERISTIC

Bangkok, Dec. 5.—Somdech Phra Paramendh Maha Vajiravudh was crowned king of Siam with characteristic oriental pomp. King Vajiravudh, who is 31 years of age, succeeds his father, King Chulalongkorn, who died in October, 1910. The ceremony took place at the royal palace. It was a lengthy mixture of Siamese and Buddhist rites, and at its close the king, wearing the crown and royal robes, presented himself to his subjects.

The United States and the big European powers were represented either by their ministers and consuls or by special ambassadors.

There was a state banquet at the palace. The festivities will last until December 10th, and will cost more than $1,000,000.

BANK FURNISHES COWS TO ENCOURAGE FARMERS

SPECIAL TO THE HERALD

PORTLAND, Dec. 5.—A Redmond bank has made arrangements to bring in several carloads of good dairy stock for ranchers of that section, following the same plan as that of Bend capitalists in furnishing brood sows to farmers in that locality.

Redmond, with a large area of irrigated alfalfa growing all about it, should make an ideal dairy center.

Local Thief Pardoned By West, His Relapse To Crime, Pardon Revoked

J. W. Norris, a thief well known in police circles here, and who was recently pardoned by Governor Oswald West and given a state job in the naval militia, has had his pardon revoked by Ben W. Olcott, acting governor during West's eastern trip. Norris is accused of issuing worthless checks and with carousing on the naval cruiser Boston at Portland.

Norris was sentenced from this city last spring to serve five years in the penitentiary for obtaining $75 from J. W. Cain under false pretenses. Norris was sentenced by Judge Benson. While here Norris was accused of stealing a trap belonging to Eugene B. H... surveyor. He is also understood to have deserted from the navy. He was for a time on the Baltimore, from which he is said to have been committed to a prison ship for an assault on a boatwain's mate.

While here Norris and a roommate occupied a room at Wallace Baldwin's house. It was noticed at the time that they had a kit of tools in the room, but nothing was thought of it. When Norris got in trouble the roommate disappeared, and the opinion has been since that the tools were used for burglary.

Women Vote For Los Angeles Mayor, McNamara Case May Be Influence

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—Shoulder to shoulder with women who voted for the first time here, big crowds were at the polls today for deciding the next city election after the most bitter fight in the city's history.

The opponents were Mayor Alexander, representing the good government forces, and Job Harriman, representing union labor and socialists. The weather was ideal. Alexander's chances are favored, owing to the McNamara's confession. Harriman was one of the McNamara's attorneys.

Attorney C. F. Stone left this morning for Salem, where he will appear before the supreme court in the case of Donart vs. Ball, which was appealed from this county. John Irwin, who is the opposing counsel in the case, will leave for Salem in the morning.
