

OLD BILL STIRS UP THE CITY COUNCILMEN

MOORE PRESENT ONE DATING BACK SEVEN YEARS, WHILE BOARD DETERMINES TO CUT RATE FOR LIGHT

A bill dating back to 1905 was presented to the council last night. It was from C. S. and R. S. Moore, and was accompanied by an affidavit of its propriety, made by R. S. Moore before County Clerk Charles De Lap. It was for lumber, considerable of which was furnished during the first six months of 1905, while the balance of the items refer to 1910.

"They ought to collect their bills better," was the sentiment of Councilman Russell A. Alford, expressed when City Recorder Thomas F. Nichols read the bill to the council. "We don't know anything about 1905."

"That was before some of us came to town," suggested Mayor Fred T. Sanderson, amid laughter. He came to the city since 1905, while Councilman O. W. White came in 1903.

Councilman White suggested that the bill be held up and the books of the makers of the bill inspected. Action on the bill was therefore deferred.

The Klamath Falls Light and Water company's bill of $407.45 was held up for the present, Councilman White, who is chairman of the finance committee, declaring that the bill should be cut, so far as city lighting was concerned, to 3 1/2 cents per c. p., 5 cents being the basis on which the bill was rendered. He moved to this effect, Councilman Charles McGowan seconding. The motion prevailed.

Mr. White said a conference had been held with General Manager Geo. J. Walton of the Klamath Falls Light and Water company, and that the official had said it would be unfair to cut the November bill, on which he had already reported to his chief officers, but had indicated that the cut on the December bill would not be protested.

"He can cut off the light if he wants to," suggested Councilman Alford.

"Of course he can, or he can charge 15 cents if he wants to," added Councilman White.

ESQUIMAUX IN ALASKA DOING WELL

hunting boat scuttled by the tusks of an infuriated walrus; he has fearfully carried law into rough, lawless winter whaling stations in the Arctic ocean; he has faced death in a score of forms. But of all these he will say nothing. He prefers to talk about the government's Alaskan reindeer herd, of which he was the creator, and is the present administrative head.

"We got the idea of importing reindeer from Siberia that first winter we were at Cape Prince of Wales," he said. "The country then had a bad reputation. But after we had learned a little more of the Esquimaux language we discovered that most of the trouble between Esquimaux and the whites resulted from ill treatment of the natives. We found them kindly, good natured people, with more native intelligence than Indians have, and eager to learn the white man's ways. Their chief faults were drunkenness and a tendency to steal whatever they could."

"We had some trouble with them at first, but we insisted on having our way. When they saw we were absolutely just and fair with them their attitude changed. We taught them that stealing and drinking were wrong and they listened to us. Today it would be hard to find a more honest people than the Esquimaux living from Cape Prince of Wales northward, and drunkenness is almost unknown. Also, they are the most advanced of the Esquimaux in carrying out our teachings of cleanliness and hygiene."

"That first winter we learned that the Esquimaux wanted to own reindeer, but that the revenue officers would not permit the importation. Some of the natives even owned reindeer in the Siberian herds across the straits. And it seemed a shame that they were forbidden to bring their property across from Asia, so near that the Siberian heights could be seen over the water on clear days."

"We appealed to Washington for permission to import reindeer. But other government agents had preceded us in this request. Before we had a reply from our letter that summer a revenue cutter put into port with a shipment of reindeer on board. We were overjoyed to know that the prohibition law had been removed, and set about getting more."

In the year 1892 came the first large importation. We brought 'in 1,200 that year, and from these grew our present herd, scattered throughout Alaska, and numbering over 35,000.

"The reindeer policy was gradually evolved. We impress upon the Lapps and Esquimaux that the reindeer are exclusively their property and care. For instance, they are not allowed to sell a female reindeer to white men, so that the brood animals are to be perpetually in the custody and ownership of the natives."

"We usually establish a reindeer herd wherever we have a native school. The school superintendent has supervision over the herd though the animals are owned by the natives. When a new herd is to be set up the superintendent sues for possession of the land for a four-year term. For his first year's services, in addition to his living, the apprentice receives six reindeer; the second year eight, and the third year ten and the fourth year ten. So that what you may term a journeyman herder owns thirty-four reindeer."

"They are then free to breed their animals and sell their calves or stock of any age or sex to the other natives."

"Reindeer are food, clothing and transportation to the natives. As food, reindeer is delicious, resembling both mutton and beef, but more palatable than either. Along in October, when the deer are fat from a summer's feeding on grasses and foliage, they are best for eating. The natives take reindeer tallow and mix red moss berries into it, making the dish look like ice cream, and which is fine to eat."

"The reindeer finds his food along the ways. He can paw through the snow when tethered out and find moss to eat. He is strong, so the driver can ride. And the reindeer can travel forty miles a day and keep it up for a week at a time."

SOME FACTS CONCERNING YOUR WATCH

The balance wheel in modern watches makes one revolution each time the watch ticks. The watch ticks five times each second, 360 times in one minute, 18,000 times in one hour, 432,000 times in one day and 157,680,000 times in one year.

A variation of 1/1,000 part in the vibration of the hair spring which controls the balance wheel will make a difference of fifteen minutes in one day.

If the watch owner will think a moment he will see that it is necessary to give the watch fairly good treatment in order to get good time out of it.

A Speck of Dust, rancid oil, cracked jewels, loose screws and many other things will spoil the delicate adjustment.

As an expert of many years experience in watch repairing I solicit your patronage, and guarantee all my work to give satisfaction.

POST OFFICE BUSINESS SHOWS BIG INCREASE

LAST QUARTER OF 1911, ESPECIALLY, GAINS, DESPITE FACT OF PRACTICALLY NO TRANSIENT RESIDENTS

Postmaster Clyde Brandenburg has prepared a statement of business of the Klamath Falls postoffice, which shows the year's transactions totalled $15,663.61, by quarters, as follows: first, $3,653.70; second, $3,642.83; third, $4,105.88; fourth, $4,261.20. The showing is a considerable increase over 1910, when the receipts were far ahead of any previous year.

The last quarter of 1911 made an especially good showing, being $4,261.20, against $3,724.45 for the last quarter of 1910. This is an increase of $536.75, despite the fact that during the last three months of 1911 there were practically no transients in the city. At the same time in 1910 there were a large number of temporary residents in Klamath Falls engaged in paving and other work. This class of people is often a heavier patron of the postoffice, in proportion than ordinary residents, for the reason that it is in constant communication with families and friends out of town, and has to do a great deal of business by mail.

Postmaster Brandenburg is greatly pleased with the showing, and is receiving the congratulation of his friends on the attainment.
