

BIG DEMONSTRATION FOR HADLEY FOR PRESIDENT

PUBLIC SCHOOL AGRICULTURE

LONG LIST OF LECTURES ON PRACTICAL SUBJECTS AT THE SUMMER SESSION OF OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE

Special to The Herald COVALLIER, June 19.—Yesterday Dr. Withycombe, director of experiment stations at the Oregon Agricultural College, opened the course of special lectures for teachers preparing to teach agriculture in the public schools. His subject was "Agriculture in Oregon."

Dr. Withycombe's address will be followed successively by twenty-two other lectures covering subjects of special interest to those who expect to introduce agricultural studies to the grades, the high schools and the rural ungraded schools.

Today and Thursday Prof. E. D. Reesler will speak on "Educational Agriculture" and "The Place of Agriculture in the Rural School." Next week Prof. G. R. Hyslop will speak on Monday on "Soil Formation and Composition," and on Tuesday on "Plant Food in the Soil." Wednesday Prof. E. L. Potter will lecture on "The Care of Farm Animals," and Thursday Mr. A. G. Luna will give a talk on "The Care of Poultry on the Farm."

The first week in July will be marked by three important talks, one by Prof. F. L. Kent July 1st, on "The Feed and Care of the Dairy Cow," one on "Farm Dairying" by him next day, and one July 3d by Prof. H. B. Jackson on "How a Plant Grows."

The week of July 8th will be given largely to crops and their pests. Beginning with an address by Prof. Jackson on "The Nature of Plant Diseases and Their Prevention." There will be others by Dean A. B. Cordley on "Insect Pests and Methods of Combating Them," "Rotation of Crops" by Prof. Hyslop, and "Bacteria and the Country" by Prof. T. D. Beckwith.

The lectures of the fifth week will be on orchard and field work. July 15th Prof. C. L. Lewis will speak on "Budding and Grafting," and next day on "The Care of the Farm Orchard." The last two lectures of this week will be by Prof. Hyslop on field crops.

Special interest will attach to the lectures of the last week, when, besides Prof. A. G. B. Bouquet's lecture giving directions for growing vegetables in the school and home garden, Prof. R. D. Hetzel, director of the extension division, will explain what his department is doing to foster agriculture in the schools, and will give directions for the preparation of the vast quantity of exhibits now being gotten ready by the children throughout the state for the industrial contests and the state fair.

Dr. Leo Chilton returned last evening from a trip to Portland.

Subordinate Lodge Wins Bowling Tournament by Only Six Points

There was an exciting time at the Jericho Club bowling alleys last evening, when the last game of the tournament between teams from the Encampment and Subordinate lodge was played. Up to this time the Encampment was 38 points ahead on the four games of the series. Last night's game resulted in a victory for the subordinate by 44 tallies. This made them six points ahead on the five games.

As a result of the victory of the Subordinate team, the Encampment will be hosts at a banquet to be given on Thursday evening, June 27, to which every member of the subordinate branch will be invited. After the game members of the Knights of Pythias lodge intimated that they would consider a challenge from a team of Odd Fellows to play a series of games, with five men from the

Knights of Pythias
The regular meeting of the Klamath Lodge No. 99, Knights of Pythias, will be held this evening. There will be five candidates for the rank of Knight. Members of the lodge will also consider a challenge that has been issued by a bowling team of the Odd Fellows lodge for a tournament to be played at the Jericho Club alleys, and it is probable, if the challenge is accepted, that a team will be chosen to represent the K. of P. tonight. All members and visiting brothers are urgently requested to be present.

RESORTS ATTRACTING PLEASURE SEEKERS

Mrs. Wm. Hurn and Mrs. Jos. Kent left this morning for Eagle Ridge Tavern, where they will spend a few days.

Mrs. H. C. Spink and daughter, Claudia, and Miss Margaret Worden left on the train this morning for Chiloquin, and from there will go to follow on Spring Creek for the summer.

Mrs. Brown Michael is in the city today. Mrs. Michael came in to take her three nieces, the Misses Agnes, Jo and Letha Driscoll, to allow to spend a few days with her before they go to the home of their father, Dan Driscoll, at Bly, for the summer.

