BELT CRATER LAKE BY CIRCULAR ROAD

ARANT RECOMMENDS

PARK SUPERINTENDENT PROPOSES GRAND SCENIC HIGHWAY GIRDLE TO FOLLOW RIM OF FAMOUS HOLLOW

The construction of a road thirty-five miles in length, completely encircling Crater Lake, is recommended by the superintendent of the Crater Lake National Park, W. Frank Arant, in his annual report to the secretary of the interior, which has just been made public.

"The proposed road," says the superintendent, "has been located and surveyed, and for most of its distance will be immediately upon the rim of the crater. It will be from 1,000 to 2,000 feet above the lake, and at an elevation of from 7,000 to 8,000 feet above sea level. It will afford an unobstructed view of the surrounding country in all directions as far as the eye can reach, and will be beyond question one of the grandest scenic roads in the world."

Other road surveys completed during the past season are as follows: From the south boundary of the park to the superintendent's headquarters, 8 miles; from the west boundary to the superintendent's headquarters, 6 1/2 miles; from the headquarters to Crater Lake, 5 miles; from the east boundary to the rim of the lake at a point south of Mount Scott, 9 miles. The road last mentioned will follow Crater Creek by the foot of the most rugged localities in the park.

From the southern and eastern boundaries were built forty-six years ago," says the superintendent, "by the troops at Fort Klamath for the purpose of hauling supplies for use at the post. They are simply tracks little wider than a wagon, and cut through the trees and bushes. By constant use these narrow roads have become veritable gutters the width of a wagon and one or two feet deep, and it is very difficult for teams to pass. These roads have been kept in the best condition possible with the meager sum which has been available for improvement work in the park. At some points these roads have been widened so that teams can pass, but except at such places it is very difficult for teams to pass, as the trees, logs and bushes are too close to the road to permit a team to turn out of the narrow track.

"These roads also become very dusty in summer, so much so that it is very disagreeable to travel over them the greater portion of the season. "The dust could easily be overcome by the use of road sprinklers, there is an abundant supply of water with good fall suitably distributed along the roads, so that tanks could be filled by gravity. More real benefit could be derived from the small outlay of money that would be necessary to install this improvement than in any other manner with the same amount of expense.

"I cannot too strongly urge that a sprinkling system be installed and continued through the dry season of 1912. Three good sprinklers should be purchased and tanks erected at suitable places. If these roads were sprinkled they would need little other improvement, as they would incline to fill up and become more level. Instead of being cut deeper and deeper by the wheels of the vehicles passing over them. These sprinklers could then be used upon the better roads in the park when they shall have been constructed."

The enlargement on the north of the park is recommended in order to protect the game. The area which it is proposed to add to the park is bounded as follows:

Beginning at the northwest corner of the park and thence running north along the meridian 122 degrees west longitude to the north line of township 27 south; thence west to the northwest corner of township 27 south, range 3 east; thence south to the parallel 43 degrees 4 minutes north latitude; thence east along the parallel 43 degrees 4 minutes to the place of beginning.

In order to prevent persons from endangering their lives, it is proposed to close the park against all travel between December 1 and June 1, except by written permission from the superintendent. "This rule should be made," says the superintendent, "in order to prevent reckless or careless people not acquainted with the conditions in these high mountains from hazarding and probably losing their lives. If persons desiring to enter the park in winter were required to make application to the superintendent there would be opportunity to ascertain whether the party or parties were endangering their lives or whether they were properly equipped and capable of taking care of themselves."

A basket social will be given by Local Ewanna, socialist party, at 7:30 Saturday evening, December 9, 1911, at the hall under the public library. A literary and musical program will be rendered. Admission free. Everybody welcome, especially workmen and their families.

Attorney John H. Napier, who has been ill of late, has gone to Los Angeles for a rest in the hope of improving his health.

Those Who Like Pork May Have It Served Liberally At The Opera House

If you think your grip is good better try it tonight on the greased pig, which will be turned loose to test the holding powers of the holder of the lucky number at the Houston opera house. If you are timorous to tackle the proposition, get your friends together, and form a holding company, to see what can be done.

Robert Athon and Effie Johnson will put on a new act, which will be mighty interesting, but expect to be outclassed for once in the shape of a real, absolute, sincere, bona fide scream, which that greased pig stunt is sure to be. All efforts made today to learn who will coat the porker with the elusive substance were futile, as the manager John V. Houston is on the secret, and, being a secret order man, knows how to hold on to little matters of this nature.

"No, I cannot tell you who will grease the pig," he declared, firmly, yet in a kindly tone.

"Oh, Mr. Houston, please tell us who will grease the pig? Our readers are so anxious to know. Will it be thou?"

The manager positively refused to budget from his air of mystery, so that who will grease the pig may never be known. He denied flatly that he would grease it, and would not say whether it would be Mr. Athon or Miss Johnson. But he did unbend from his austere position enough to concede that the pig would be well anointed with the slippery stuff.

"It'll be something slick, you may bet on that," he added. It is understood that vaseline, heavy petroleum, butter, lard, mutton tallow and a number of other very smooth compositions will be plattered over the porcine brute, who will weigh in at ringside at about fifty pounds.

If any chosen young man is afraid to rise to the occasion for fear of his Sunday best, all he has to do is speak up, and Brother Athon will furnish the necessary impervious overalls.

If any diffident damsel gets the lucky number and fears that she can get close enough to the pig to spoil her snary, Slater Johnson will furnish a harem skirt, which will be all the protection needed.

Officers advised him to "bank it." The "thrifty thirty" were escorted in state to the city limits and told to "go to California and get rich." They were all picked up in a search for a thief who snatched Mrs. E. Frank's purse, which contained $15 and a diamond ring.

