RIDDING CATTLE OF FEVER

TWENTY-FIVE THOUSAND DOL-LARS spent in dipping cattle and horses will practically abolish the Rocky Mountain spotted fever from Montana, according to the Journal of the American Medical Association.
 Supplementing the work of the late H. T. Ricketts in the study of the fever tick in the Rocky Mountain regions, the bureau of entomology has recently completed a study of this insect with the view of eventually eradicating it and the disease it produces from the Rocky Mountain region.

This work is described in a recent bulletin. Rocky Mountain spotted fever has attained its greatest virulence in the Bitter Root Valley in Montana and in certain parts of Idaho, although the tick is distributed over much of the Rocky Mountain regions far south as New Mexico. The mortality from this disease in Montana has been as high as 70 per cent, and, taking into consideration the whole area over which spotted fever is more or less prevalent, it is estimated that there are 750 cases each year with probably 75 deaths. It was determined from the investigations in the Bitter Root Valley that the tick is practically restricted as far as the adult stage is concerned, to the larger domestic animals, chiefly cattle and horses. This discovery, which was made originally by Dr. Ricketts, and which has been more firmly established by the recent work of the bureau of entomology, is the key to the plan of control that is recommended in the bulletin.

It is in the adult stage of the insect that it attaches itself to these domestic animals, which results in bringing it in proximity to human beings. Its eradication involves the "dipping" or heat treatment of the cattle and the horses in the Bitter Root Valley of Montana for several months in the spring. It is estimated that this plan will result in practically abolishing the fever tick, and thus in the elimination of spotted fever, and that the total cost of this work for three years in Montana would be less than $25,- 000.

SOTTO VOCE

Judge Henry L. Benson used to work at the case, and now he works at cases. It's only the difference of one "s", but a pretty fair sized difference at that.

Never were three finer bald heads assembled in one law suit than when the other day Judge Percy R. Kelly listened to a case in which appeared Attorneys Charles Hardy of Eugene and Charles F. Stone of this city. The judge will probably have the editor baled before him for lese majesty, but the truth must be told. Incidentally the editor has a cranium that is not exactly the most hairy extant.

Capital and

 Kept Busy

In the right channels to keep the nation prosperous. National prosperity is the collective result of local prosperity and "confidence" is the mysterious thing back of both. Confidence is necessary in all walks of life to bring success, for without it there can be no future. Our own town needs the confidence of her people. A town is known by its works just as a man is known by his deeds. There's no better way to show your confidence in the town than to be known as a home owner and no quicker way to gain your share of the independence for which our Revolutionary fathers fought than to own a home. Better start today —come in and talk it over with us—we can give you a good idea of the total cost as well as the kind of timber you'll need.

SUMMONS

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Klamath County.
 Lizzie Orr, Plaintiff, vs.
 George H. Orr, Defendant.

To George H. Orr, the above-named defendant:
 In the name of the State of Oregon: You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit, on or before the 30th day of December, A. D. 1911, that being the last day within which defendant is allowed to answer herein, as fixed by the order of the court for publication of summons herein; and if you fail so to appear and answer, the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief prayed for in the complaint filed herein, to wit: For a decree and order of the court: That the bonds of matrimony now existing between plaintiff and defendant be forever dissolved; that plaintiff have the custody of the minor child, Rebecca Orr, of plaintiff and defendant; that defendant pay the sum of fifteen dollars per month for the support of said child; that defendant be restrained from in any manner interfering with the personal liberty of the plaintiff or said minor child or plaintiff's custody of said child; and for such other relief as to the court shall seem just and proper.

This summons is published in the Evening Herald, a daily newspaper published at Klamath Falls, in Klamath county, Oregon, by order of the Honorable Henry L. Benson, judge of said circuit court, dated November 16th, 1911, directing such summons to be so published once a week for six consecutive weeks.

Date of first publication hereof is November 16, A. D. 1911.
