THOUSANDS OF ROBINS BRING ROSE CITY NEWS

That Spring Is at Hand—They Flock Northward, Pusy Willows Blossom on Warm Hillides, and Leaves Come on Willow Bushes

PORTLAND, Feb. 14.—Spring has made its appearance, and unless all usual signs fall there will be little more winter weather. Robins by the thousands are flocking northward and can be heard singing over the city. When these birds begin to make their way north from the warm southland it is pretty certain that the cold wintry weather is at an end. On the warm hillides the pusy willows are in blossom and the leaves are appearing on the willow bushes. Early plants and flowers are also shooting from the soil and rose bushes are covered with tender leaves.

NAUGHTY DANCERS BARRED BY ATLANTA OFFICIALS

Judge Remarks That Any Terpsichorean Effort That Is Too Risque for Gay New York Is Too Strong for Southern City

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 14.—The "Turkey Trot," the "Grizzly Bear," the "Bunny Hug" and the "Come-Back Kid" are on the black list in Atlanta. These sensational dances have been formally placed under the ban. Recorder Broyles and Chief Beavers of the police department discussed the propriety of the dances, and both agreed that they must not be tolerated in this city. They are construed as coming under the city ordinance that prohibits obscene dances of any kind.

This means that the fancy steps are barred from theaters and any places where public dances may be held. "Any dance that is barred from the dance halls of the Bowery in New York is certainly too swift for Atlanta," remarked Judge Broyles.

These dances are said to have been introduced for the sake of novelty by some of the visiting Yale students a few nights ago at a social function in one of Atlanta's clubs and they created much comment.

Only one case has been made in Atlanta for a violation of the obscene dancing ordinance. This was several years ago, when an actor named Truehart, then appearing at the old Star theater, was arrested. Judge Broyles at that time showed his opinion of immoral dances by imposing a fine of $100.75.

TEXAS NEGROES NUMEROUS BUREAU OF CENSUS SAYS

Nearly 700,000 of Total State Population of 3,000,000 Are Colored Folk, But Caucasians Are Increasing More Rapidly

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 14.—A preliminary statement of the white and negro population of Texas, by counties and principal cities, as shown by the returns of the thirteenth decennial census, has been issued by Director Durand of the bureau of the census, department of commerce and labor. The statistics were prepared under the direction of William C. Hunt, chief statistician for population in the census bureau, and are subject to revision.

The total population of Texas in 1910 was subdivided as to color as follows: White, 3,204,896; negro, 690,020; all other persons (Indians, Chinese, Japanese and other Asiatics) 1,626.

The equivalent figures for 1900 were: White, 2,426,669; negro, 620,722; all other, 1,319. For 1880 they were: White, 1,745,935; negro, 485,171; all other, 1,421.

The negro population constituted 17.7 per cent of the total population of the state in 1900 was less than that for the preceding decade. This is particularly the case with respect to the negroes, which show an increase from 1900 to 1910 of 69,298, or 11.2 per cent, as against an increase from 1890 to 1900 of 132,551, or 27.2 per cent. The increase in the white population since 1900 was 778,227, or 32.1 per cent, as compared with an increase from 1890 to 1900 of 669,734, or 39 per cent.

"I suffered habitually from constipation. Doan's Regulator relieved and strengthened the bowels, so that they have been regular ever since."—A. H. Davis, grocer, Sulphur Springs, Tex. Temple theater, Matinee daily, 2:30 p. m. Evening, first performance, 7:15, continuous.

The statistics were prepared under the direction of William C. Hunt, chief statistician for population in the census bureau, and are subject to revision.

The total population of Texas in 1910 was subdivided as to color as follows: White, 3,204,896; negro, 690,020; all other persons (Indians, Chinese, Japanese and other Asiatics) 1,626.

The equivalent figures for 1900 were: White, 2,426,669; negro, 620,722; all other, 1,319. For 1880 they were: White, 1,745,935; negro, 485,171; all other, 1,421.

The negro population constituted 17.7 per cent of the total population of the state in 1900 was less than that for the preceding decade. This is particularly the case with respect to the negroes, which show an increase from 1900 to 1910 of 69,298, or 11.2 per cent, as against an increase from 1890 to 1900 of 132,551, or 27.2 per cent. The increase in the white population since 1900 was 778,227, or 32.1 per cent, as compared with an increase from 1890 to 1900 of 669,734, or 39 per cent.
