

INJUNCTION NOT OBTAINED SO FAR

CALMINS IS TOO BUSY

EFFORT TO OBTAIN ORDER RE-STRICTING KLAMATH COUNTY
COURT WILL BE CONTINUED
BY PLAINTIFF

Attorney C. C. Brower has returned from Ashland, where he went to see Judge Collins in an effort to get that judge to sign the injunction asked by William Murdoch, aimed to prevent the Klamath county court from making any move toward locating a new court house on the Hot Springs site. Judge Collins refrained from signing the injunction on the ground that he had ahead of him about one month of jury work, another of equity cases, and a call to Portland following this labor, which would prevent him giving any time to the local issue for at least a number of weeks. It is stated that he believed if he signed a temporary injunction order he would later be asked to try the case on its merits, which he otherwise would not permit him an opportunity to do.

Mr. Brower said this morning that efforts to get another judge to sign the order would be continued, although he was not ready to make any further announcement.

ADJUSTS FIRE LOSS

The fire loss of O. C. Jensen, located on Ninth and Main streets, was adjusted and paid Saturday evening in full by the Horticultural of Salem, Oregon, through their local agent, J. G. Swan. This is the second loss this company has had in Klamath county, the other one being in the Sherman fire. Both losses have been adjusted to the entire satisfaction of the parties insured. This is an Oregon company, organized originally by Willamette fruit growers in 1907, and has grown rapidly in popularity and strength. During this time it has established a reputation for prompt settlement of claims, has built up a strong reserve fund, and has saved its members thousands of dollars in premiums.

IMPOSING CEREMONIES AT CATHOLIC CHURCH

The Easter services at the Catholic church were particularly brilliant, the ritual being carried through with majesty and imposing ceremony. The choir work was a distinct success, the membership consisting of the following young ladies: Agnes Matt, Marie Mattie Kather McAndrews, Katherine McAndrews, Beatrice McAndrews, Gertrude Day, Leona Graham, Marian Taylor, Harriett Lawrence, Irene Santanus, Viola Santanus, Clarence Santanus. The latter officiated at the organ. A masterly sermon was preached by the pastor, Rev. Father Wm. McElhin, S. J. He announced at the

Baseball Fever Begins to Show in Local and Fort Klamath Circles

A great deal of interest is being shown among devotees of baseball, and the proposed city league which has been under discussion for some time seems to be rounding into shape. Since the weather conditions are more favorable, so that a baseball game without the elements interfering is possible, the public may have a chance to witness some good fun games on long. Members of the various baseball organizations are of the opinion that if enough enthusiasm can be aroused to justify the necessary time and attention, measures may be taken to erect a grand stand and an up the grounds.

outset that the church had been the recipient of three beautiful statues during the week, and while he wished publicly to signify his gratitude to the liberal donor, he stated he was not in a position to announce his work to be of an unostentatious character.

REGISTER QUICK ON TAKE RESULTS

This evening will be the last one on which the office of County Clerk Charles H. De Lap will be open to accommodate voters who wish to register. Tomorrow registrations may be performed during the accustomed day hours, but the office will close at 5 p. m. and the registration books will be shut at a like hour, it being their last day. If any voter has not yet registered it behooves him to become animated and inscribe himself while he may.

Beginning tonight, registration books for the city of Klamath Falls will be open for registration every evening until 8 o'clock, so City Recorder Thomas F. Nichols announces with April 15th, when they will close at 8 o'clock, finally.

CRIMINAL LIBEL CASE DISMISSED

No further proceedings will be taken in the case of J. C. Maguire vs. William T. Shive, personally and as assignee of the Klamath Chronicle, for this morning Attorney C. M. Quinn, counsel for the plaintiff, appeared in chambers and secured from Judge Henry L. Benson of the circuit court an order of dismissal of this case. It was one for criminal libel, brought by Maguire on the strength of assertions printed some months ago in the now defunct Chronicle to the effect that there were certain designs in connection with the sale of the Wisconsin avenue paving bonds to the Warren construction company that were not all they might have been.

The choir of the Church of the Redeemer will hold its rehearsal on Wednesday evening as usual at Madison's Music store. A full attendance is required.

