DOWNWARD COURSE

Fast Being Realized by Klamath Falls People
A little backache at first. Daily increasing till the back is lame and weak. Urinary disorders quickly follow; Dropsy and finally Bright's disease. This is the downward course of kidney ills.
Don't take this course. Klamath Falls people should profit by the following experience:
A. Betz, 139 Front street, Medford, Ore., says: "I am just as willing to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills today as I was in September, 1907, when I publicly told of my experience with them. I suffered from kidney trouble for at least five years, and as time passed I grew worse, instead of better. Sharp pains darted through the small of my back and sometimes the attacks were so severe that I could hardly stoop. At night my back ached intensely, and sound sleep was out of the question. Being told to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box, and they soon gave me relief."
For sale by all druggists. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

THE VILLAGE BELL

THE members of the city council at a meeting last evening authorized the purchase of a 2,000-pound bell to replace the old fire bell, which is cracked and unfit for service. While the need of a fire alarm is badly needed, we cannot help but feel that the city made a mistake in purchasing a new bell for the city. Practically all of the leading cities of the country have long ago discarded the old village fire bell, and replaced it with a more modern fire alarm system or the siren whistle.

It is estimated that a siren whistle, with a shrill, penetrating sound that can be distinctly heard from ten to fifteen miles, can be installed for about $200, while the bell ordered by the council will cost about $800, and will be impossible to be heard in all parts of the city.

In addition to the original cost of the bell it will probably cost $100 to place it in the tower. By another year Klamath Falls will undoubtedly build a new city hall, and it will then cost an additional $1,000 to build a tower to hold the bell, besides the cost of removing it from the present place and installing it in the new building.

Undoubtedly by that time a modern fire system will be put in, and there will be no need of the old bell.

A COMPARISON

IT IS THE privilege of every business man to place his own price on the goods he is offering for sale, but it is not considered proper business courtesy or good taste to attempt to disparage the value of the goods of his competitor in an effort to prove the greater value of his own goods.

It is the reading public who are the sole judge of the value of a newspaper, and while newspaper publishers may differ in their estimate of the value or importance of their own papers, yet the public is never slow in forming an opinion. The newspaper man's success depends on his ability to judge what the public wants, and then being able to fill that want to the fullest extent that the business of the community will justify. Some publishers believe that quantity and size of a paper are what count, while others may believe that their readers would prefer quality to quantity.

We admit that there is a chance for a difference of opinion, but the only thing that a publisher can do is to follow his own judgment and take the consequences. There is not such a big profit in a daily newspaper in a city the size of Klamath Falls at the best, and we do not believe that the people of this community expect more than they are willing to pay for. To expend an amount greater than the income in the production of a newspaper is not good, sound business judgment, and it has been our experience that it takes equally as much business ability to successfully run a newspaper as it does any other business.

The Herald is perfectly willing that the public shall judge the value of its news service, and we feel highly complimented for the words of commendation we have heard the past few weeks. What is better than words, we have received proof that the Herald is meeting the approval of the public by the addition of twenty-six new subscribers during the last eight days. Most of these were due to the exceptional service rendered by the United Press in its report of the recent Chicago convention. Klamath Falls people interested in the doings of the republican convention were forced to rely almost wholly on the Herald for their information.
It is recognized throughout the United States that the United Press has become the leading news service of the country. While the old Associated Press has been standing on its past reputation, the United Press has been making good by furnishing the real live news of the day hot off the wire. Recognition of this fact was made when President Taft had the United Press wires run into the White House to give him the news of the doings at Chicago. All of the leading politicians of the United States who were unable to be present at Chicago depended on the United Press to furnish them the news, for no other reason than they knew that only through that source could they secure the most complete and accurate report of what was going on every minute.

GREAT REMEDY GOES INTO SEWER

REMEDY FOR WHICH THE MAKERS MADE MOST REMARKABLE CLAIMS FAILS TO PASS INSPECTION OF PURE FOOD BOARD

United Press Service
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25.—The department of agriculture, through the pure food board, has just put the ban on a remarkable remedy—or at least a remedy which claimed to be remarkable. The product was a "healing balsam," manufactured in New York. Here is what its manufacturers claimed for it:
"Will cure coughs and colds, heals the lungs, inflammation of the lungs, phthisis, lame back, gravel and kidney complaints, pains in the side, stomach ache, ague, nervous complaints, palpitation of the heart, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, liver complaints, flesh wounds, burns, chilblains and bruises on man or beast, sore mouth, whooping cough, croup, neuralgia, will cure heaves, coughs and colds in horses."
Chemists at the bureau discovered that this astounding discovery, which would "cure" almost every disease in medical books, was composed of a plain balsam mixture, with rosin added apparently to cheapen the solution.
The manufacturers did not contest one suit against them, and the "cure" was poured down a sewer.
