

HANLEY CALLS US PAPER BAG FOLKS

WILLIAM OF HARNEY

AYS NOT ENOUGH PEOPLE GO INTO MEAT RAISING BUSINESS AND THAT TOO MANY DROP OUT OF IT

William Hanley of Harney county, Oregon, who accompanied the delegation of Western Oregon east as far as New York, did not get away from there with them, says the New York Herald.

On the contrary, Mr. Hanley was discovered having breakfast in the dining room at the Waldorf-Astoria, New York, at 11 o'clock on Wednesday, and with a deliberation at that table the governors were now making from town to town and being received by committees and allowed to tell what a great and glorious section of the country was theirs.

West a fellow who lends money. He is likely to think he hasn't got a nickel unless he borrows to keep most his reserve fund in New York, and come that has its effect in making this the great center of finance in the country.

tion of the country demands it. We are still driving cattle 150 miles in order to ship them, but we are looking forward to the time when our old organizations will not have to do any more driving.

"I may tell you that the town of Burns is building a new school house and is planning the erection of a big hotel this spring. True, we are thirty miles north of the Harney lakes, and there has got to be a north and south railway line through the county to reach us, but Burns is in a strategic position, being in the wealthy part of the valley and surrounded by good soil.

"Are we hoping for great things from the coming of the railroads? Well, I look forward to it as being more of a state and national movement than with any thought of individual gain.

Later the money was refunded to him and he immediately took advantage of the opportunity and made tracks for other parts.

FOR DIVORCED WIFE

COURT INDICATES THAT SOME WHEREWITHAL MUST COME WITHIN TEN DAYS, OR JAIL FOR COURTNEY

Attorney C. C. Brower, representing Mrs. Pearl M. Courtney, recently divorced from Samuel M. Courtney, had the latter in circuit court before Judge Henry L. Benson this morning in an effort to segregate from Courtney some money which might be applied as an installment on the $800 judgment for the support of the two minor children.

Courtney was put on the stand, and the line of questioning which was put by Attorney Brower indicated that Courtney had made assertions to the effect that Mrs. Courtney was going to run away with Charles Rowan. When Mrs. Courtney was put on the stand she testified that she had intended, when she went to Bonanza some time since, to stay there and work all winter.

"Since the divorce was granted I have not had conversations with Mr. Courtney at any time save when someone else was in the room," she said. "I would not be alone with him under any circumstances. At one time when he spoke to me he said he supposed that now I had the divorce he guessed I heard from Charley Rowan all the time. He said he supposed I got a letter from him every day. I told him that it was not true, and that I had not heard from Mr. Rowan in any manner for ten or twelve days."

Mrs. Courtney testified that she had bought for one of the little boys a pair of shoes, buying them at the Golden Rule store for $5, and paying for them out of her own money. She said she had a purchase slip to show for them.

Attorney Brower moved the court that the defendant be made to pay $100 at least on the judgment within fifteen days. Judge Benson made the time less by saying that he would order that the defendant pay on the judgment within ten days the proceeds of the sale of some property at Goldendale, Wash., to M. M. Warner, or else commit him to jail.

Earlier in the week supplementary proceedings with a view to parting Courtney from some of his assets were had in court, at which time the man appeared with $12.10. The court ordered $13 to be paid to the office of County Clerk Charles R. De Lap, and permitted Courtney to retain the tenth part of a dollar.
