A representative of a coast bureau in the city and will be at the meeting. The local committee urges persons interested in the continuation of the entertainments to be present this evening. PERMIT LET FOR TELEPHONE BUILDING

The contract was let this morning by P. E. Boley to J. L. Cunningham for the construction of the concrete building to be erected on Seventh street, between Main and Klamath, for the use of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company. The walls are to be constructed of concrete and made from the Shasta quartz and sand, and work is to begin at once.

MARY WALKER HER OWN PHYSICIAN

NEW YORK, March 26.—The champion woman's rights advocate, who has been ill last Sunday, is unimpaired. It was announced that Dr. Walker was weak and had had several light sweats and her general condition was weaker. It is feared she cannot recover.

Dr. Walker is her own physician and has been prescribing for herself. She has done all her life. Several physicians have been called in the case, but Dr. Walker will not see them. However, the doctors are given descriptions of the case by Miss Shepard, Mrs. Walker's secretary, and in this way they are able to prescribe, leaving to the secretary the task of administering.

LET THERE BE LIGHT

Rule stores, in the White-Maddox building.

As soon as the conduits are finished under the sidewalk the Klamath Falls Light and Water company will place the posts and lights. There are to be three posts, each with five clusters, and it is promised to have the juice turned on by Saturday evening of this week.

It is recognized that there is nothing that so beautifies the business streets of a city at night as much as a good supply of cluster lights. They are far superior to the old fashioned globes stuck twenty feet in the air on a pole. The merchants of all of the wide awake cities are not slow to realize the benefits of brilliant lighting in the retail section of the city, and in all of the larger cities of the coast they are putting in cluster lights at their own expense. As soon as the value has been demonstrated by Yannie Brothers it is more than likely that many of the other merchants and owners of buildings will follow their example.

BORAH DEFENDS PRIMARY LAW

IDAHO PROGRESSIVE TELLS MEN RATE THE LESSON TO BE LEARNED FROM THE STEPSON ELECTION

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Asserting that "no more vicious, treacherous, subtle, venal influence operated to the detriment of the people than the old caucus system," and forcefully defending the primary system, Senator Borah, of Idaho, today told the senate what he thought were the lessons of the election of Senator Isaac Stephens.

"Our friends who are opposed to the primary," said Borah, "have taken this opportunity to assail the primary system. With an excess of pleasure they point out how it fails to, what no one ever contended it would do, make all candidates decent and all men honest.

"Our friends exclaim in unrestrained derision that notwithstanding your primary law corruption still lives—omitting to state the most important fact that though it still lives it stands exposed. Corruption cannot live under the primary system if men have the courage, as they will, to punish those who stand exposed.

"A primary system, with a corrupt practice act, will make it impossible to control our elections by the use of money.

"Senator Stephenson could have put a million into a caucus and here and the chances are one in ten thousand it would have ever been known—and unknown we would in our ignorance have called the hideous cancer eating away at the vitals of the nation healthy.

"But he put in a hundred thousand dollars and even without a corrupt practice act and with an attempt to destroy original memoranda the exposure is nevertheless complete and the only thing now left to be determined is the judgment of the senate.

"If a man represents money in the race it will cost money to run. If he has nothing to give the people but money then money he must give them. If a man deals in ideas and issues, instead of patronage and checks, he will win over all the money you can put into the fight.

"One of the very things for which I hold Senator Stephenson responsible in this campaign is that he entered the race with his pocketbook for his platform. He says himself that after he turned his financial agents loose without limit as to the amount or as to the use, he seldom went near headquarters and met the people in no public gatherings. His opponents made the mistake of permitting him to name the weapons and fix the rules of the game and he defeated them.

"Nothing has been taken away under the primary system except the power of the caucus."

REVISOR COTTON DUTIES DOWN

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Recommendation for downward revision of the cotton duties and a demand for further funds for the tariff board was the burden of a message which President Taft sent to Congress, transmitting the report of the board.

Part of the message was a vigorous defense of the tariff board and in concluding Taft demanded an emergency appropriation of $20,000 monthly to enable the board to continue the work.