THORNET WANTED BACK EAST ALSO

ASSISTANT OF DR. LYMAN'S HOSPITAL EMPLOYMENT SKIPPED FROM BOSTON AFTER BURNING HIS AUTO INTO SOMBONE

It appears that L. B. Thornet, nurse of Dr. John Grant Lyman, was in trouble before he "got in bad" by helping the suave, erstwhile physician to escape from Providence hospital Oakland, and by himself escaping from the Klamath county jail. He fled from Boston about a year ago to avoid arrest for having run down a pedestrian with his automobile, picking out Southern California as his hiding place. It is said that he entered the employ of the genial and polished medical wearer of pink pajamas and corset socks at Los Angeles, and when the doctor was apprehended by the authorities and preboded by the authorities and

preboded by the authorities and

broke an ankle while attempting to elude them, the confinement of the doctor in the hospital gave Thornet a chance to seek employment as a private nurse for "Doc." It was his assistance of Lyman to slide from the sanitarium into Northern Oregon that made him his first notoriety in the West, which was quickly followed by his forsaking the Klamath county jail in the dark of a September night without even wishing Sheriff William B. Barnes a farewell.

Thornet was arrested on a ranch in Mora county, New Mexico. At a preliminary hearing before a United States marshal he waived all technicalities, and was started, in the custody of an officer, for San Francisco to stand trial. He was located, according to the San Francisco Examiner, through the efforts of Postal Inspector W. I. Madera and United States Marshal Elliott of San Francisco. Relatives of Thornet were first found in San Francisco and later at Willamette, near Boston. Those near Boston told United States Marshal Guy Murrie of Boston where Thornet was. Lyman is serving eighteen months for conspiring to escape, while his guard, C. D. Courtwright, who helped him get out, got six months.

SLOUGH FORCED OUT OF CONTEST

OPINION FROM ATTORNEY GENERAL THAT CERTIFICATE MUST BE FILED BEFORE NAME CAN GO ON PRIMARY BALLOT

The name of W. S. Slough will not appear on the official ballot as a candidate for the republican nomination for county school superintendent. An opinion received by wire Saturday from the attorney general is to the effect that in the case of a school superintendent it was necessary to have the teacher's certificate of the candidate filed before the county clerk could place the name on the ballot. Mr. Slough expected to have his certificate before the date of the primary election, but as the ballot has already gone to the printer, he was unable to get it in time for printing. This leaves Fred Peterson as the only republican candidate for the office to appear on the primary ballot.

E. O. Beardley of the Klamath Falls machine shop left Saturday afternoon with his motorcycle for Pelican Bay, where he will look over some work.

Mrs. Evan R. Reames returned Saturday evening from San Francisco, where she has been visiting since her return with Mr. Reames from spending the winter at Honolulu.

BATEMAN FAMILY LOSES DAUGHTER

MILDRED, AGED 8 YEARS, SUFFERED TO COMBINATION OF PNEUMONIA AND BRAIN FEVER—BURIAL TOMORROW

Mildred Mildred Bateman died this morning at 4 o'clock at the family residence on Main street, near Tenth, of a combination of pneumonia and brain fever. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Bateman, the family having come to this city from Washington last July, and was 8 years and 19 days old. The remains were taken to the Whitcomb undertaking parlors. Burial will be tomorrow at 2:30 o'clock, the funeral services to be at the Grand Methodist church.

Books Open Nights

Beginning April 8, the registration books for the city of Klamath Falls will be held open every evening until 8 o'clock up to April 15th, when the books will close at 5 p. m.

The high school will not send a ball team to Merrill to play, as predicted. This conclusion was reached by the athletic coach, E. V. Hawley, when he found that the local high school had not as yet chosen a team.

ARANT INSPECTS PARK PROSPECTS

SUPERINTENDENT OF CRATER LAKE RESERVE MAKES ADVANCE TRIP FOR PURPOSE OF RECONNOITERING

Superintendent W. Frank Arant of Crater Lake National Park left Sunday for an inspection trip toward the government property. He stated that he did not expect to reach headquarters, as the snow would not, in all probability, permit him to reach that point, but his trip is in the nature of a reconnoitering one, and may permit him to determine approximately when it will be possible to get into the park and reach headquarters for the preparatory measures which are taken every spring before the big reservoir is opened for travelers. John Ellis reports that there is some snow west of Fort Klamath, but this is expected to go off in a short time.

