IN TRADE OF STREET FOR ALLEY PARTIALITY WAS SHOWN BY

"In last night's Herald a statement to earn for the company the $43,047 mayor and council in the vacation of yours truly, a certain street for an alley and receiving $100 difference. We wish to make it plain that the $100 difference went to the city, and at the time this deal was practically made, a year ago last October, as the minute records show, this was a fair and equitable difference in the value of the two strips of land, as any property owner in that part of town would attest.

"It took no favoritism nor partiality to consummate the deal, as the city received nearly as much land as C. it vacated, and the alley, as anyone, on investigation, would think, is o much greater benefit to the sublic to the sanitary conditions in the neighborhood.

"Respectfully submitted by "SID B. HVANS."

NEW MAN SPOKEN

OF BY PREACHER

The interest and attendance at the Christian revival are growing, and it is hoped soon to remove to a larger building. The tabernacle was nearly filled last night. Evangelist Whiston reached on the "Highway," and said ome pertinent things concerning man's relation to God. "The unconverted man is dead spiritually," be said, "but the average man does not realise the fact. Jesus made a clear distinction between the spiritual and the physical, and when the body returns to the elements from which it came the soul continues to live. We dress our bodies and take pride in their beauty and prowess, but what about the soul? The wise man is he who plans for eternity as well as for time, to die, as well as to live."

Whiston's illustrations are classic, and his logic marked. Tonight at 7:45 he will speak on "The New Man." He and Mrs. Whiston will sing. Friday night the theme will be Whiston's great baseball
