KLAMATH FALLS, - - OREGON

A FEDERAL BUILDING

IT SEEMS quite certain that Klamath Falls is to have a federal building. The only question of doubt has been as to how soon we would get it, but from present indications it looks as if the present Congress would authorize the appropriation. The next most important thing to be determined is a suitable location. Ashland has had an appropriation for a federal building for over two years but has not got the building yet. The reason for this is that it took them more than a year to decide where they were going to build it, and in the meantime the department went ahead on the plans for several hundred other buildings in cities where there was no delay in selecting a site.

This should be a lesson to Klamath Falls and should rouse the people to the necessity of settling this question at once. If a site was selected and our representatives were notified of the fact at once, it would be of great assistance in getting favorable action by Congress, as it would show them that Klamath Falls was all business, and knew what it wanted.

We would suggest that a central and suitable site would be on the court house block, on the corner of Main and Fourth streets. The county could well afford to donate this city property without cost, as the erection of a $100,000 postoffice and federal building on this corner would almost double the selling value of the remainder of the property and would also assure the successful disposal of same if it was desired. At the present time the selling value of the court house block is of a very doubtful figure.

There is no public building of the vast importance to the retail section of a city as a federal building, where would be housed the postoffice and all of the officials of the many branches of the federal government, particularly in a city like Klamath Falls, which will be the headquarters of so many federal officers. The building of a federal building on the corner of Main and Fourth streets would mean the sale of the adjoining property and the erection of many fine business buildings. It would also settle forever the retail section of the city, and would enhance the value of the surrounding property as no other one thing could do.

Delays are dangerous and the people should grasp the opportunity when it presents itself. Good things do not go begging long, as there is always someone ready to accept them. Now is the time to act, and if the county court should be favorable they should be placed on record and our representatives in Congress notified at once that the site has been secured and to bring along the building. If this is done, there is no reason why we should not be able to see work started at an early date. There are hundreds of other cities in the United States that would jump at the chance of getting a public building.

KIMBALL BOOSTS LAKE COUNTY

"There is no further doubt about the future of your country," said J. F. Kimball of Klamath Falls at Hotel Lakeview last Saturday evening, "but I reiterate the statement I made here a year ago, that you people are fortunate in building with the Nevada California Oregon road rather than have a larger road come in here and be disappointed in the tonnage. There is no doubt about the country producing large and excellent crops, but development must come pretty fast before you could take care of the tonnage for a large line. I believe, like everyone else, that you are going to get a road, and that within a few years, but, of course, that is only a personal opinion.

"People on the outside are looking at your country, because it is generally recognized as one of the fairest countries in the Western country in the matter of tax regulation. You have large wealth in your timber in Lake county, and in course of time it will be utilized."

There are few men in the country that has more friends in Lakeview and Lake county than Jack Kimball, Lakeview Herald.