NEW CHINESE ALPHABET WOULD SAVE ORTHOGRAPHY

United Press Service
NAPLES, April 8.—Professor Rivetta of the Orient institution in this city, has compiled a new Chinese alphabet of forty-two letters, to take the place of the 50,000 characters now in use, which he says the new Republic will adopt. He claims that every word of the current Chinese language may be correctly expressed by means of his alphabet.

KNIGHTS ATTEND DIVINE SERVICE

MARONS OF TEMPLAR BRANCH PUT ON UNIFORM TO PARTICIPATE IN EASTER SERVICE, DINE AND POSE FOR PICTURES

Knights Templar of this city Sunday morning attended divine services of a special nature, appropriate to Easter, at the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer, of which Rev. Henry C. Collins is rector. The men were in the full regalia of their sodality. Prior to the services assembled at Masonic hall for preparation and drill. Following the services they went in a body, accompanied by their ladies, to the Livermore grill to dine, after which they stood up in front of the White-Maddox building and had a photograph taken.

OFFICE SEEKERS ATTEND OUT OF TOWN SOCIAL

PINE GROVE SCHOOL HAS ENTERTAINMENT AND BASKET SALE WHICH BROOKS BECCA FOR MEN SEEKING VOTES

On Saturday night there was an entertainment and basket sale at the Pine Grove school house near Otene Gap, for the purpose of raising money to provide the school with an organ. From the sale of baskets and door receipts a total of about $125 was gathered with which to purchase the desired musical instrument. Quite a company of candidates was on hand to take custody of baskets, enjoy the event generally, and, incidentally, speak a soft word calculated to entice a few votes. It is a coincidence that while on the printed program of the evening there was pleasant mention of a large number and variety of candidates, three out of seven political aspirants who made the pilgrimage to the school house were of those who want the position of justice of the peace, and not one man who could be called on for his name on the candidate's bill of fare. The candidates who were present were W. H. Shaw, E. S. Grigsby, Edward W. Guthridge, all republicans, and the justice; Jay Manning, the lone candidate for county clerk; Samuel L. Walker, democrat, candidate for sheriff; E. S. Grigsby, another democrat aspirant for the publican candidates for sheriff, and Fred Peterson of Beonana, republican

HERDS VALUABLE AS FEED CURBERS

Game Warden William Finley addressed this morning to the citizens of the Klamath county high school, who were gathered by Captain Finley, who was accompanied by candidates for county superintendent of schools. The play "Out in the Streets" was rendered to the great interest and edification of a charmed audience, after the following plan:

Colonel Wayne R. C. Short
Pete Clyde Grifith
Mrs. Wayne Rose E. Mulkey
Nina Wayne Carrie Andrews
Solomon Davis Judge Short
Matt Davis Clyde Andrews
Mrs. Bradford Mary Short
Missie Bradford Francis Short
Dr. McNeill Earl Rightmire
Dr. McNeill Ivan Iacobino
Synopsis: Act I.—Scene 1—Colonel Wayne's residence. "Your crime shall be exposed. Now leave me. Scene 2—Solomon Davis' office. "Matthew, I must have my money." "The woman will have to get—"
Scene 3—Room in tenement house. "Out in the streets."
Act II.—Scene 1—Street scene. "Give me that money or die." Scene 2—Colonel Wayne's residence. "I'll give him a settlement in full—principal and interest."
Act III.—Scene 1—Old Wayne homestead. Six months later. "May be good Lord shower blessing's onto ye."

