LOCAL MERCHANTS ARE PROGRESSIVE

KLAMATH FALLS MEAT COMPANY'S PLANT IS CREDITABLE SAMPLE OF PROGRESSIVENESS OF MERCANTILE FIRMS

The Klamath Falls Meat company, of which the secretary and manager is J. J. Hales, which is located on Main street, on the west side of Eighth, furnishes a strong sample of the progressiveness of Klamath Falls along the mercantile line. The cold storage plants in two compartments are features of the establishment. They are capable of containing 30,000 pounds of meat. Nearly that amount of stock is there today, which, being Monday, is unique for a city of this size. The ice-making apparatus is in the rear or warehouse section, and is equipped with at $5,000 plant, and also includes an electric sausage machinery plant, that, experts say, is unexcelled in its line.

The latest device for cooling lard has been introduced by the company. And this, with almost all the machinery of the concern, is operated by electric power.

The store or front is all furnished in oak finish with, at the rear, inland tile glass. There is a circulating cold storage, purchased at the leading American works at Denver, Colo., capable of freezing meat with the utmost rapidity.

In the matter of cleanliness, tidiness and general neatness, the market is of a pretentious character, and equipped in the most metropolitan style.

FIRST CASE IN CIRCUIT COURT STARTS TODAY

SUIT OF LEWIS VS. CAMPBELL. KLAMATH DEVELOPMENT COMPANY AND WORDEN IS NOW IN PROGRESS

With considerable expedition a jury was today secured in the circuit court in the case of Iva A. Lewis and Arthur C. Lewis, in the action at law against the defendants, D. B. Campbell, the Klamath Development company, and C. E. Worden, the amount involved being $374. The examination of the jurors was, for the defense, conducted by Judge Thos. Drake, with whom is associated Stone & Barrett, and by J. C. Rutledge for the plaintiffs. The case is a suit for damages to farm property of Lewis through irrigation.

The jurors sworn in to try the action are as follows: T. F. Nelson, Sam Hartsler, E. M. Hammond, H. H. Hoyt, J. R. Dixon, W. S. Slough, C. H. Keeter, John Ellis, S. B. Low, Chas. Gray, Frank Irish and Charles Mack.

Excused by the plaintiff were—Frank Courtade, Edgar Virgil and Lester Barron.

Excused by defendants—Henry Wilson.

Counsel made their opening arguments this afternoon. There is a lengthy mass of testimony, but this, the outlook goes to indicate, will not preclude the disposition of the case beyond two days hence.

PANAMA CANAL BILL LIABLE TO BE CHANGED

Bill Before the Senate Will Probably Differ With Reference to the Prohibition of Operation of Railroad-Owned Steamships

Special to The Herald

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 17.—In all probability the bill regulating the operation of the Panama canal will be reported out of the senate committee on interoceanic canals of which Senator Frank B. Brandegee of Connecticut is chairman, early next week. The committee has accorded hearings to representatives of the railroads, steamships and commercial bodies and all others who have asked to be heard. The railroads were not given a hearing while the bill was under process of incubation in the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce, and consequently raised a "fog" that their interests were being jeopardized through the "log rolling" methods of the extremists of both political parties. Rather than have this charge go to the country unchallenged, although without any foundation in fact, Senator Brandegee threw the doors of his committee room open to whoever desired to enter and be heard in assisting to formulate a bill that is sincerely hoped will show wisdom and constructive statesmanship in every line.

It is expected the bill will differ materially from the house measure, particularly with reference to the prohibition of railroad-owned steamships operating through the canal. The free toll provision of the house bill relating to vessels engaged in the coastwise trade it is believed will remain in the senate measure when it comes from the committee next week.

Excused by the plaintiff were—Frank Courtade, Edgar Virgil and Lester Barron.

Excused by defendants—Henry Wilson.

Counsel made their opening arguments this afternoon. There is a lengthy mass of testimony, but this, the outlook goes to indicate, will not preclude the disposition of the case beyond two days hence.