House democrats are determined to cut off all appropriations and the president's message is the opening gun of a fight for the existence of the tariff board. The cotton report says the effect of the tariff is not so much to add duty to the manufacturers' prices as to secure him an American market, which it does. It lays the high prices here to the cost of distribution from producer to consumer. Labor element of production is scantily considered.

ROCK CRUSHER STARTS WORK

Harris & Co., the contracting firm, this morning started operating its rock crusher, which is located on the hill above Conger avenue. Mr. Harris states that his company already has a large number of contracts for crushed rock, and expects to keep their plant running the greater part of the summer. Excavation has been begun by the company for the foundation of the Evans store building on Main, between Fifth and Sixth. Cofer Brothers have the contract for the building.

Mr. Harris states that the indications are very favorable for a large number of concrete sidewalks in Klamath Falls this year. He has started making the fill for several thousand feet of walk on both sides of Main street, between Eighth and Twelfth streets, all of which are to be of cement.

COOS BAY GRADE IS ONCE MORE UNDER WAY

EUGENE, March 26.—Fuller & Co., sub contractors on the Southern Pacific railroad being built from Eugene to Coos Bay, will receive four car loads of mules from California, and announce that grading on the low lands just west of Eugene will begin Monday or Tuesday. These sub contractors established a camp on the outskirts of Eugene last fall, but owing to extremely wet weather were unable to do much grading, having completed only half the half mile grade at the edge of town.

Other sub contractors have done several miles of grading on the higher elevations in the vicinity of Elmira. With a continuation of the present good weather, grading along the entire line between Eugene and the tunnel will soon be in progress.

WOOL SITUATION MOST PROMISING

GENERAL CONDITIONS IN LAKE COUNTY ARE BETTER THAN FOR YEARS—1913 CLIP WILL BE LARGE

The wool situation in Lake county this year, says the Herald, bids fair to be the best for the past decade, as the clip will be extraordinarily heavy and the wool is better.

No individual buyers have become active as yet, although Mr. Daniels, of the Tryon Company of San Francisco, has been skirting around the wool growers for the past week in Reno, Nevada. It is understood that no sales were made on account of the price offered.

While there will doubtless be many individual buyers here before the clipping season begins, it is generally believed that the bulk of the 1913 clip will be handled through the warehouse association at this place. The clip should run considerably over a million pounds this year.

The Stephens-Hunter Realty company has moved its offices from the Sage-Stratton building next to the postoffice to the McDonald building in the store room formerly occupied by the Club cigar store, on Main street, between Sixth and Seventh.

OPERATORS WILL NOT CONCEDE

FAVOR IMPROVING JEFFERSON STREET

Property Owners on Street on Hill Would Beautify the Same by Arranging for Parking—Walks Being Built

Many of the property owners and residents on Jefferson street along the high school hill have started a movement for the beautifying and improvement of their property and homes. Jefferson street runs along the side of the hill, so that one side of the street is much lower than the other, and an effort is being made to get all of the property owners to agree to narrow the street to thirty feet. In this way there would be eight or nine feet on either side that could be used for a boulevard. The street could be made level and with the upper boulevard gradually sloping, the difference in elevation of the two sides would not be so noticeable. The property between the street and walks could be planted to lawn and shade trees planted, and would greatly beautify the property.

CONGRESSMAN HAWLEY FAVORS HOMESTEADERS

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Congressman Hawley favors a law giving homesteaders the right to appeal to the courts in cases of contest or trouble over claims. Congressman Hawley's bill, H. R. 15,335, is intended to give enlarged rights to entrymen. In speaking of the bill, Mr. Hawley said:

"I have no ill will against the department of the interior, the general land office, or any of the officials or employees. My speech was a plea in behalf of legislation that I believe everyone in the west approves, providing relief from certain conditions of practice. Before and since the speech was made I have received many letters from entrymen and attorneys complaining of the conditions of which I spoke.

"I have asked many times to see or have copies of secret reports by special agents sent me that I might advise struggling homesteaders whom I thought were honestly striving to comply with the law, who wanted to know what objection there was to the issuance of their patents and who had no money to hire attorneys.
