

MAKING OF HOMES IS VERY ESSENTIAL

PROF. MILAM OF O. A. C. HOME
ECONOMIC DEPARTMENT SAYS THAT BETTER TRAINING IS NECESSARY

Special to The Herald

CORVALLIS, June 6.—"Is not our profession of home making as important as that of the lawyers? Why should we not have equally good preparation?" asked Prof. A. B. Milam of the home economics department of the Oregon Agricultural college in a recent extension lecture at Pendleton. Miss Milam is thoroughly in earnest in her efforts to secure a more thorough and widespread preparation of the girls of Oregon for their future duties as heads of households or teachers of the future wives and mothers. She made a series of talks at various Eastern Oregon cities with this in view, including Baker, Hood River and The Dalles.

"I think one reason we have so few homes nowadays is that society, whose sole function it is to protect its members and make it possible for them which they pay at expense of oppressor of individual life," said Miss Milam. "It exacts of every man and woman the performance of certain social duties, which, taken in the larger sense, means everything which has for its ulterior object only the individual's pleasure and profit. How few homes are furnished for the simple pleasure of the owner. How much more often are they arranged for effect so that those with whom we mingle socially may be influenced to criticize favorably."

"Few women realize the tyranny that so-called society exercises over them. They arrange their homes for society; they dress for society; they bring their children up for society; their one endeavor is to live according to the mandates of society. Society is constantly making drafts upon them which they pay at the expense of home, pocketbook and mental quiet. And for what? That their women friends may envy the glamor of their surroundings, the beauty of their clothes and their social prestige, and they go to their graves well pleased if this constant dress parade has been kept up to the end."

"Society is not friendly to the development of those impulses and emotions upon which our happiness as individuals depends. We lose our longings and aspirations in trying to conform to outside conditions. Let us strive for greater simplicity in our homes. The simplification of our life and the lightening of our cares would give greater leisure for the enjoyment of the duties of nature, the sky, the trees and the flowers, and would also increase the beauty of the human body. Simplification of dress and furniture would give greater opportunity for the beautifying of what remained."

SAYS CONGRESS SHOULD GIVE LANDS TO STATE

William Miller of Burns Thinks That
Oregon Can Work Out Settlement
Problem Best, and Objects to Long
Range Management

PORTLAND, June 6.—"We believe the federal government should give us the lands of Eastern and Central Oregon remaining in the public domain, and let us work out the problem of their settlement in the best way," said Attorney William Miller of Burns.

"Long range management of this work from Washington D. C., by either congress or bureau, fails to meet local requirements. There is no danger of frauds now. Only men who will cultivate the soil will go on it. While the three-year homestead law passed by both branches of congress is a good measure, it does not go far enough. The homestead law should be repealed entirely. The time for this measure has passed. We now need something to get settlers upon the land which presents many uninviting aspects. If congress would give the land to the state and let us work out the difficulty, we would get Southern and Central Oregon populated much faster than we can under present conditions."

"Harney Valley is a tremendous grain and stock country, that is, tremendous in possibilities, when we get transportation. Our minimum rainfall is 12 inches a year, and this ranges up to 15 inches. Our flour is the very best, because we have cold winters and cool nights during the growing season. Our livestock is among the best. We have several million acres out there which will soon be put to good use, if we can only get the proper encouragement in placing the settler upon it."