NEW HOTEL TO BE BUILT AT BLY

REPORTED THAT SPRAGUE RIVERTOWN, WHOSE ONLY HOTEL WAS BURNED LAST AUGUST, IS TO HAVE NEW HOSTELRY

The report comes from Bly that Mrs. F. Casebeer, whose home was burned Monday, causing a loss of about $10,000, is to erect a hotel building in Bly. It is said that Mrs. McKendree will be interested with Mrs. Casebeer in the proposition.

Last August the only hotel at Bly was burned, and since that time the traveling public has been forced to seek accommodations with friends or some of the ranchers in the neighborhood. This spring Mr. Casebeer purchased a lot 100x100 feet, across the street from the postoffice at Bly, with the intention of erecting a hotel, and it is said that the recent destruction of the Casebeer home will not interfere with the plans of the building the hotel, and that work is to be started soon.

ALL DAY SPENT IN FIGHTING

DISRUPTION OF WISCONSIN DELEGATION FEATURE

Reports From Chicago Read Like the Report of a Fight—Some One Said "Liar" and Indiana Delegates Start a Fist Fight—Ohio Is Only Standard Left Standing After an Attack on Parade of States.

United Press Service CHICAGO, June 19.—The convention hall opened at 10 o'clock this morning. A thousand policemen, half uniformed, were present to preserve order. The crowd was slow in gathering.

Roosevelt emerged from his apartments smiling, and conferred with Garfield, Pinchet, Johnson, Borah, Flynn, and others. After the conference Garfield was asked concerning the prospects of a bolt today. He replied: "I can't tell until we get into the convention."

The disruption of the Wisconsin delegation was an early feature of the day. Cochems handed his resignation to McIlvoren, chairman of the delegation, and then issued a statement bitterly denouncing La Follette and charging La Follette with disorganizing progressiveism by conducting a campaign of vengeance on Roosevelt.

Other defections are expected. Walter Hauses said Cochems' actions were indefensible, as Wisconsin and North Dakota both voted solidly always for La Follette.

Rabbi Stoltz of Chicago offered the invocation, all standing. Hadley was cheered enthusiastically by the Rooseveltians when he opened the debate at 11:38, and declared that 78 delegates were improperly placed on the temporary roll by the national committee, and asked that the names of the Roosevelt contestants be substituted on the permanent roll. "This question affects not only the next convention, but the very existence of the republic."

He lauded Roosevelt, and paid a tribute to Borah. Hadley referred to the party in California and Texas, and demanded that contested delegate be refused seats until their right had been passed upon by the credentials committee. W. T. Dovaill a Seattle Taftite, succeeded Hadley. He declared that Roosevelt's charge that Washington had been stolen was outrageously false.

Dovaill insisted that Washington Taftites were elected regularly. Chairman Root called on Secretary Gleason to read the Hadley amendment and the names of the Rooseveltians Hadley wanted seated.

Henry Allen of Kansas said: "I have evidence to prove the statement that the Washington Taftites are not true delegates. In King county, Washington, 6,000 votes were cast, and Taft got 500." Allen insisted that the Roosevelt Washington convention was regular, while Taft's was a rump convention.

A Colorado delegate rose and demanded: "Will you support the nomination of this convention?" Amid a wild storm of protest Allen answered: "Only if he secures the nomination honorably, unaccompanied by fraud or thievery."

A babel of noise ceased with Root pounding for order. "Liar!"—And They Mixed United Press Service CHICAGO, June 19.—Heminway of Indiana followed Allen, denouncing the Roosevelt contests in Alabama and Texas, amid much disorder. George Reed of New Jersey followed Heminway, discussing the Ar-

KELLOGG DECLARES HE IS SIMPLY A FIREBRAND, AND ADVISES THAT ROOSEVELTERS SHOULD NOT LET HIM SPEAK

United Press Service CHICAGO, June 19.—California with banners and two women delegates were welcomed with shouts of "You're all right."

Root entered with the New Yorkers cheering. The convention was called to order at 11:16. Kellogg declared that Henev was a detriment. "He is simply a firebrand."

Grimes.

DRAINAGE PROJECTS FOR GOOSE LAKE CAUSES STIR

Inquiry Made as to Whom Would the Reclaimed Shore Lands Belong, and How Would the Present Owners Be Affected.

LAKEVIEW, June 19.—The proposed excavating of a five foot channel, seven miles in length, at the lower end of Goose or Sunset Lake, in Modoc county, Calif., is causing some stir here.