WILL HIBERNATE ON HOMESTEADS

STEAMER WINEMA MAKES SPECIAL TRIP FROM ODESSA FOR SETTLERS TO BUY PROVENDER TO LAST THROUGH COLD SNAP

Skipper John Totten of the Winema took his vessel up to Odessa yesterday for the last time, and she will lie up for the winter. And the Winema carried more good people and good things than for some time.

It was a pilgrimage of homesteaders who had come down on the boat on Tuesday to lay in their supplies for the winter, and the skipper, Fred Murphy of the O. K. Transfer company and the settlers were kept busy corraling provender and baggage to get to the boat early yesterday afternoon.

The cap'n knew there was ice on the way, and wanted to have plenty of time to make his last trip a very slow one, if necessary, for marine travel is about petered out for this year, on account of the ice cakes in Upper Lake Klamath.

The company on board the boat, who all have claims within a five-mile radius of romantic Odessa, included the following, besides the boat's captain and Fireman Brewer:

Mrs. W. C. Neff, wife of the forest ranger; Frank Carlson, C. W. Zachary, Charles Curtis, Willy Ferguson, Burk Wilson, Miss Curtis, Hans Nelson.

Mrs. Antonette Martin has been holding a clerkship temporarily in the office. Tomorrow there will be a civil service examination for the purpose of filling the vacancy with a regular clerk. It will be conducted by Jess Siemens, who is one of the postoffice force.

MEMORIAL DRAWN UP BY COMMITTEE

SUBJECT OF NEED FOR FEDERAL BUILDING AMPLY COVERED IN DRAFT FORMULATED BY SPECIAL COMMITTEE

Last night the committee appointed by Mayor Fred T. Sanderson to draft a memorial to congress on the subject of a federal building here met in the office of County Judge Will S. Worden and framed the document.

The committee, which consists of County Commissioner C. Guy Merrill, Caleb T. Oliver, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; Justice of the Peace Charles Graves, A. C. Wrenn, owner of the Pioneer Press, and Wesley O. Smith, proprietor of the Evening Herald, brings out prominently in the memorial that this city has increased to 6,000 from 2,800 since the last government census, is logical distributing point for a large territory, is 200 miles by rail from any town of considerable size where government business may be transacted, the prospective railroad advantages the city will enjoy the enormous expense—comparatively—of federal cases which arise here and have to be taken to Portland, 568 miles away, for trial; the postoffice, reclamation, Indian and forestry branches of the government, which have extensive work here.

Other facts are brought to press on the subject.

Copies of the memorial will be sent to the upper and lower houses of congress and to members of the Oregon delegation in congress.

MAKE SCHOOLBOY SCOUTS HARROW TEACHER'S IDEA

Make Training Part of Curriculum if Success Attends Experiment to Which General Baden-Powell Has Given His Approval.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—If an experiment to which General Baden-Powell has given his approval is successful, "scouting" will be incorporated into the curriculum of the public schools of Great Britain.

The originator of the idea is Ernest Young, headmaster at the county secondary school at Harrow, who says: "A great many subjects in the curriculum, such as geography, surveying and mathematics, are associated with the work done by the Boy Scouts. I believe that the movement promotes a corporate spirit among boys, and does great good from the physical and moral points of view. Therefore, next spring and summer my boys will do their studying in camp, instead of in the class room. Instead of classes we will have patrols. The boys will prepare and cook their own meals.

"By fall we should be able, by mental tests, physical examinations, and so forth, to determine whether it will be advisable to make 'scouting' a permanent fixture in our schools."

REVIVE MOYER-HAYWOOD CASE, OBJECT THOUGHT

Spokane Paper Says Former Wife of Pettibone Has Been Offered Pardon to Give Her Knowledge of Famous Murder Incident

United Press Service SPOKANE, Dec. 8.—A sensation involving Sidney Norman, it is declared, was sprung today when it is learned that Mrs. Frances Sams, former wife of C. A. Pettibone, had been offered $500 for what knowledge she possessed in regard to the now dormant Moyer-Haywood conspiracy.

A Spokane paper alleges that Mrs. Sams was to receive the money by involving men previously arrested in connection with the murder of Governor Steunenberg of Idaho.

She is declared to have refused to consider the offer.

Union men here believe the alleged offer is an attempt to revive the case on the part of men interested in the Couer d'Alene mining ventures, of which Norman was a prominent figure.

Noland Testifies He Turned Down Offer To Settle In Behalf Of Carroll

In the case of John D. Carroll vs. George Noland to recover property valued at $2,662, which the plaintiff alleges he left on the Altamont ranch, the defendant was on the stand most of the morning.

He stated that he had asked Martin Bros., who, according to the testimony, had a mortgage for $3,000 on the chatties, to come and get the property, as he did not want mortgaged property on the ranch that might be subject to action by the mortgagee. The contention of the defendant is that he did not buy the property because it was mortgaged, and that he notified Carroll that he would not buy it.

Evidence was introduced this morning showing that an offer had come from Seattle to settle the case by turning over $1,000 and certain property to Carroll, and Noland testified that he had turned down this proposition, adding that if there was any money due it would be $500 from Carroll to him.

An odd feature of the case was that when Judge Percy R. Kelly sustained an objection by Attorney Thomas Drake, the latter afterward withdrew it, which tended to confuse things somewhat. Drake explained to the court that he did not mean to over-ride his honor, but that after he had made his objection he had obtained information which led to his change of attitude. The court stated that it did not wish to keep the attorneys from trying the case, but as the proceeding was irregular it would show plainly in the record in case of a higher court passing on the issue.
