

WILL NOT INVESTIGATE GUGGENHEIM BROTHERS

Investigation of Alleged Smelter Trust Will Not Be Pressed on Account of Death of Member of Family in Titanic Disaster

United Press Service

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 25.—An echo of the Titanic tragedy in the house is the decision of Representative Martin (Democrat, Colorado) not to press his resolution for investigation of the Guggenheim brothers' alleged smelter trust.

Representative Martin says he has decided to drop the proposed investigation until fall. He gives as one of his reasons for that decision the grief into which the Guggenheim family has been plunged by the death of Benjamin Guggenheim on the Titanic.

I had intended to press the investigation," said Martin. "Just about the time the Titanic sank. But the death of Benjamin Guggenheim prompted me to postpone the inquiry, and now it is too late to get action this session of congress."

Representative Buckley, democrat, also had a resolution to probe the smelter trust, and the Pacific coast congressmen are backing the proposed inquiry.

Proposed closing of the San Francisco mint, to stop coinage there and make it only an assay office, provoked another attack upon the smelter trust in the house, although, after a bitter fight the house voted to continue the San Francisco mint. It was freely charged by various representatives that closing the mint would redound to benefit only the trust.

Representative Baker (democrat, California) declared the coast smelters of the combination would get the business, or a large part of it, formerly done by Uncle Sam—and with it the profits.

Another jab at the trust is proposed in the house territories committee, which is considering the bill for federal construction of an Alaskan railroad, to compete for copper ore carrying business with the Guggenheim road. That the Guggenheim brothers have relinquished control of the Alaskan railroad is asserted, however.

BEGIN FIGHT FOR APPROPRIATION

favor, but all such legislation is placed by the committees in the sundry civil bill, which was not then under consideration. Now, however, it is before the committees, and all parties interested should communicate with the Oregon delegation, requesting that the matter be crowded as far as possible.

"Therefore, I have the honor to request that you give prompt consideration, and that the matter be pressed with all due diligence. Also inquiring as to present conditions and prospects."

"Besides this, Senator Chamberlain was to introduce a bill for an appropriation of $5,000 for the survey of additional roads connecting up from the park both east and west, through the national forest. Now, therefore, you are requested to address the senator, asking that he give this matter his undivided support and immediate consideration. Very sincerely,

"WILL G. STEEL"

"If the bill passes, we shall have an appropriation of $100,000 available for immediate construction work by July 1," said Mr. Steel. "The plan is to build a road around the rim of Crater Lake, with branches through the park connecting this road with Medford and Klamath Falls, and from the eastern shore connecting with the new Natron branch of the Southern Pacific, twelve miles away. There will be sixty-five miles of road in all.

"The longest of the roads will be that around the rim of the lake, thirty-five miles in length, and I am stating a simple fact when I say that this will be the most beautiful road in the world. Every mile of it, almost every foot of it, is thrilling, interesting and replete with wonderful features. For every inch of the way the scenery is magnificent.

"In one place this road will have to be cut along the side of a perpendicular cliff, 1,500 feet above the waters of the lake. From the edge of the road to the lake is a sheer drop of more than a quarter of a mile.

"In other places this road goes down through canyons, or up them where it does not overlook the water it goes through wonderful rocky formations, or between giant trees. There are in this park genuine mountain hemlocks, six feet in diameter. No scenery in Europe can equal that in the park.

"The proposed roads would make Crater Lake National Park the most accessible park in the world. They would be constructed as high class auto highways. Being only twelve miles from the coming Natron branch railroad, tourists will be able to leave the train and take in the whole park in one day. Of course most of them will not do this, for splendid accommodations will be provided for them."
