

WILL MAYOR SPRINT FOR FOURTH TERM?

SPEAKS OF WEATHER

WHEN MATTER IS BROACHED—HE AND POSSIBLE OPPONENTS WAITING TO SEE WHAT THE OTHER SIDE WILL DO

Several people in Klamath Falls and suburbs would like to know whether Mayor Fred T. Sanderson stands on the proposition of running again for office. The mayor when asked yesterday as to his intention in the matter said that it was too soon a time of the year to make an announcement.

The general impression is that the mayor would be willing to take the office again, and will announce himself to that effect later. One reason he is believed to refrain from voicing his sentiments this early in the game is to give him a chance to find out who all the possible entries are. One reason the possible entries are believed to refrain from declaring themselves is because they want to find out what Mayor Sanderson is going to do. It appears to be a waiting game on both sides. One reason they are waiting is that if the mayor runs, some of them will stay out of the race.

His friends assert that the mayor has no fear but what he will be elected if he runs, and the fact that he has been elected three consecutive terms is to a certain extent a criterion of strength without any further consideration. He took the office nearly four years ago, when, as president of the board of council, he was chosen by that body to fill the unexpired term of the late John R. Blitta, who retired owing to ill health and the desire to seek a milder climate.

None of the candidates are anxious to start the fight any earlier than they have to. In brief, they are said to figure that there is no use of making the scrap a longer one than absolutely requisite. They look upon this as a waste of good energy.

Among the "mentions" for the office so far are William T. Shive, Colonel M. G. Wilkins, councilman from the First ward, and G. W. White.

Mr. White has said that he does not care to run, while it is a question whether either of the others would go in. Colonel Wilkins is very well known and very popular. Mr. Shive has a large acquaintance, and his well known aggressive character would go a long way toward making a campaign interesting.

Mr. White is also on the council, and one of the best informed men on city affairs in Klamath Falls, taking a deep and lively interest in all that goes on. He founded the First National bank, is a large property owner, and is regarded as representative of a progressive element. He has often been alluded to as "the watchdog of the treasury" of the city, as he believes that the city can advance without useless expenditures of public money.

There are several other men who are contemplating the prospect with mixed feelings. Some of them are men who would stand about as much show of being elected as a man with tallow legs would if he were situated in a certain famous abiding place. They would just love to know whether this or that or the other man is going to jump in, but there is no one to tell them yet. They realize that they cannot put up a very strong fight against some strong ones who might go after the office, and hope that the outlook will prove easy.

Tracey, who is but 32 years of age, is passionately fond of the child. The postoffice department offers $1,000 and the railroad company an equal amount.

The description given of the robber puts him as about 5 feet 9 inches tall, with a complexion rather bloodless. He looked as though he might be a consumptive, although this might have been due to excitement. He was very white during his trip in the car. His face was rather thin, and clean shaven, and he was about 35 years old. He wore a light brown slouch hat, which looked old and which was not creased, pulled down over his eyes. He had on a dark suit, either very blue or very black, and had on a black four-in-hand tie. He had no overcoat. His shoes were black. He spoke with a soft voice in low tones, using good language. He carried a medium sized nickel plated revolver.

Forty-Year-Old Daughter of Dead Octogenarian Placed Under Arrest After Bloody Shirtwaist Is Found in Her Room

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—An unidentified and as yet unapprehended "Jack the Ripper" is believed by the police to have been the murderer of aged Isaac Fullerman, 80, and his wife, Rachael, 70, who were found dead in their rooms here. Mutilation on the body showed during the autopsy that the crime is the work of a pervert. Death resulted in both cases from a sharp instrument being driven through the right eye to the brain.

Elicha Fullerman, the 40-year-old daughter of the old couple, arrested after a blood stained shirtwaist and other bloody garments were found in her apartments, protests her innocence. She is at Bellevue hospital under observation by alienists.

Fullerman was a retired manufacturer, who, although rich, always refused to leave his home. Aaron Fullerman, one of their three children, discovered the bodies.

United Press Service
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 11.—Cornered after a battle of wits, Carnegie admitted that the steel trust dominates the industry, and that the day of competition has passed.

The Scotchman resorted to jests and anecdotes in his effort to avoid arguing. Asked why competition had ceased he said: "Because corporation representatives were able to sit down and agree to fix and maintain prices. This is obvious."

Asked how conditions were remediable, he said the government should fix the maximum prices.

ALLEGED DUAL SEDUCER SHOT BY GIRL'S FATHER

Southerner Whose Daughters Were Employed as Domestic by Man With Evil Designs, Takes Pistol and Shoots Him Dead

COQUILLE CITY, Jan. 11.—B. F. Foot, a highly respected resident of Coquille City, and a member of the trial jury that recently convicted Charles Garrison of murder in the first degree, shot and killed a man named Wilcox near the latter's home a short distance from here.

Wilcox employed a daughter of Foot as a domestic about two years ago, and a few months later she was compelled to undergo a delicate operation unknown to her parents. Following the operation Wilcox is alleged to have shunned the girl for whose ruin he was responsible, and persuaded another of Foot's daughters to reside at his home. A few days ago

BOARD OF TRADE FIRE AND BROKERS FLEE

Wilcox became aware that the latter daughter was in trouble, and immediately went in pursuit of Wilcox.

Reaching his destination shortly after noon, he accosted Wilcox, and without argument shot him dead.

Foot then surrendered to the officers.

District Attorney Brown at Roseburg had been advised that Wilcox would be arrested charged with seduction, and the trial would proceed immediately. Two hours later he received a message to the effect that Wilcox had been murdered. This is the third murder in Coos county during the past eighteen months.

Foot will probably waive preliminary examination in order that his daughters may escape as much notoriety as possible. Foot is a Southerner.

PACKING HOUSE BEEF HAS TENDENCY TOWARD SKY

Price of Meat in Rose City Imitates Fabled Bovine Whose Activity Led Her to Take a Hop Above Famous Celestial Orb

PORTLAND, Jan. 11.—The fabled cow that jumped over the moon is being closely imitated by the price of beef in the Portland market. The price of packing house beef is today commanding the highest figure ever known. Even in the wholesale market steer beef is selling at 11 cents a pound and 10 cents for cows of the best quality. An additional half cent has been added to the price of mutton.

The price of potatoes has begun to soar for the same reason. Jobbing prices were advanced 10 cents per hundred pounds, with the prospects of a further rise, as stocks held here are short. Farmers are taking advantage of the situation, and are holding for more money.