This body of water, about thirty-five miles in length, and lying in the states of Oregon and California, with a drainage basin of hundreds of square miles, has for years been one of the scenic beauties of America. Recently Lakeview persons, headed by a member of the state legislature, had surveys made of the depth of the lake and the amount of land that would be reclaimed if a five foot channel were extended from the lower end to the Pitt River drainage area, the presumable intention being to use the lake as a storage reservoir to hold water to irrigate some thousands of acres of land in the Pitt River country in the vicinity of Alturas, Calif.

The surveys taken showed that the lowering of the lake level five feet would expose 35,000 acres of the total area of the present boundaries of Goose Lake, which consists of about 139,000 acres of land. This land might go to the promoters of the deal through legislation by the state governments of Oregon and California, and perhaps the national government at Washington.

Some years ago the people of the Pitt River country foresaw the advisability of having the waters of this large basin placed upon their lands. They presented the matter to the department of the interior at Washington, and an experienced engineer connected with the department was sent to look the field over. After spending some time in this vicinity he finally made his report to Washington, and it stated that while there was no doubt of the result being favorable to the Pitt River country, and that it would make that section of the country blossom like a rose, it would at the same time make a desert out of the Goose Lake portion of the country, where today some of the best agricultural and fruit lands in the country are located.

SUNDAY CLOSING OF POSTOFFICES

POSTMASTER BRANDENBURG IS CONSIDERING CLOSING THE LOCAL OFFICE ALL DAY ON SUNDAY

Postmaster Brandenburg announces that he is considering the closing of the Klamath Falls postoffice on Sundays. "I find that this is the custom in quite a number of the offices of the state, and the practice is being adopted in other cities. Ashland recently adopted the plan, and it is reported as satisfactory to the patrons of the office. The Salem office also closes on Sunday."

Mr. Brandenburg returned last evening from the convention of postmasters in Portland, and states that the matter of closing the offices on Sunday was discussed and was favored by a majority of the postmasters present. The department leaves the matter at the discretion of the postmasters, but it is expected that an order may be issued to have the offices closed.

Says Farms Look Fine

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Withrow returned this morning from Bonanza, where they took Mr. and Mrs. Levi McDonald in their auto yesterday. Mr. Withrow says that the farming section is looking fine, and if there is anyone who is at all skeptical about the prosperity of Klamath county this year he should take a trip into the country and see the crops growing.

Robert Cheyne and wife were in the city today from their ranch 12 miles south of the city. They report crops looking exceptionally well.

Fire started on Squaw Point this morning. Frank Courtade, one of the fire wardens, immediately went to the scene and the fire was put out before any damage was done.

FIRST OPEN AIR CONCERT OF THE BAND TONIGHT

The first free open air concert for the season will be given tonight in the court house square. Concerts will be given every Wednesday evening during the next four months. The program for this evening will be as follows: March—"National Emblem" . . . Bagley Overture—"Post and Peasant" Suppe Barcarole from "Tales of Hoffman" . . . Offenbach Characteristic—"Maid of Cherookee" . . . Williams Waltz—"Criblirin" . . . Pestalozza Operatic medley—"Echoes from the Opera" . . . Bayer "America," Overture on National Airs . . . Mosse

Record to be Kept of Visitors to Bird Island—New Launch Purchased

The bureau of biology survey, department of agriculture, has let the contract for a $1,200 launch to patrol the waters of the Klamath Lake bird reserve, to take the place of the launch Grebe, which is now up for sale. The new launch will be fast, and able to overtake anything on the Klamath water at present. The new launch is expected about July 1st.

"The government is going to expend more money and effort in the future toward the protection and the preservation of all kinds of game," said Warden J. J. Furber. "Parties desiring to visit Bird Island or wishing to take parties down must apply for permission from the warden. It is not the policy of the department to keep people away from the islands, but it is desired to know who and how

Helleman Visits Klamath

W.H. Helleman, formerly in charge of operation of the Klamath project, arrived in the city last evening on a visit of inspection. Mr. Helleman now has general supervision over the operation and maintenance of the irrigation projects on the coast. His headquarters are at Denver and Los Angeles.

J. P. Satterlee of Long Beach, who is heavily interested in property in Klamath Falls, has been here looking after his interests. He left this morning to spend a few days at Idlerost.