ODD FELLOWS ON PAYING BASIS

MAY PAY OFF OUTSTANDING BONDS BEFORE THEY MATURE—DIRECTORS AND STOCKHOLDERS ARE CHOSEN

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the I. O. O. F. Hall Association was held Saturday evening, at which the following directors were elected: George L. Humphrey, H. E. Momyer, W. H. North, J. W. Tower and W. O. Smith. Following the meeting of the stockholders the directors met and elected officers as follows for the coming year: W. O. Smith president, George L. Humphrey vice president and W. H. North secretary-treasurer. An examination of the books showed the association to be in a very good financial condition and on a paying basis. Arrangements are to be made for the creation of a sinking fund, which is to be used in taking up the outstanding bonds from time to time. Although all of the bonds are issued for a term of twenty years, it is believed it will be possible, as soon as there is sufficient money in the sinking fund, for the association to invest this money in outstanding bonds, rather than invest it in other securities. With the present revenue of the association it is believed it will be possible to pay off all the bonds before the twenty years have expired.

DEFAULT ORDER SIGNED BY JUDGE

MORTGAGE PROCEEDINGS IN THE CASE OF HOPKINS AGAINST ADY ET AL COME UP IN CIRCUIT COURT

Judge Henry L. Benson in circuit court this morning signed an order of default in the mortgage foreclosure case of Eugene L. Hopkins vs. Abel Ady and Leona Ady, his wife, Mark F. Burns, J. P. Nowlin and Leonore F. Nowlin, his wife, Pierce Evans and Mrs. Joanna Evans, his wife, H. Finckert Jr., George Osburn, E. St. George Bishop, Big Basin Lumber Co., Henry Edwin Anderson, Klamath Water Users' Association and E. O. Vincent. There is an appeal to the supreme court pending in the case, in which the plaintiff is represented by E. L. Elliott and the defendant by John Irwin and C. M. O'Neill. The land involved is in the town of Midland, and the amount for which the foreclosure is sought total $4,912.69.

MAIL CHARTERS FOR INSPECTION

COPIES OF SANDERSON-MANNING DOCUMENT COME FROM PRINTERS' HANDS AND ARE BEING DISTRIBUTED

At city hall today the officials commenced to prepare for the mail for the voters copies of the Sanderson-Manning charter. The documents are just from the printer, and it is expected to have the several hundred which were ordered struck off in the hands of the voters by the middle of the week. According to the law, these must be distributed at least eight days before the election. This special charter election occurs April 22, and as this is April 9, the booklets will no doubt be a few days ahead of merely getting "under the wire."

ROOSEVELT AND CLARK NOMINATING PETITIONS

For Presidential and Delegate Purposes Are Filed Complete in California, While Those for Wilson and Taft Lack Few Petitions. United Press Service
SACRAMENTO, April 8.—Statistician Creman at the office of the secretary of state announced Friday that the presidential and delegate nominating petitions for Roosevelt and Clark had been filed complete, while those for Wilson and Taft lacked only a few country petitions for the delegate tickets. La Follette petitions have arrived from the First, Second, Third, Fifth and Sixth districts.

HATCHERY SITE IS TO BE LOOKED UP

TASK OF OFFICIALS

GOOD PROSPECT FOR THIS BECOMING DISTRIBUTION POINT FOR FISH EGGS—BOOK ON THE STATE'S FISH CONTEMPLATED

A thorough investigation is to be made of the streams of Klamath county for the purpose of determining a location for a fish hatchery and also the best place for securing trout eggs, according to the announcement of State Game Warden W. L. Finley. Irving Wilson, state fish culturist, who has charge of all the trout work in the state, and T. J. Craig, chief deputy game warden, are in the city, and will probably spend two weeks investigating the streams of the northern part of the county. In an interview with a Herald representative Mr. Wilson stated that he would go to Williamson River, Spring Creek and a number of the other trout streams to determine if it was possible to secure sufficient trout eggs to warrant the establishment of a hatchery. It is desired to secure several million eggs here for distribution throughout the state, and eggs secured in other sections will be sent here for distribution. Mr. Wilson speaks very favorably of the outlook for the establishing of a trout hatchery in Klamath county, but states that its location should be near where it is possible to secure the eggs. According to Mr. Wilson the open season for catching trout in Spencer Creek begins too early, as he states that this is too near the spawning season for the fish to be good eating, and in addition in many cases several thousand eggs are destroyed by smelt a few of the fish. Plans are being made for an illustrated descriptive booklet of the fish of Oregon, as Mr. Wilson states that there are very few, even among the best posted sportsmen, who are able to distinguish between many of the species of fish, particularly of the trout variety. He points out the advantage, especially to a section with the sporting resources of Klamath county, of a carefully prepared pamphlet setting forth all the species of fish to be found in the waters of the state. To the majority of fishermen a rainbow, dolly varden or steelhead does not mean any more than a salmon trout.

