WOOD ABOUT LUMBER LASTING--

Why, it is about as durable as anything on this earth. Quoting from bulletin 100, issued by the Iowa State College in 1903—we find "a white pine homestead also erected in 1894 was visited and found to be giving good service. It was apparently good for a number of years yet." Think of it, 18 years old—and used in a fire. In another instance we are shown a recent photo of an old English block house on San Juan Islands in Puget Sound, built in 1860, on which the red cedar shingles are apparently as good as when laid. But if you are hesitating about using wood for your home there are plenty of illustrations as to its durability right here at home. Houses built before you were born are still good. Don't be fooled about first costs—come in and see our lumber and talk it over.

KLAMATH FALLS, OREGON
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 24, 1912

THE CHARTER ELECTION

THE result of yesterday's election shows several things in addition to the fact that the city is progressive. This fact has never been questioned, until just recently. The people of Klamath Falls are and always have been progressive citizens who are alive to every opportunity for advancement and growth.

The progressive spirit of the people is shown in the large vote in opposition to the charter, as this means nothing more nor less than that this large number of people said by their votes, as plain as actions can speak, that they favor a more modern system of city government, such as the Commission Form.

Any new charter having the merits claimed for the one adopted yesterday, should carry almost unanimously, and would have done so had these claims been true. Much of the support of the charter came from people who were told that all work would stop in the city if the charter was defeated.

The statement that "the fight against the charter was one of the hardest fought and most bitter political contests in recent history here," does not carry much weight coming from one who has been here only a few weeks. Evidently Mr. Evans has had very little experience in elections if he considers yesterday's event a hard fought one. We presume that the morning paper took its efforts seriously and thought it was helping the cause of the charter, and we believe it should have credit for doing its best, even if it did take nearly forty men and eighteen automobiles and some money to overcome the damage done.

It is true that the Herald made a little fight against the charter, because we believe that it is not such an instrument as is best for a progressive city, but outside of this very little work was done. Not a cent was spent, no solicitors and no automobiles. In fact there was no organization working against the charter. With all of the efforts put forth by friends of the charter, we claim that a majority of $1 is a very poor showing.

SLAYER OF PRINCESS DECLARED TO BE SANE

Case Similar to That of Harry Thaw. Lieutenant Murders Lady-in-Waiting to Queen Elena, and Then Pleads Insanity as Excuse for It.

United Press Service

ROME, April 24.—Lieutenant Paterno, the slayer of Princess Trigona, lady-in-waiting to Queen Elena, will not become the Harry Thaw of Italy. Paterno, who pleaded insanity, and was sent to the asylum of Aversa, near Naples, last October for observation, has just been declared perfectly sane, and has been returned to prison at Rome. Here he will await the disposition of the judicial authorities.

A year ago, Paterno lured the princess, with whom he was on intimate terms, to a third class hotel in Rome, and threatening to expose their relations if she did not give him money, killed her.

Millionaire Russian Oil Man Entices Paramour to House, Where He Has Servants Set on Fellow and Beat Him

United Press Service

BAKU, Russia, April 24.—A Cudaby-Lillis case here has just come to light through a sensational trial which resulted in the sentencing of Addin Tagtjew, millionaire naphtha king and virtually dictator of the Baku bourse, to two and a half years in prison, and Prince Massur Mansur to two years.

Tagtjew is 50 years of age. He has a young wife. Recently gossip coupled the name of Tagtjew's beautiful wife with that of H. Rebutov, for eight years Tagtjew's chief technical engineer. Tagtjew asked Rebutov to accompany him in an inspection of his magnificent mansion, killed her when she refused.

Rebutov threw himself upon the engineer. He was terribly beaten, and then mutilated by Tagtjew. The latter then called his wife, saying that he had a "surprise" in store for her. She fell unconscious when she entered the room.

Tagtjew denied the entire affair, but was convicted.

A Clean Scalp And Healthy Hair

Many of your friends have found that a luxuriant growth of hair—soft and glossy—and a scalp free from dandruff, will result from the use of

NYAL'S HIRUTONE

This is the procedure—Wash the hair with warm water and a pure soap—rinse thoroughly—rub the scalp with a stiff brush—apply Hirutone—rub in well and dry the hair before combing. Please understand that Hirutone is not merely a hair restorer—it is a tonic—a food.

While it thoroughly cleanses, it also prevents bacterial action—nourishes and stimulates the roots of the hair—removes all dandruff—prevents its return—and preserves the natural beauty and color of the hair. Nyal's Hirutone should be on your dressing table. It sells at 50 cents and $1.00 the bottle.