SHRIEVALTY CANDIDATES CONFIDENT AND FIVE ASPIRANTS GIVE VARIETY

E. St. Geo. Bishop is confident that if nominated he will be elected as a democratic sheriff, and so far is not known to have done any electioneering in the outer precincts, depending on catching the festive voter from the rural district when he comes to town. He is not as yet certain whether he will go over the county to solicit support. It is traditional that if a candidate goes to one part of the district it is well to visit all parts, rather than slight the task. Samuel L. Walker, chief of police, another democratic aspirant for the nomination for shrievalty, has been outside to see his constituents, to Ely, Beonana and Merrill, and is expected to take in some of the other outlying territory before winding up his campaign. Oscar L. Carter, B.S. Grigsby and C. C. Low, the republican candidates for the nomination, have their respective supporters well lined up, it is understood, but just whether all three can win appears to be quite doubtful. But they are full of confidence, and electioneering faithfully each and every day. With two democrats and three republicans, possibilities in the race the county certainly has a good market to pick from.

SHRIEVALTY CANDIDATES CONFIDENT AND FIVE ASPIRANTS GIVE VARIETY

E. St. Geo. Bishop is confident that if nominated he will be elected as a democratic sheriff, and so far is not known to have done any electioneering in the outer precincts, depending on catching the festive voter from the rural district when he comes to town. He is not as yet certain whether he will go over the county to solicit support. It is traditional that if a candidate goes to one part of the district it is well to visit all parts, rather than slight the task. Samuel L. Walker, chief of police, another democratic aspirant for the nomination for shrievalty, has been outside to see his constituents, to Ely, Beonana and Merrill, and is expected to take in some of the other outlying territory before winding up his campaign. Oscar L. Carter, B.S. Grigsby and C. C. Low, the republican candidates for the nomination, have their respective supporters well lined up, it is understood, but just whether all three can win appears to be quite doubtful. But they are full of confidence, and electioneering faithfully each and every day. With two democrats and three republicans, possibilities in the race the county certainly has a good market to pick from.

SHRIEVALTY CANDIDATES CONFIDENT AND FIVE ASPIRANTS GIVE VARIETY

E. St. Geo. Bishop is confident that if nominated he will be elected as a democratic sheriff, and so far is not known to have done any electioneering in the outer precincts, depending on catching the festive voter from the rural district when he comes to town. He is not as yet certain whether he will go over the county to solicit support. It is traditional that if a candidate goes to one part of the district it is well to visit all parts, rather than slight the task. Samuel L. Walker, chief of police, another democratic aspirant for the nomination for shrievalty, has been outside to see his constituents, to Ely, Beonana and Merrill, and is expected to take in some of the other outlying territory before winding up his campaign. Oscar L. Carter, B.S. Grigsby and C. C. Low, the republican candidates for the nomination, have their respective supporters well lined up, it is understood, but just whether all three can win appears to be quite doubtful. But they are full of confidence, and electioneering faithfully each and every day. With two democrats and three republicans, possibilities in the race the county certainly has a good market to pick from.

TASK OF OFFICIALS

GOOD PROSPECT FOR THIS BECOMING DISTRIBUTION POINT FOR FISH EGGS—BOOK ON THE STATE'S FISH CONTEMPLATED

A thorough investigation is to be made of the streams of Klamath county for the purpose of determining a location for a fish hatchery and also the best place for securing trout eggs, according to the announcement of State Game Warden W. L. Finley. Irving Wilson, state fish culturist, who has charge of all the trout work in the state, and T. J. Craig, chief deputy game warden, are in the city, and will probably spend two weeks investigating the streams of the northern part of the county. In an interview with a Herald representative Mr. Wilson stated that he would go to Williamson River, Spring Creek and a number of the other trout streams to determine if it was possible to secure sufficient trout eggs to warrant the establishment of a hatchery. It is desired to secure several million eggs here for distribution throughout the state, and eggs secured in other sections will be sent here for distribution. Mr. Wilson speaks very favorably of the outlook for the establishing of a trout hatchery in Klamath county, but states that its location should be near where it is possible to secure the eggs. According to Mr. Wilson the open season for catching trout in Spencer Creek begins too early, as he states that this is too near the spawning season for the fish to be good eating, and in addition in many cases several thousand eggs are destroyed by smelt a few of the fish. Plans are being made for an illustrated descriptive booklet of the fish of Oregon, as Mr. Wilson states that there are very few, even among the best posted sportsmen, who are able to distinguish between many of the species of fish, particularly of the trout variety. He points out the advantage, especially to a section with the sporting resources of Klamath county, of a carefully prepared pamphlet setting forth all the species of fish to be found in the waters of the state. To the majority of fishermen a rainbow, dolly varden or steelhead does not mean any more than a salmon trout.

SHRIEVALTY CANDIDATES CONFIDENT AND FIVE ASPIRANTS GIVE VARIETY

E. St. Geo. Bishop is confident that if nominated he will be elected as a democratic sheriff, and so far is not known to have done any electioneering in the outer precincts, depending on catching the festive voter from the rural district when he comes to town. He is not as yet certain whether he will go over the county to solicit support. It is traditional that if a candidate goes to one part of the district it is well to visit all parts, rather than slight the task. Samuel L. Walker, chief of police, another democratic aspirant for the nomination for shrievalty, has been outside to see his constituents, to Ely, Beonana and Merrill, and is expected to take in some of the other outlying territory before winding up his campaign. Oscar L. Carter, B.S. Grigsby and C. C. Low, the republican candidates for the nomination, have their respective supporters well lined up, it is understood, but just whether all three can win appears to be quite doubtful. But they are full of confidence, and electioneering faithfully each and every day. With two democrats and three republicans, possibilities in the race the county certainly has a good market to pick from.

SHRIEVALTY CANDIDATES CONFIDENT AND FIVE ASPIRANTS GIVE VARIETY

E. St. Geo. Bishop is confident that if nominated he will be elected as a democratic sheriff, and so far is not known to have done any electioneering in the outer precincts, depending on catching the festive voter from the rural district when he comes to town. He is not as yet certain whether he will go over the county to solicit support. It is traditional that if a candidate goes to one part of the district it is well to visit all parts, rather than slight the task. Samuel L. Walker, chief of police, another democratic aspirant for the nomination for shrievalty, has been outside to see his constituents, to Ely, Beonana and Merrill, and is expected to take in some of the other outlying territory before winding up his campaign. Oscar L. Carter, B.S. Grigsby and C. C. Low, the republican candidates for the nomination, have their respective supporters well lined up, it is understood, but just whether all three can win appears to be quite doubtful. But they are full of confidence, and electioneering faithfully each and every day. With two democrats and three republicans, possibilities in the race the county certainly has a good market to pick from.

SHRIEVALTY CANDIDATES CONFIDENT AND FIVE ASPIRANTS GIVE VARIETY

E. St. Geo. Bishop is confident that if nominated he will be elected as a democratic sheriff, and so far is not known to have done any electioneering in the outer precincts, depending on catching the festive voter from the rural district when he comes to town. He is not as yet certain whether he will go over the county to solicit support. It is traditional that if a candidate goes to one part of the district it is well to visit all parts, rather than slight the task. Samuel L. Walker, chief of police, another democratic aspirant for the nomination for shrievalty, has been outside to see his constituents, to Ely, Beonana and Merrill, and is expected to take in some of the other outlying territory before winding up his campaign. Oscar L. Carter, B.S. Grigsby and C. C. Low, the republican candidates for the nomination, have their respective supporters well lined up, it is understood, but just whether all three can win appears to be quite doubtful. But they are full of confidence, and electioneering faithfully each and every day. With two democrats and three republicans, possibilities in the race the county certainly has a good market to pick from.